Let's bow our heads.

As we stand before you, we pray to bring relief and comfort to those who recently suffered the sting of anti-Semitic attacks.
We also pray for the immigrant families who are facing the dire threat of deportation.
We are reminded of the pain and the pressure these families are experiencing on a daily basis.
Help us to remember not to forget that this nation is a nation of immigrants.
So today, as we embark on the business of governing,
we ask you that you will guide and direct our steps.
Help us not to forget our roles as servant-leaders, always mindful to put the needs of our constituents before our very own
We pray this in your wonderful name.
Amen.

Report of the Committee on Health

Report for Int. No. 1161-A

Report of the Committee on Health in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to reporting on HPV vaccination rates.

The Committee on Health, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on April 20, 2016 (Minutes, page 1092), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

Today, the Committee on Health, chaired by Council Member Corey Johnson, will hold a hearing on Proposed Int. Nos. 1161-A, 1162-A, and 1172-A. All three bills were introduced by Council Member Crowley, and relate to reporting by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) on vaccination for the human papillomavirus (HPV), the use of contraceptives, and maternal mortality, respectively. These bills were heard in their originally-introduced forms on December 7, 2016.

II. Background

Human papillomavirus

Human papillomaviruses (HPV) are a group of more than 200 related viruses, more than 40 of which can be easily spread through direct skin-to-skin contact during vaginal, anal, and oral sex.¹ HPV infections are the most common sexually transmitted infections in the United States. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), "HPV is so common that nearly all sexually active men and women get it at some point in their lives."² HPV usually resolves itself within two years and most people do not know they are infected.³ However, certain types of HPV do not go away and can cause genital warts or cancer.⁴

Cancer often takes years, even decades, to develop after a person gets HPV.⁵ The types of HPV that can cause genital warts are not the same as the types of HPV that can cause cancers.⁶ According to the National Cancer Institute (NCI), HPV infections account for approximately five percent of all cancers worldwide.⁷ The American Cancer Society (ACS) estimates that HPV infections are responsible for nearly all cervical and anal cancers, most vaginal cancers, some vulvar cancers and penile cancers, and most cancers found in the back of the throat.⁸

HPV Prevention

Using latex condoms can lower your risk, but condoms do not provide full protection against HPV.⁹ HPV vaccines can protect against diseases, including cancers, caused by HPV.¹⁰ The vaccines are administered in two or three doses over a period of six months, depending on age.¹¹ The CDC recommends the HPV vaccine for girls and boys at age 11 or 12 years to allow time to develop an immune response before becoming sexually active.¹² HPV vaccines are recommended for people up to age 26 years, depending on sex and HIV-positive status.¹³

One study revealed that in the few years after Gardasil, an HPV vaccine, was available, the prevalence of HPV infections was cut by more than half among females in the United States between ages 14 to 19.¹⁴ In Australia, genital warts diagnoses were drastically reduced from 11.5 percent to .85 percent in women under the age of 21 due to a nationally funded program offering Gardasil for free to females between the ages of 12 of 26.¹⁵ Additionally, although the program did not offer the vaccine to males at the time, diagnoses in heterosexual males under the age of 21 declined from 12.1 percent to 2.2 percent.¹⁶ Significant changes in diagnoses were not found in men who have sex with men.¹⁷ The program in Australia demonstrates the effectiveness of drastically reducing HPV infections by increasing access to the HPV vaccine.

Immunization Registry

DOHMH operates a citywide immunization registry pursuant to state law and the Health Code.¹⁸ Healthcare providers are required by these provisions to report every immunization they give to individuals 18 and younger to DOHMH.¹⁹ The aggregate data that DOHMH collects on immunization rates does not appear to be regularly reported to the public.

Maternal Mortality

DOHMH has historically reported on the infant mortality rate in the annual Mayor's Management Report (MMR). The infant mortality rate per 1,000 live births has decreased from 4.7 in fiscal year 2012, to 4.3 in fiscal year 2016. Maternal mortality data, however, is not reported in the MMR.

In-depth data and analysis is available in a 2015 DOHMH report entitled "Pregnancy-Associated Mortality, New York City, 2006-2010."²⁰ The following are among the executive findings of the report:

- There were 139 pregnancy-related deaths in New York City from 2006 to 2010.

- “Pregnancy-related morality decreased in New York City from 2001 to 2010 – from 33.9 deaths per 100,000 live births in 2001 to 17.6 deaths per 100,000 live births in 2010. However, there was no significant decrease between 2006 and 2010.”
- Black, non-Hispanic women were 12 times as likely, Asian/Pacific Islander women more than four times as likely, and Hispanic women more than three times as likely, to die from pregnancy-related causes as White, non-Hispanic women.
- “Pregnancy-related mortality is associated with obesity, underlying chronic illness and poverty,” but causal relationships “are not well established.”²¹
- Pregnancy-related mortality is also associated with maternal age, with risk of death rising dramatically for women over 40.²²

In 2001, New York City’s pregnancy-related mortality ratio was more than double that of the United States as a whole. However, New York City’s rate fell by almost half between 2001 and 2010, and by 2010 its rate was nearly identical to the national rate (17.6 deaths per 100,000 live births in New York City compared to 16.7 deaths per 100,000 live births nationally).²³ This positive trend, however, masks severe disparities: White, non-Hispanic women in New York City have a much lower chance of pregnancy-related morality in New York City than nationally, but other racial groups, in particular Black, non-Hispanic women, have significantly higher rates of pregnancy-related mortality in New York City than the same group nationally.²⁴

Long-Acting Reversible Contraception (LARC)

Long-Acting Reversible Contraception (LARC) includes intrauterine devices (IUDs) and implants. IUDs are small, T-shaped devices that are inserted into the uterus by a clinician. Four types of IUDs are currently licensed for use in the United States: Mirena, Skyla, Liletta, and ParaGard. Mirena, Skyla, and Liletta work by releasing the hormone levonorgestrel into the uterus. Mirena is effective for up to five years, Skyla and Liletta for three. ParaGard is a non-hormonal, copper-containing method and is effective for up to 12 years.

Implants are thin, matchstick-sized plastic rods that are inserted under the skin on the upper arm by a clinician. Nexplanon is the only type of implant currently available in the United States and it works by releasing the hormone etonogestrel into the arm. It is effective for up to three years.

LARCs are the most effective forms of reversible birth control.²⁵ According to one study, participants using either pills, patch, or ring for contraception had significantly more unintended pregnancies than those using a LARC (4.55 per 100 vs. 0.27 per 100).²⁶ This study also showed that LARC failure rates did not vary according to age, but pills, patch, or ring failure rates in participants younger than 21 years old were twice as great as in women 21 years of age or older.

Surveys and interviews with women often find a lack of knowledge about LARC methods as well as concerns about safety and side effects, many of which are based on misinformation.²⁷ Until recently, this lack of information as well as high upfront costs have created barriers to access for women interested in LARCs. Under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, all new insurance plans obtained through the act’s health insurance exchanges must fully cover all FDA-approved contraceptive methods (including LARCs)

without any co-payments or other out-of-pocket costs.²⁸ Improved access, education efforts and physician training have led to an increase in LARC usage in recent years.²⁹

Rates of LARC usage tend to be higher worldwide than in the U.S., where a small but growing proportion of women use a LARC method. Based on the most recent data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, approximately 7.2% of all U.S. women ages 15-44 use a LARC method.³⁰ This usage rate represents a dramatic growth in use from 2002, when only 1.5% of US women used a LARC method. Among women who use any method of contraception, 11.6% use a LARC method, up from 2.4% in 2002.³¹ Only 4.3% of teens who use contraception use a LARC method.³²

LARC in New York City

In 2015, DOHMH launched the “Maybe the IUD” campaign to increase awareness of IUDs.³³ The five year public education campaign includes subway and online ads, social media, print materials and a website, providing information about a full range of birth control options. In addition, DOHMH recruited local hospitals to participate in the Quality Improvement Network for Contraceptive Access (QINCA), a learning collaborative to support hospitals in implementing best clinical practices for the provision of contraceptive services postpartum, post-abortion, and in primary care settings. DOHMH is currently working with 10 NYC hospitals to promote, protect and support contraceptive access, including providing immediate/same-day delivery of all modern methods, including LARC.

In 2014, the New York State Department of Health (DOH) implemented a new Medicaid reimbursement policy to allow for long-acting reversible contraception to be given to women immediately postpartum.³⁴ Currently, DOH is in the process of drafting procedures to carve out Federally Qualified Health Centers to receive reimbursement for the acquisition of LARC devices.³⁵

In Fiscal Year 2017, the City Council awarded a total of $400,000 to four organizations to support increased access to contraception (including LARCs), through provider training, patient counseling and care, and the purchasing of contraceptives. The funded organizations include Planned Parenthood of New York City, Community Healthcare Network, Mount Sinai Hospital, and Public Health Solutions.

III. Proposed Int. No. 1161-A - Bill Analysis and Changes

Proposed Int. No. 1161-A would require DOHMH to report to the Council annually on HPV vaccination rates for New York City residents. DOHMH could comply with this requirement by including this data in the MMR, or in a separate report. In either case, the data would be required to be reported by September 30 of each year. The data reported pursuant to this law would be required to be disaggregated by gender of the recipient and the number of doses received.

This bill changed from the version that was originally heard by changing the due date from September 17 of each year to September 30.

Proposed Int. No. 1161-A would take effect immediately.

IV. Proposed Int. No. 1162-A - Bill Analysis and Changes

Proposed Int. No. 1162-A would require DOHMH to report to the Council annually on the use of contraceptives by New York City residents. DOHMH could comply with the reporting requirement by including the data in the annual Mayor's Management Report (MMR), or in a separate report. In either case, the data would be required to be reported by September 30 of each year.

This bill changed from the version that was originally heard by removing references to the Community Health Survey, expanding the data collected and reported from LARC data only to data on all contraceptives, changing the due date from September 17 of each year to September 30, and clarifying that data would be required to be collected no less than annually for adults, and no less than biennially for high school students.

Proposed Int. No. 1162-A would take effect immediately.

V. Proposed Int. No. 1172-A - Bill Analysis and Changes

Proposed Int. No. 1172-A would require DOHMH to report maternal mortality statistics to the Council annually. This reporting would occur in the form of a report, which would also be required to be posted online. The report would be required to include the number of maternal mortalities, the maternal mortality ration, disaggregated by race and borough where available and statistically reliable, and recommendations on actions that DOHMH and others could take to improve maternal health, particularly in disproportionately impacted communities. This report would be due by September 30 of each year.

This bill changed from the version that was originally heard by removing the requirement that data be disaggregated by age, education, and location of death, and that the leading causes of maternal mortality be included in this annual report. A requirement was added that the report include information on whether recommendations from previous reports were being implemented.

Proposed Int. No. 1172-A would take effect immediately.

Report of the Committee on Public Safety

Report for Int. No. 1280-B

Report of the Committee on Public Safety in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the police department to share collision reports digitally.

The Committee on Public Safety, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on September 28, 2016 (Minutes, page 3208), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On February 28, 2017, the Committee on Public Safety, chaired by Council Member Vanessa Gibson, will vote on Proposed Introductory Bill Number 1280-B (“Int. No. 1280-B”), a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the police department to share collision reports digitally. The Committee previously held a hearing on Int. No.1280-A and heard testimony from the New York City Police Department (“NYPD”) on January 26, 2017.

II. BACKGROUND ON ACCIDENT REPORTS

New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law (“VTL”) requires a collision report whenever there is a physical injury to be generated within 5 days after such accident.¹ Information provided to the Council by the NYPD indicated that Police Accident Reports may be prepared, amended, or released for a collision that occurred within the preceding 30 days.² Until recently, the requesting party had to appear at a police facility to obtain a copy of the report.³ This process was burdensome and inconvenient, especially for people injured in an accident, or seniors. After 30 days, the report had to be requested from the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles (“DMV”), which allows reports to be requested online or by mail, but not by phone or in person at a DMV office.⁴ In December, the NYPD announced that drivers involved in crashes and collisions would be able to access their collision reports online.⁵ However, providing reports in this manner, absent legislation is not mandatory.

III. ANALYSIS OF INT. NO. 1280-B

This bill requires the NYPD to make automobile collision reports available online to “interested parties.” Collisions reports will be made available to people who are named on the report and have provided their driver’s license number, date of birth, license plate number, and license plate state of issuance to NYPD for preparation of the report. Reports will be made available through a single web portal located on the department’s website. This bill will go into effect 30 days after it becomes law.

IV. AMENDMENTS TO INT. NO. 1280-B

Since an earlier version of Int. No. 1280-B was heard on January 26, 2017, the bill was amended to update the administrative code section number along with other minor technical changes.

The Committee on Rules, Privileges and Elections, to which the annexed Mayors Message was referred on February 15, 2017 (Minutes, page 364) and which same Mayor's Message was coupled with the resolution shown below, respectfully

REPORTS:Topic I: New York City Equal Employment Practices Commission – (Candidate for re-appointment by the Council)

- Malini Cadambi-Daniel [M-479]

Chapter 36 of the New York City Charter (the “Charter”) establishes an Equal Employment Practices Commission (“EEPC”) within the City of New York. The law provides that EEPC shall review, evaluate and monitor the employment procedures, practices and programs of City agencies including the City’s Department of Citywide Administrative Services. Its purpose is to ensure an effective affirmative employment program of equal employment opportunity for minority group members and women who are employed by or seek employment with City agencies [New York City Charter §830(a)].

The EEPC consists of five members who are compensated on a per-diem basis.¹ The Mayor and the Council each appoint two members, and the Mayor and the Speaker of the Council jointly appoint a fifth member to serve as Chair of EEPC [New York City Charter §830(b)]. Members, including the Chair, have four year terms [New York City Charter §830(d)]. A vacancy in the Commission shall not impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all the powers of EEPC. Three members shall constitute a quorum. [New York City Charter §830(c)].

EEPC may, within available appropriations, appoint an executive director and such deputies, assistants, and other employees as may be needed in the performance of its duties [New York City Charter §830(e)]. EEPC may meet as necessary to implement the provisions of Chapter 36 of the Charter, but at least once every eight weeks [New York City Charter §830(f)].

Pursuant to New York City Charter §831, some of EEPC powers and duties include:

- monitoring the employment practices of all local agencies, including non-Mayoral agencies;
- monitoring the implementation and coordination of City affirmative employment programs;
- requesting information from agencies to carry out Commission functions;
- communicating with the New York City Human Rights Commission concerning violations;
- reviewing and providing comments on annual equal employment opportunity plans adopted by City agencies;
- recommending to any City agency actions which such agency should consider including in its next annual plan;

¹ The current per-diem rate for Commission members is $250. The rate for the Chair is $275.

- advising, and if requested, assisting City agencies in their efforts to increase employment of minority group members and women who are employed by or who seek employment with City agencies;
- auditing and evaluating the employment practices and procedures of each City agency and their efforts to ensure fair and effective equal employment opportunity for minority group members and women at least once every four years and whenever requested by the New York City Civil Service Commission or the New York City Human Rights Commission or whenever otherwise deemed necessary by the Commission;
- making policy, legislative and budgetary recommendations to the Mayor, the Council, the New York City Department of Citywide Administrative Services or any City agency as the Commission deems necessary;
- publishing by the 15th of February of each year, a report to the Mayor and the Council on the activities of EEPC and the effectiveness of each City agency's affirmative employment efforts and the efforts by the New York City Department of Citywide Administrative Services to ensure equal employment opportunity for minority group members and women who are employed by or seek to be employed by City agencies;
- establishing appropriate advisory committees;
- serving as liaison for the City to state, federal and local agencies responsible for compliance with equal employment opportunity; and
- taking such other actions as are appropriate to effectuate the provisions and purposes of Chapter 36 of the Charter.

EEPC is also empowered with compliance procedures to insure that City agencies are adhering to the law [New York City Charter §832].

Ms. Cadambi-Daniel is scheduled to appear before the Council's Committee on Rules, Privileges and Elections on Monday, February 27. If re-appointed by the Council as a member of EEPC, Ms. Cadambi-Daniel, a resident of Queens, will be eligible to serve the remainder of a four-year term that expires on June 30, 2020.

Report of the Committee on Sanitation and Solid Waste Management

Report for Int. No. 820-A

Report of the Committee on Sanitation and Solid Waste Management in favor of approving and amending, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs in public housing.

The Committee on Sanitation and Solid Waste Management to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on June 10, 2015 (Minutes, page 2222), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On February 28, 2017, the Committee on Sanitation and Solid Waste Management, chaired by Council Member Antonio Reynoso, will vote on Proposed Int. No. 820-A, a bill in relation to voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs in public housing.

The Committee originally heard Proposed Int. No. 820-A in November 2016 and received testimony from the Department of Sanitation, environmental groups, and other interested members of the public. More information about this bill is available with the materials for that hearing, which can be accessed online at goo.gl/NwHM16.

II. Proposed Int. No. 820-A

Current law requires all residents, including those living in NYCHA properties, to source separate their recyclable materials. However, recycling rates at NYCHA have been very low for many years. In 2015, the NYCHA Recycles! program was launched, which included installing recycling bins in all NYCHA developments by the end of 2016.

Proposed Int. No. 820-A would require the Department of Sanitation to consult with NYCHA and consider implementing a pilot incentives program to increase recycling rates in public housing. If the department concludes that such a program is feasible and would increase recycling rates, it must implement such a program by 2020 and report on its effectiveness and whether it should be made permanent after two years.

COMMITTEE: SANITATION AND SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs in public housing

SPONSORS: The Public Advocate (Ms. James) and Council Members King, Richards and Lander.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 820-A would require the Department of Sanitation (“DSNY”), in coordination with the New York City Housing Authority (“NYCHA”), to perform a review of voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs, to assess feasibility for implementation at public housing sites -- in an effort to increase diversion rates of designated recyclables.

On or before July 1, 2018, DSNY shall report to the Mayor and the Council and post on its website a summary of its findings and recommendations regarding the potential program. If DSNY determines that a voluntary recycling incentive program is feasible and will improve diversion rates at these sites, DSNY shall implement such program by July 1, 2020.

Lastly, no later two years after implementation, DSNY shall report to Mayor and the Council, as well as report on its website, the program’s impact on diversion rates and whether or not the program should be made permanent.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately.

By the Public Advocate (Ms. James) and Council Members King, Richards, Lander, Menchaca, Levin, Van Bramer and Barron.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs in public housing

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 3 of chapter 3 of title 16 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 16-316.4 to read as follows:

16-316.4 Recycling incentive pilot program. a. On or before January 1, 2018, the department, in consultation with the New York city housing authority, shall perform and complete a review of voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs to improve the diversion of designated recyclable materials in public housing, as such term is defined in section 5.100 of title 24 of the code of federal regulations. Such review shall include, but need not be limited to, the following: (i) engaging public housing residents and other stakeholders to identify potential recycling incentive pilot programs and locations where it would be feasible to implement such programs; (ii) examining any potential obstacles to implementing such programs; (iii) exploring financial and other incentives that have been proposed or implemented in other jurisdictions and their potential to increase recycling participation by public housing residents; (iv) determining the steps necessary to implement a recycling incentive pilot program for public housing residents; and (v) prioritizing community districts that have comparatively low rates of recycling in public housing, as determined by the department.

b. On or before July 1, 2018, the department shall report to the mayor and the council and post on its website a summary of its review of voluntary recycling incentive pilot programs. The summary shall include the department's recommendation regarding implementing a voluntary recycling incentives pilot program to improve the diversion of designated recyclable materials in public housing.

c. If the department determines that a voluntary recycling incentive pilot program is feasible and would be reasonably likely to improve the diversion of designated recyclable materials in public housing, the department shall implement such program by July 1, 2020. Within two years after implementation of such program, the department shall report to the mayor and the council, and post on its website, an assessment of the impact of such program on diversion rates. Such assessment shall include the department's recommendation on expanding or making such program permanent and any other recommended changes to such program.

§ 2. This local law takes effect immediately.

Report of the Committee on Transportation

Report for Int. No. 267-A

Report of the Committee on Transportation in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to establishing a pilot program for reserving parking spaces in municipal parking facilities.

The Committee on Transportation, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on April 10, 2014 (Minutes, page 1132), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On February 27, 2017 the Committee on Transportation, chaired by Council Member Ydanis Rodriguez, will hold a hearing on Proposed Int. No. 267-A, a Local Law in relation to establishing a pilot program for reserving parking spaces in municipal parking facilities, and on Proposed Int. No. 873-A, a Local Law in relation to establishing a carsharing parking pilot program. This is the second hearing on these items. A first hearing was held on both items on December 12, 2016 at which the Committee heard testimony from the New York City Department of Transportation (“DOT”) and other stakeholders.

BACKGROUND

Car Sharing

Car sharing is a service in which customers rent vehicles to drive themselves for short periods of time.¹ Vehicles are typically parked throughout a defined service area and, once a reservation is made, can be unlocked by the customer using a provided smart card or smartphone application. Car sharing companies employ varying service models. Round-trip models require the customer to return the car to the spot where they picked it up, such as a parking space in private, publically-accessible parking facility reserved by the car sharing company. One-way models, also known as “point-to-point” or “free-floating”, allow the customer to drop off the car in any legal parking space within a defined geographic area. Most car share providers require customers to pay a set fee for membership in the program plus defined rates for each rental.

A number of car sharing services currently operate in New York City, including Enterprise, ZipCar, and Car2Go.² After launching in Seattle, BMW’s ReachNow joined the New York market in November 2016 with 250 cars in a service area that includes portions of Greenpoint, Williamsburg, Sunset Park, Borough Park, Crown Heights, Bedford-Stuyvesant, and Bushwick in Brooklyn.³ Car2Go has 550 vehicles serving its service area in parts of Brooklyn and Queens and has 51,000 members.⁴ Both ReachNow and Car2Go offer one-way service models, allowing customers to leave the vehicle in any legal on-street parking space within their service area at the end of their rental. In many cities, Car2Go allows drop-offs in metered spaces and has agreements to reimburse local governments for the meter revenue, but in New York the company has not been able to make a similar arrangement with DOT and thus limits drop-offs to non-metered spaces.⁵ Zipcar and Enterprise offer round-trip service models in New York City.

Both Seattle and Portland, Oregon have permit systems in place for car share providers. Seattle's permit system allows the car share company and its customers "the right to park on city streets without regard to time limits, payment at on-street parking devices, or Restricted Parking Zone limits" and in exchange requires car share companies to pay for metered parking used by its vehicles and to submit certain data to the city.⁶ The city also reserves the right to cap the number of car share vehicles allowed, but it has not done so to date.⁷ Portland has both a reserved and unreserved permit system.⁸ The non-reserved permit is similar to Seattle's, while the reserved permit "provides a dedicated on-street or [...] garage parking space that can only be used by vehicles from the permitted carshare organization."⁹

Research on the impact of car sharing programs is somewhat limited, though a recent study by the Transportation Sustainability Research Center at the University of California, Berkeley of Car2Go's impact in five cities found that, on the whole, Car2Go appears to reduce both the number of vehicles on the road and total vehicle miles travelled.¹⁰ The City of Seattle recently found that 14 percent of free-floating car share members had given up a vehicle since joining the service, with half of that group indicating that the availability of free-floating car share was a factor in the decision.¹¹ There is little data available regarding the impact of car sharing in New York City, which may vary from the experience of other cities due to New York's unique level of density, transit service, and low car ownership rates.

ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 267-A

Section one of Proposed Int. 267-A would amend subdivision a of section 19-175.5 of the Administrative Code, as added by a Local Law for the year 2017 in relation to a carsharing pilot program (Proposed Int. No. 873-A), by adding a new definition to the subdivision as follows:

- Municipal parking facility: Any city-owned parking facility regulated by DOT and operated by the City or by a contractor on behalf of the City that is available for public use. The definition would exclude any parking facility operated by a City agency for use exclusively by such agency's employees or by the public to conduct business with such agency.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 267-A would further amend section 19.175.5 of the Administrative Code, as added by a Local Law for the year 2017 in relation to establishing a carsharing pilot program (Proposed Int. No. 873-A), by adding a new subdivision e. New subdivision e would require DOT, as part of the carsharing parking pilot program, to allow carsharing organizations to apply for designated parking spaces in municipal parking facilities.

Section three of Proposed Int. No. 267-A would provide that the local law would take effect on the same date as the local law in relation to establishing a carsharing parking pilot program, as proposed in Proposed Int. No. 873-A, takes effect.

ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 873-A

Section one of Proposed Int. No. 873-A would amend subchapter 2 of chapter 1 of title 19 of the Administrative Code by adding a new section 19-175.5 in relation to a carsharing parking pilot program. Subdivision a of the new section would define the following terms:

- Carsharing organization: An organization that operates a program in which access to a fleet of private vehicles is provided to members of the organization on an hourly or other short-term basis.

- Carsharing vehicle: A vehicle used by the carsharing member that is owned or leased and registered by a carsharing organization.
- Designated parking space: Locations that DOT reserves for the exclusive use of a carsharing vehicle.

Subdivision b of the new section would require DOT to establish a carsharing parking pilot program that would allow qualified carsharing organizations, determined by DOT, to apply for designated parking spaces on streets. The carsharing organizations would be required to provide any information requested by DOT relating to their application to participate in such a pilot program. The pilot program would have a duration of no less than two years, unless DOT terminates or suspends the program on an earlier date; however, DOT would be required to notify the Speaker of the Council of any termination or suspension within seven days of such action including the reasons for such action.

Subdivision c would require DOT to evaluate the impact of the pilot program on the driving and car ownership habits of drivers who use carsharing vehicles that occupy spaces in the connection with the pilot program. Carsharing organizations would be required to provide any information requested by DOT relating to the operations undertaken in connection with their participation in the program.

Subdivision d would require DOT to submit to the Speaker of the Council no later than October 1, 2018, and each April 1st thereafter until the completion of the pilot, a report regarding the progress of the carsharing parking pilot program, which would have to include:

- The number of carsharing organizations that have applied, and the number of organizations accepted by DOT, to participate in the pilot program;
- The number of locations of parking spaces designated for inclusion in the pilot program;
- A summary of any finds reached pursuant to subdivision c; and
- For the report submitted no later than April 1, 2020, DOT must include whether it intends to implement a permanent carsharing pilot program.

Section 2 of Proposed Int. No. 873-A provides that the local law would take effect 90 days after it becomes law, except that DOT may take any necessary actions for the implementation of this local law, including promulgating rules, prior to such date.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to an owner's duty to purchase and install radiator covers

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 2 of chapter 2 of title 27 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 27-2046.3 to read as follows:

§27-2046.3 Duties of owner and occupant with respect to installation and maintenance of radiator covers in class A and class B multiple dwellings. a. The owner of a multiple dwelling and the owner of a dwelling unit in a multiple dwelling owned as a condominium shall provide, install and maintain radiator covers in accordance with the provisions of this section.

b. The owner of a multiple dwelling and the owner of a dwelling unit in a multiple dwelling owned as a condominium shall provide to an occupant of a dwelling unit at the signing of a lease, including a lease renewal, if any, or upon any agreement to lease, or at the commencement of occupancy if there is no lease, a notice that complies with subdivision c of this section. If there is a lease, such notice shall be included in the lease or be attached as a rider to the lease. Such notice shall be completed by the occupant at the time of signing of a lease, including a renewal lease, if any, or an agreement to lease, or at the commencement of occupancy if there is no lease and shall clearly indicate whether a child ten years of age or under resides, or will reside, in the dwelling unit.

c. Any notice required or delivered pursuant to this section shall, in a manner approved by the department, at a minimum:

(i) explain the duties of the owner and occupant authorized by this section;

(ii) inquire whether a child ten years of age or under resides or will reside in the leased, rented or occupied dwelling unit;

(iii) be titled "Radiator Cover Notice" underlined and in bold face type; and

d. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (iii) of this paragraph, each year the owner of a multiple dwelling and the owner of a dwelling unit in a multiple dwelling owned as a condominium shall cause to be delivered to each dwelling unit no earlier than January first and no later than January sixteenth a notice that complies with subdivision a of this section. The owner shall satisfy the requirement to deliver such notice by any one of the following methods:

(iii) by enclosure with the January rent bill, if such rent bill is delivered after December fifteenth but no later than January sixteenth;

(iv) by delivering such notice in conjunction with the annual notice required pursuant to section 17-123 of this code, the rules of the department of health and mental hygiene pertaining to the installation of window guards and section 131.15 of the New York City health code;

(v) by delivering such notice in conjunction with the annual notice pursuant to section 27-2056.4 of the administrative code and the rules of the department pertaining to lead poisoning prevention and control; or

(vi) by delivering such notice in conjunction with both notices listed in subparagraphs (iv) and (v) of this paragraph.

(2) Upon receipt of such notice pursuant to its delivery under this subdivision, the occupant shall have the responsibility to deliver by February fifteenth of that year, a written response to the owner indicating whether or not a child ten years of age or under resides in the dwelling unit. Where an occupant has responded to the notice that complies with subdivision a of this section, whether received pursuant to subdivision b, c or d, by indicating that no child ten years of age or under resides in the dwelling unit during the period between the date of such response and the delivery of the notice provided by the owner pursuant to this subdivision during the immediately following year, the occupant shall have the responsibility to inform the owner in writing of any child ten years of age or under that comes to reside in the dwelling unit during such period.

(3) If, subsequent to delivery of such notice pursuant to this subdivision, the owner does not receive a written response from the occupant by February fifteenth of the year in which the notice was sent, and does not otherwise have actual knowledge as to whether a child ten years of age or under resides therein, then the owner shall at reasonable times and upon reasonable notice inspect that occupant's dwelling unit to ascertain the residency of a child ten years of age or under and, when necessary, conduct an investigation in order to make that determination. Such inspection may be made in conjunction with the inspection required pursuant to the rules of the department of health and mental hygiene pertaining to the installation of window guards. Where, between February sixteenth and March first of that year, the owner has made reasonable attempts to gain access to a dwelling unit to determine if a child ten years of age or under resides in that dwelling unit and was unable to gain access, the owner shall notify the department of that circumstance in writing by March thirtieth of that year.

e. (1) When an owner of a multiple dwelling has been informed in writing or ascertains that a child ten years of age or under resides in a dwelling unit in such multiple dwelling, such owner shall install within thirty days approved radiator covers over every uncovered radiator in such dwelling unit. Such radiator covers shall meet the specifications established pursuant to subdivision f of this section.

(2) The owner shall have the responsibility to:

(i) replace any missing or damaged radiator cover in any dwelling unit before the commencement of a new occupancy of such dwelling unit regardless of whether or not a child ten years of age or under will reside in the dwelling unit; and

(ii) repair or replace any radiator cover that has fallen into disrepair.

(3) Upon the written request of any tenant or occupant in a dwelling unit within a multiple dwelling, the owner shall provide for the installation of radiator covers. No owner shall refuse such written request.

(4) No tenant or occupant of a dwelling unit, or other person, shall obstruct or interfere with the installation or maintenance of a radiator cover nor shall any person remove such radiator cover.

f. The department shall establish by rule specifications for one or more types of radiator covers that may be installed in compliance with this section. Such rules shall, at a minimum, authorize the installation of radiator covers that (1) completely cover the top, sides and front of the radiator, except that such cover shall have a door or flap to allow access to valves and other controls necessary to operate the radiator and (2) have grill openings on the front to allow heat from the radiator to exit the radiator cover but that shall be of a size as to prevent a child from inserting a finger through such opening. Such rules shall also establish the hazard class of violations of this section.

g. Upon the written request of anyone residing in a dwelling unit with a person who has a developmental disability that makes it difficult or impossible for such person to understand the dangers of radiators and radiator burns, the owner shall have the responsibility to install approved radiator covers over every uncovered radiator in such dwelling unit. The department may, in conjunction with the department of health and mental hygiene, establish by rule the specifications for persons qualifying to make a determination of a developmental disability for the purpose of this subdivision.

§2. This local law takes effect 120 days after it becomes law except that the commissioner of housing preservation and development jointly with the commissioner of health and mental hygiene may take any actions necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

By Council Members Levin, Lander, Richards, Rose, Johnson, Reynoso and Koslowitz.

A Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to creating an online posting requirement for statements outlining consistency or inconsistency with criteria established for the siting of city facilities

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision a of section 195 of the New York city charter, as added by vote of the electors on November 7, 1989, is amended to read as follows:

a. The agency proposing any such acquisition shall file with the department of city planning a notice of intent to acquire that shall include a statement describing (i) how the proposed acquisition satisfies or does not satisfy the criteria for the location of city facilities established pursuant to section 203, (ii) whether the proposed action is consistent with the most recent statement of needs, and (iii) whether the proposed action is consistent with any written statements or comments submitted by borough presidents and community boards in response to the statement of needs. Such notice of intent to acquire, including the statement, shall be posted prominently (i) on the publicly accessible website maintained by the filing agency as soon as it submits the application and (ii) within five business days of submission on the publicly accessible website maintained by the department of city planning. This posting requirement does not replace any other disclosure and notice requirements. The department of city planning shall send such notice to the community board in which the proposed acquisition is located and to all borough presidents.

§ 2. Subdivision b of section 197-c of the New York city charter, as amended by local law number 59 for the year 1996, is amended to read as follows:

b. The following documents shall be filed with the department of city planning: (1) applications under this section, (2) any amendments thereto that are made prior to approval of such applications pursuant to this chapter, (3) any written information submitted by an applicant for purposes of determining whether an environmental impact statement will be required by law, and (4) documents or records intended to define or substantially redefine the overall scope of issues to be addressed in any draft environmental impact statement required by law. No application shall be certified as complete under subdivision c without the online posting required by subdivision g of section 204. The department of city planning shall forward a copy of any materials it receives pursuant to this subdivision (whether or not such materials have been certified as complete) within five days to each affected borough president, community board or borough board.

§ 3. Subdivision g of section 204 of the New York city charter, as amended by vote of the electors on November 2, 2010, is amended to read as follows:

g. New city facilities 1. Application, statement and additional description. Whenever an application involving a new city facility is submitted to the department of city planning pursuant to paragraph [five, ten or eleven] (5), (10) or (11) of subdivision a of section [one hundred ninety-seven-c] 197-c, the applicant shall include as part of the application a statement of consistency describing (1) how the proposed action satisfies the criteria for the location of city facilities established pursuant to section [two hundred three] 203, (2) whether the proposed action is consistent with the most recent statement of needs, and (3) whether the proposed action is consistent with any written statements or comments submitted by borough presidents and community boards in response to the statement of needs. If the proposed action is not consistent with the criteria for location of city facilities, the statement of needs, or any such written statements or comments submitted in response to the statement of needs, the agency shall include as part of its application a statement of the reasons for any such inconsistencies. If the proposed new facility is not referred to in the statement of needs, the applicant shall submit to the affected borough president a description of the public purpose to be served by the city facility, its proposed location, the appropriation (if any) that the agency intends to use in connection with the facility, the size and nature of the facility and the specific criteria for the location of the facility. The affected borough president shall have the right, within [thirty] 30 days of the submission of such description, to propose an alternative location in his or her borough for the proposed city facility, provided that the borough president shall certify that the alternative location satisfies the criteria for location of city facilities under section [two hundred three] 203 and the specific criteria for locating the facility in the statement of needs. The application for the proposed site selection, disposition or acquisition shall not be certified and shall not be reviewed pursuant to section [one hundred ninety-seven-c] 197-c until at least [thirty] 30 days after the submission of such information to the affected borough president. A borough president may elect to waive the right to such [thirty]30-day review period.

2. Posting requirements. The statements of consistency or inconsistency and the additional details to be provided to the borough presidents in accordance with paragraph 1 shall be posted prominently (a) on a publicly accessible website maintained by the submitting agency as soon as it submits the application and (b) within five business days of submission on the publicly accessible website maintained by the department of city planning. These posting requirements do not replace any other disclosure and notice requirements.

§ 4. Chapter 13 of the New York city charter is amended by adding a new section 336 to read as follows:

§ 336. Contracts subject to criteria for the location of city facilities. Any statement prepared in connection with a contract that outlines an agency's consideration and application of the criteria that are established pursuant to section 203 shall be posted prominently on publicly accessible websites maintained by the procuring agency and by the department of city planning. Such statements shall be posted online before or concurrently with any public notice regarding the contract under this chapter.

Referred to the Committee on Land Use.

Res. No. 1392

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to create a uniform process for community notification and local input on the siting of any state or state-authorized facility in the city of New York and to review the distribution of such facilities already in place.

By Council Members Miller, Rose, Lander, Richards, Levin, Johnson, Reynoso and Gentile.

Whereas, New York State agencies, public authorities and other State-authorized entities operate dozens of facilities within New York City, many of which are concentrated in relatively few neighborhoods; and

Whereas, The amount of say and involvement that local communities within the City have in deciding where to locate such facilities varies widely among the various State agencies, public authorities and similar entities; and

Whereas, For example, pursuant to State law, before a community residential facility for persons with developmental disabilities is sited in New York City, the affected Community Board receives notice, and local feedback, objections and recommendations for alternate sites are all built into a process to help ensure that a large concentration of similar state-authorized facilities does not “substantially alter[]” “the nature and character of” the community; and

Whereas, Similarly, pursuant to State law, before the State approves the establishment of a new facility for certain chemical dependency services, the Commissioner of the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services must consider the need for a facility at that location and whether alternatives are feasible; and

Whereas, During that review process, the Commissioner also must give the application for the new chemical dependency services facility to the relevant “local government unit” –that is, the entity that New York City authorizes to provide services to, among others, people suffering from alcohol or substance abuse or dependence – and must allow that local governmental unit to offer feedback and request a public hearing; and

Whereas, When the School Construction Authority acquires a site on which to build a new school, it is not subject to New York City’s Uniform Land Use Review Procedure (ULURP) or other ordinary local site selection proceedings, but it generally must provide notice of the acquisition; hold a public hearing; and obtain local feedback and approval from the Mayor and City Council; and

Whereas, In contrast, when the School Construction Authority leases space for a school, it does not necessarily follow that process of public participation (although pending bills S.3962/A.1251, introduced by Senator Michael Gianaris and Assembly Member Catherine Nolan, would require it to do so); and

Whereas, In the siting process for other types of State facilities, local communities in New York State may receive little to no notice of or input into the siting of many new State-run, -authorized or -licensed facilities; and

Whereas, Regulating land use has long been a core function of New York City and integral to its efforts to ensure the health and welfare of City residents; and

Whereas, The New York State Legislature currently has more than 30 bills under consideration relating to the siting or disposition of State and State-authorized facilities, including:

A bill to make government units, including school districts and public authorities, follow all State and local land-use planning laws (S.3337, introduced by Senator Andrew Lanza);

Bills to alter siting criteria statewide for adult shelters (A.1383, introduced by Assembly Member Joseph Lentol), environmental facilities (S.3205/A.1973, introduced by Senator Andrea Stewart-Cousins and Assembly Member J. Gary Pretlow), wireless facilities (A.4746, introduced by Assembly Member William Colton), adult care facilities (A.3959 introduced by Assembly Member Michael Fitzpatrick), and community residential facilities (A.4547, introduced by Assembly Member Andrew Raia, and A.4094 introduced by Assembly Member Tom McKeivitt);

Bills to limit or affect the siting of certain types of facilities in New York City, including marine solid waste transfer stations (S.2556/A.5903, introduced by Senator Liz Krueger and Assembly Member Rebecca Seawright) and supportive housing facilities and social services centers (S.4542-A/A.2553-A, introduced by Senator Jeffrey Klein and Assembly Member Michael Benedetto, and A.4453 introduced by Assembly Member Mark Gjonaj); and

Bills to make the New York City Housing Authority (S.496/A.1758, introduced by Senator Brad Hoylman and Assembly Member Keith Wright) and schools (S.1166/A.1360 introduced by Senator Serrano and Assembly Member Linda Rosenthal, A.4170 introduced by Assembly Member Daniel O’Donnell, S.3838 introduced by Senator Andrew Lanza, and S.120 introduced by Senator Brad Hoylman) subject to ULURP when they dispose of property; and

Whereas, This time of intense interest in siting fairness and community participation affords the State an extraordinary opportunity to reevaluate its siting processes and institute a uniform, predictable and meaningful process for soliciting local feedback before a State agency or public authority authorizes a new facility in New York City; and

Whereas, A.3615, introduced by Assembly Member Keith Wright, offers an example of such a process: it would require the State to give Community Boards, Borough Presidents, the City Planning Commission, and other elected officials written notice and an opportunity to comment on the equity, concentration, and community impacts of proposed New York City sitings for myriad State facilities; and

Whereas, While a uniform process for soliciting local feedback in future sitings would improve equitable distribution of State-authorized facilities throughout New York City, the State also should take this opportunity to review existing inequitable concentrations of such facilities and encourage redistribution of facilities and services where appropriate; and

Whereas, In that spirit, A.1349, introduced by Assembly Member Michele Titus, would impose a moratorium on site selection for State facilities until there is a comprehensive review of all existing and proposed State facilities and an assessment of which communities may be oversaturated with such facilities;

Whereas, The New York State Legislature accordingly now has an exceptional chance to build upon and integrate a large amount of pending legislation and adopt a comprehensive approach to siting and facility review that would improve State siting processes and produce a more equitable distribution of State facilities throughout New York City; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to create a uniform process for community notification and local input on the siting of any state or state-authorized facility in the city of New York and to review the distribution of such facilities already in place.

Res. No. 1393

Resolution calling upon President Donald Trump to fully fund the National Endowment for the Arts, and to not diminish or eliminate the agency in any form.

By Council Members Van Bramer, Levin, Dromm and Cohen.

Whereas, The National Endowment for the Arts (NEA), established by the United States (U.S.) Congress in 1965, is an independent federal agency whose funding and support promotes and strengthens the creative capacity of local communities; and

Whereas, The NEA is dedicated to expanding equal access to the arts, promoting arts education, and affirming and celebrating America's rich and diverse cultural heritage through grant making and local partnerships that support thousands of organizations, performances and activities in every congressional district; and

Whereas, Forty percent of all NEA program funds are distributed through state arts agencies and, together with millions in state appropriations, more than 23,000 grants in 5,000 communities across the U.S. were funded in 2017; and

Whereas, In 2015, over 33 million individuals attended more than 30,000 concerts, readings and performances, and 5,000 exhibitions that were supported by NEA funding; and

Whereas, The NEA promotes and expands cultural access, 36 percent of grants are awarded to organizations that reach underserved populations such as people with disabilities, people in institutions and veterans, 33 percent serve low-income audiences, and 40 percent of NEA-supported activities take place in high-poverty neighborhoods; and

Whereas, In 2016 the NEA received an appropriation of nearly $148 million, which is about $28 million less than its peak funding level in 1992, and a mere 0.0037 percent of the $4 trillion that the Congressional Budget Office projects the federal government will spend in 2017; and

Whereas, As president-elect, Donald Trump announced a plan to reduce federal spending by $10.5 trillion over ten years; and

Whereas, According to a February 14, 2017 internal memo circulated within the Office of Management and Budget obtained by The New York Times, President Donald Trump is considering eliminating the NEA despite the apparently negligible impact it would have on the federal budget; and

Whereas, Although congressional appropriations to the agency have been nominal over the past five years, it has great value potential as every NEA dollar is matched by up to $7 in private and other public funds; and

Whereas, The arts are a positive investment, according to the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis, arts and cultural production contributes more than $704.2 billion, or 4.23 percent of the gross domestic product, to the nation's economy; and

Whereas, According to the NEA, the arts and cultural sector employed 4.7 million individuals, earning $339 billion in 2013; and

Whereas, Without the agency, smaller grantees are not likely to survive as the bulk of NEA grants and grantee organizations are small; 43 percent of grants are $20,000 or less and 47 percent of recipients had less than $1 million in prior year expenditures; and

Whereas, New York City, home to a wealth of cultural amenities, including art galleries, museums and theaters, is an important center for film, dance, literature, music, opera, theater and the visual arts, making it the global cultural capital it is today; and

Whereas, According to NEA's website, 156 grants totaling $4.86 million were awarded to NYC applicants in fiscal year 2017; and

Whereas, According to the Alliance for the Arts, arts-motivated visitors are one of the strongest factors in NYC's growing tourism market; and

Whereas, According to a 2015 Center for an Urban Future (CUF) Report, NYC's creative industries have outpaced traditional indicators, such as finance, insurance and legal services, to become one of the fastest growing segments of its economy; and

Whereas, The CUF also reports that of NYC's 20 largest industries, the creative sector comprises the largest share of the nation's total jobs, accounting for 8.6 percent of national jobs in 2013, up from 7.1 percent in 2003; and

Whereas, Eliminating the NEA would have devastating consequences not only for society, cultural diversity and equity, but also the many interrelated economies that drive production and provide jobs, including those local communities that depend on cultural institutions for survival; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon President Donald Trump to fully fund the National Endowment for the Arts, and to not diminish or eliminate the agency in any form.

Res No. 1394

Resolution calling upon President Donald Trump to fully fund the Institute of Museum and Library Services, and to not diminish or eliminate the agency in any form.

By Council Members Van Bramer, Levin, Dromm, Cohen, Koslowitz and Salamanca.

Whereas, The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS), established by the United States (U.S.) Congress in 1996, is an independent federal agency that provides support to further empower museums and libraries to support civic life and the nation's wellbeing; and

Whereas, The IMLS was created in order to consolidate the Department of Education's Library Programs Office, established in 1956 as the first federal program of direct support to public libraries, and the Institute of Museum Services, established in 1976 with the primary purpose of providing general operation support grants to museums and other cultural institutions, because lawmakers at the time saw "great potential in an Institute that is focused on the combined roles that libraries and museums play in our community life, in support of research, learning, and entertainment, and in support of American culture and history"; and

Whereas, The IMLS administers grant programs, including population-based state formula grants for libraries, peer-reviewed competitive discretionary grants, cooperative agreements, and partnerships that support both museums and libraries; and

Whereas, The IMLS is also responsible for conducting policy research, analysis and data collection to extend and improve museum, library and information services across the country as well as developing interagency collaborations to achieve national policy; and

Whereas, In 2016, the IMLS received appropriations totaling $230 million, which accounts for almost 0.006 percent of the $4 trillion that the Congressional Budget Office projects that the federal government will spend in 2017; and

Whereas, Since its inception, despite relatively modest congressional appropriations, the IMLS has been instrumental in supporting and expanding access to museum and library services at the state and local levels; and

Whereas, According to its website, the IMLS is the primary federal support for an estimated 35,000 museums of all disciplines, including aquariums, botanic gardens, children’s museums, history, science and technology centers and zoos, and 123,000 libraries of all types, including academic, public, research and tribal; and

Whereas, As president-elect, Donald Trump announced a plan to reduce federal spending by $10.5 trillion over ten years; and

Whereas, In 2015, during the last Congressional session, U.S. House of Representatives Speaker Paul Ryan proposed eliminating the IMLS and, after a February 14, 2017 internal memo circulated within the Office of Management and Budget obtained by The New York Times suggested the elimination of the National Endowment for the Arts and National Endowment for the Humanities, there is concern that the institute could be next; and

Whereas, Library services in New York City (NYC) are provided three independent systems which collectively operate four research library centers in Manhattan and 217 local library branches across the five boroughs; and

Whereas, In addition to free and open access to books, periodicals, electronic sources and non-print materials which may be borrowed through a lending service, NYC libraries are multipurpose community and information centers, safe havens for children after school, where immigrants and other non-native speakers can learn English and where anyone can obtain free tax assistance and business services, including technical assistance programs for small businesses; and

Whereas, According to the IMLS’ website, in fiscal year 2016 three grants totaling $564,980 were awarded to NYC libraries, including the New York Public Library, which received $295,010 to “develop and deliver a blended learning early literacy staff training in partnership with the NYC Early Childhood Professional Development Institute at the City University of New York”; and

Whereas, As a global cultural capital, NYC is home to hundreds of museums and cultural institutions, from the internationally renowned Metropolitan Museum of Art to community-based organizations such as the Edgar Allen Poe Cottage in the Bronx; and

Whereas, Museums bring history to life, they celebrate art, culture and heritage, and promote better understanding as well as encourage curiosity, dialogue and self-reflection; and

Whereas, According to the IMLS’ website, in fiscal year 2016 nine grants totaling $1,213,476 were awarded to NYC museums, including the Queens Museum of Art, which received $150,000 to develop Corona, Queens: A Dignified Neighborhood for Immigrants, “a project aimed at creating new opportunities through an arts and cultural lens for civic engagement by equipping emerging immigrant neighborhood leaders with necessary tools for community engagement”; and

Whereas, Museums and libraries are relevant and vital institutions that connect, educate, engage and inform people from all walks of life; and

Whereas, The IMLS fulfills its mission to “inspire libraries and museums to advance innovation, lifelong learning, and cultural and civic engagement” through grant making, policy development and research that helps museums and libraries deliver invaluable services that make it possible for local communities and individuals to thrive; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon President Donald Trump to fully fund the Institute of Museum and Library Services, and to not diminish or eliminate the agency in any form.
