RE: New Domino

Dear Council Members:

The parish of the Transfiguration has been a fixture in the Williamsburg community since its founding in 1874. Throughout its years its members have witnessed many changes in the neighborhood. Our parish has a rich and well known history of being welcoming to newcomers, many of whom arrived from Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Mexico and Central America, and of providing strong advocacy on multiple issues which have ranged from the rights of immigrants to the need for dignified and affordable housing. It is in this light that I, the current pastor of this great community, submit for your consideration this written testimony concerning the proposed New Domino development.

The recent gentrification of Williamsburg coupled with changes in the real estate market has caused great displacement of longtime residents of the area, many of whom are Latino. They find it increasingly difficult to remain in the neighborhood where they laid down roots and struggled to raise their families. This is a cause of great concern for me because it directly affects the members of my parish community who simply want the chance to stay in the neighborhood that is so much a part of their lives, history, and identity. It is because of this that I strongly support the affordable housing component of the proposed New Domino project, which seeks to provide 660 units of affordable housing, half of which would be made available to local residents.

While the need for the affordable housing is great and the proposal to address this need by C.P.C. is certainly laudable, I can appreciate and echo the concerns raised by Council Member Steve Levin and Assemblyman Vito Lopez concerning the projects height and density and the potential adverse affect it will have on infrastructure and transportation, as this would also affect the members of my community. It is my sincere hope that these issues can be addressed in a reasonable and conciliatory manner without any diminishment to the proposed 660 units of affordable housing.

Respectfully,

Rev. Monsignor Anthony Hernandez
Pastor

Testimony for the City Council New Domino Rezoning Hearing

by

L. Nicolas Ronderos, Director, Urban Development, Regional Plan Association

June 21, 2010

My name is Nicolas Ronderos and I'm Director of Urban Development for Regional Plan Association, a private, nonprofit research and planning organization serving the greater New York metropolitan region.

RPA wants to testify on the proposed rezoning for the New Domino and express our support and some suggestions for ensuring the long term environmental community benefit of this plan to provide new permanently affordable housing and new open space in Brooklyn Community Board 1.

The proposed mixed use project would revitalize and reactivate a vacant waterfront industrial site with publicly accessible open space, a restored and adaptively reused historic building, and new residential buildings with a substantial amount of affordable housing.

The proposed four acres of publicly accessible open space would include an esplanade along the water's edge. We are pleased that the project proponents are working with City Planning and the Parks Department to turn the property over to the Parks Department upon completion. We appreciate efforts made by the project proponent to link the project site to Grand Ferry Park, the creation of a large open lawn between the esplanade and the Refinery that would highlight this restored historic structure, the creation of new playgrounds and active street level spaces that will make this open space feel welcoming to the public, and new connections that are intended to provide visual and physical access to the waterfront from all streets leading to the project site.

We also want to call the Council's attention to provisions made to improve circulation in and around the project site. RPA believes that the sidewalk widening, pedestrian streets at the park entrances, and the project's embracing of the Brooklyn Waterfront Greenway on Kent Avenue will help accommodate the mobility needs of this growing waterfront community.

However, we want to make sure that this project's proposed open space is built to the highest standards by any subsequent developer and suggest the following actions to improve the project:

- To help manage the City's stormwater runoff and minimize the impact on water quality of CSOs, there are a number of actions that can be taken. The developer should work with NYC DEP to explore opportunities to connect high level storm sewers at the project site to catch basins along the Brooklyn Waterfront Greenway on Kent Avenue, potentially removing significant volumes of rain water from entering the CSO system.
- Ensure that the Refinery Building is stabilized so that its rehabilitation in subsequent phases can be relied on. The development of the building is understandably pushed to a later phase of the project. The project proponent should commit to a timetable for this project;
- Require that the funding to mitigate the shadows to be projected over Grand Ferry Park be guaranteed for planting and upkeep of shadow resistant plants in perpetuity. The impact of the shadowing over the parks and the speculative nature of the office development at this location suggests that further reduction in the height of the northern towers might be called for.

THE PUBLIC ADVOCATE FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Bill de Blasio - PUBLIC ADVOCATE

Mark Weprin
Chair, Zoning and Franchises Subcommittee
New York City Council
73-03 Bell Boulevard
Oakland Gardens, New York 11364

FOR THE RECORD

Dear Councilmember Weprin,

After diligently examining the New Domino proposal and reviewing the public testimony for the development of the Greenpoint-Williamsburg waterfront, I support the overall rezoning to accommodate the New Domino development. I believe this project will provide much-needed, new permanent affordable housing opportunities, create jobs, provide new community facility space, and increase public waterfront access and green space.

The development will provide 30% affordable housing at a wide range of Annual Median Incomes, offer prevailing wage jobs and go above and beyond surpass the standards established by the Waterfront Access Plan developed by the Department of City Planning.

However, I do share concerns regarding the project's impact on existing public transit infrastructure and density which was raised by the community through Community Board 1 and the Brooklyn Borough President. I view the recent and anticipated residential growth in Williamsburg as an opportunity to implement a long-term sustainable transportation plan in line with the City's PlaNYC 2030 initiatives and VISION 2020 Comprehensive Waterfront Plan.

With respect to the additional 266 parking spaces requested in the special permit application, I urge you, along with the borough president, not to approve this application. It is highly improbable that the development will need these parking spaces, especially with 30% of the units being affordable and housing residents less likely to own a car. Such a surplus of parking spaces only encourages people to own a car and to drive to work (as shown in numerous studies, such as the 2008 Transportation Alternatives report, "Guaranteed Parking -- Guaranteed Driving"). We should be disincentivizing this practice across the city; unnecessary car ownership and its resulting congestion does not fit in with today's neighborhood livability standards, especially in a potentially flourishing waterfront community.

I would also like CPC to explore the possibility of reducing the density of the project, ideally, without compromising the number of affordable units. Density could be reduced by eliminating some of the nonresidential space that may not be needed in this community, and CPC could explore additional subsidies for the affordable housing to make it more profitable.

I hope that you will consider my office a resource in bringing together relevant agencies to establish a working dialogue to improve public transportation along the waterfront. It is in the interest of the developer, city and current residents to plan and invest in long-term, innovative and environmentally-friendly mass transit options.

As portion of the City's waterfront are transformed to residential use, sustaining interest in growth and promoting commercial growth will require sufficient transportation options. The Public Advocate's Office encourages the City Council to take an active role in finding solutions given its positive history and demonstrated good-faith with community engagement.

Sincerely,

Good Morning Mr. Chairman and members of the City Council

As a resident and close neighbor to Domino site for 58 years, representing over 5,000 families as a tenants representative as well as Block Association's and Merchant's Association's.

Just last month I stood in front of this committee asking that you support and vote in favor of Rose Plaza on the River, 20% of the units a total of 160 were allocated for affordable housing as required.

It was good negotiation and effort from this committee, the developer raised the affordable to 30% and was passed by the entire City Council 47-1, and for that I want to thank you.

Here we are today about Domino Sugar Plan where the developer is already committed to allocating 30% of all units for affordable 660 in total, asking you to support and vote in favor, and still there is opposition to this plan, Rose was too little, Domino is too big, you have to be a king Solomon to figure it out. Affordable Housing and Jobs are what we need; both now depend on your vote.

We all know that if Noah was asked to build the ark today, there would be great opposition from just about every group as well as every City, State and Federal agency as well as this body.

660 affordable units on one site, is more than the two projects that have been approved by this committee, Broadway Triangle and Rose Plaza combined.

City Planning's 13-0 vote in favor sends a clear message to this body to vote in favor, Domino is just not a Sugar plan; it is a sweet, sweet deal for the entire City and the community.

Don't turn Domino into Sweet & Low; don't throw this plan into the east river at the expense of the families in need for affordable housing.

Testimony to the Subcommittee on Zoning and Franchises Public Hearing on the Domino Sugar Plant Redevelopment Project

June 21, 2010

Good morning. Thank-you Chairperson Weprin for hearing my testimony. My name is Camille Rivera and I am the Assistant Political Director of SEIU 32BJ. I am here this morning to testify in support of the Domino Sugar Plant redevelopment project.

This project is a model for responsible development in our neighborhood, addressing the needs of the community in many ways. It goes beyond traditional affordability requirements by providing 30 percent of the residential units at affordable rates. That is 660 units of affordable housing, including units for families making under $25,000 a year. The project will also include public open space, reactivating what is now a vacant waterfront industrial site. Finally, the project will provide nearly 100 good, permanent jobs in the Williamsburg community. With the economy lagging, we cannot overlook the importance of creating permanent jobs that provide the wages and benefits that allow hard working New Yorkers to thrive in our City.

Responsible development in Brooklyn is crucial. Over the past several years, residential buildings have gone up throughout Brooklyn and New York City that fail to provide the good jobs and affordable housing that working families in New York City need. In neighborhoods like Williamsburg all across our city, working families have been left behind as good industrial jobs have been replaced by luxury condos and poverty level jobs.

Many of our members have struggled to continue to live in this community as it has grown and changed. We hope that the council recognizes the importance of the affordable housing and good jobs for the Williamsburg community, and works to ensure this project's success.

Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN VITO LOPEZ DOMINO TESTIMONY

June 21, 2010

Good morning Chairman Weprin and Committee members. I am Assemblyman Vito Lopez, Chairman of the New York State Housing Committee, and I represent the Southside of Williamsburg, the area largely impacted by the proposed rezoning of the Domino Sugar Refinery site. I am a proud lifelong advocate of affordable housing and have always been a strong voice in protecting residents against displacement.

Sadly, I have watched the hyper-development of luxury apartment buildings throughout my District despite my constant and emphatic protest. This has displaced working class families throughout Williamsburg and added to the growing number of homeless in the neighborhood. Since presented with this Domino proposal four years ago, my message has been the same: With this additional luxury development standing to bring huge profits to the developers, Domino will only add to the overdevelopment of Williamsburg and is simply too big. The displacement it will cause, the escalation of housing prices that will result, and its dangerous stress on the infrastructure is too high a cost for my community to bear.

This rezoning is proposed by for-profit developers and the vast majority of the units proposed are market-rate and luxury units. CPC Resources, a conglomerate of banks and a for-profit subsidiary of the Community Preservation Corporation has partnered with the Katan Group, a prominent developer currently constructing more than 2 million square feet of luxury residential real estate. I worry that as the developers plan to make this deep imprint on the Waterfront, this will come at the expense of the entire Williamsburg community. Due to the profound negative impact this action would have on this community, I am requesting significant amendments to the current rezoning plan.

Domino poses a grave problem for current residents in Williamsburg, either pricing many of them out of their own neighborhoods or displacing them. CPC has already secured between 80-100 Million Dollars in public funding for affordable housing. In order to help alleviate the strain on this community, I call on the developers to create 800 units of affordable housing as part of this plan. Further, I want a commitment from CPC that these affordable units be built prior to, or simultaneously with, the market rate units.

Displacement is only the beginning. This neighborhood will be unable to sustain the size of this proposal. Other large projects such as Rose Plaza, Schafer Landing and the Edge have already infused large numbers of residents into the area. This massive proposal, planning for upwards of 2,400 new apartments, stands to bring close to 8,000 new residents to the neighborhood. Cumulatively, the population within a half-mile radius is projected to grow by about 25% with at least 15,000 new residents. There is no community that could withstand such growth without a real plan to tackle the related challenges.

I specifically have serious concerns about the height and density of this proposal. I have always been a proponent of contextual zoning and moderate-sized development. The heights of some of the proposed buildings are entirely out of context for the neighborhood, as CPC is proposing two 40-story buildings as part of their plan. Currently, the highest existing tower on the Williamsburg waterfront, The Edge, stands at 30 stories. Nearby, Schaefer stands as tall as 25 stories and the recent rezoning of Rose Plaza allows for 29 stories. Consequently, Domino should not exceed 30 floors in any portion of the development. This project also needs to drastically reduce its scope. I strongly recommend limiting the number of total apartments in the project to no more than 1800.

Importantly, the infrastructure simply will not be able to support this additional high-rise development. The infrastructure in Williamsburg is severely taxed as it is. Domino is about 15 blocks in either direction from a subway. The MTA has proposed cuts to one, the JMZ line at Marcy Avenue. The Bedford Avenue L has waits of two or three trains. The population increase created by Domino is projected to increase bus ridership in the area by 300%. It is therefore incumbent upon the sponsor of this rezoning to privately fund a mode of transportation for the community. I would like for the sponsor to propose methods – such as a bus shuttle – to take residents to and from alternative subway stops and to and from lower Manhattan. There needs to be a real and serious proposal in place for the sponsor to move forward with this development.

As I have already mentioned, the people of a community cannot be the collateral damage of a successful business venture. Domino must truly serve the people of Williamsburg and be responsible in its development. For instance, the development should be built by Building and Construction Trades Council members and paid prevailing wage rates. Any supermarket created in Domino should be a union shop. Though a hotel is not part of the proposal here today, should there ever be a hotel developed, I would support that only to the extent that CPC works in conjunction with the New York Hotel and Motel Trades Council. Finally, I would like a binding covenant in place to assure that the 150,000 square feet of proposed community and school space remains community space for the life of the development. Where 100,000 square feet is currently proposed for a school, even if CPC is unable to secure the appropriate agreements, that space must remain space to serve the community and must not be converted into any additional apartments.

Just as the Community Board voted to oppose this proposal, I too oppose this rezoning as proposed and recommend serious revisions to the plan. Without these serious revisions, Domino will cost this community too much. I urge the Council today to consider these revisions and vote accordingly. Thank you.

The Honorable Mark S. Weprin, Chairperson

Suite 1807

NY, NY 10007

Dear Chairman Weprin:

We write on behalf of the leaders of East Brooklyn Congregations (EBC) to express our support for the Community Preservation Corporation's (CPC), "New Domino" plan to develop 11.2 acres on the Williamsburg waterfront.

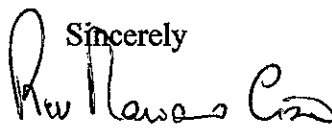

This plan provides three things the Williamsburg-Bushwick community desperately needs: more affordable housing, more public recreation space and more jobs. The 660 units of affordable housing, available to families that make as little as $23,040 a year, will be incredibly important to working families in our parishes and communities. Further, the open space will provide desperately needed places to recreate and relax.

EBC is a network of 33 different member congregations, schools, neighborhood and community associations throughout Brooklyn, including seven members in Bushwick, with thousands of families who would benefit from this project. Further, EBC has a 20-year relationship with Community Preservation Corporation. We have developed thousands of units of affordable housing with CPC, both owner occupied and rental housing, including the Spring Creek Nehemiah Homes. Thousands of EBC leaders and other Brooklynites have decent housing and improved communities because of the work that CPC has done. We know CPC can do the same thing here.

EBC also knows how well CPC can work with residents to rehab existing building. A team of EBC tenant leaders in the 550-unit Riverdale Osborne Towers Complex organized to help CPC buy the complex, and worked with them to improve conditions. Due to the cooperation of EBC tenants leaders and CPC, the complex went from disastrous (with elevators that had not worked for 10 years, repairs that had gone undone almost that long) to a much safer, much more pleasant place to live.

Brooklyn would benefit greatly from CPC's proposed Domino plan. It is critical that this project move forward.

Honorable Mark Weprin
Chair
Subcommittee on Zoning & Franchises
New York City Council
250 Broadway Suite 1807
New York, NY 10007

Dear Chair Weprin:

On behalf of the AIA New York Chapter and its nearly 5,000 architect and affiliate members based in Manhattan, it is my pleasure to testify in support of the current applications. We urge the Subcommittee on Zoning & Franchises and the entire City Council to vote to allow the redevelopment of the former Domino Sugar site along the Williamsburg waterfront and the reuse of the landmarked Refinery Complex. We have discussed this matter with our colleagues at AIA Brooklyn, and visited the site with them prior to the hearing at the City Planning Commission.

There are four compelling reasons to support Rafael Viñoly Architects and the project team in their efforts to reclaim this vacant waterfront site that has been closed to the community for more than 100 years.

- The Domino Refinery is an icon of the Brooklyn waterfront, and the proposal respects the scale and industrial strength of the existing refinery building.
- For the first time in 100 years the street grid and sightlines to the waterfront will be restored and access to the waterfront will be open to the public.
- The addition of over four acres of new public, landscaped parks and an esplanade stretching five blocks on the waterfront.
- Affordable housing is urgently needed, and this project will provide 660 affordable apartments with a large number of them targeted to families of four making less than $23,040 a year.

The AIA New York Chapter agrees with the proponents of the project that the development will allow for a significant amount of affordable housing, with the percentage of such inclusionary dwelling units set at 30%.

We note that the new buildings are designed to allow the massing to match the scale of the relatively low-rise existing neighborhood along Kent Avenue while stepping up to slender towers on the waterfront. The use of glass at the upper levels of the towers enables them to blend into the streetscape. Varying the facades and heights of the buildings breaks up the bulk of each block and reflects the neighborhood character. We echo the concerns previously expressed by others that public transit merits more concerted attention.

In conclusion however, we strongly urge the Subcommittee on Zoning & Franchises to approve these applications for this important and necessary project.

Dear Councilmember Weprin:

On behalf of Catholic Charities of Brooklyn and Queens, I am writing to seek your support of the plan proposed by CPC Resources for the reuse of the Domino site. We believe that this plan offers the best for the community in terms of affordability, preservation and open space. We also know from first-hand experience that CPC Resources is deeply committed to responsible community development and to creating high quality affordable housing.

As a social service provider, Catholic Charities has been a part of the Williamsburg community for over 100 years. Our community-based services include Head Start, Child Care, Residential Services for the Developmentally Disabled, Senior Luncheon Programs, Family Housing, Supportive Housing for the formerly Homeless and for Persons with HIV/AIDS, Case Management and Counseling for Families. Through these programs, and in working together with the local Catholic Parishes, we see families, seniors and individuals who struggle everyday to make ends meet. Those struggles have been dramatically amplified by the pressure placed on these families by landlords looking to raise rents.

The plan for affordable housing presented by CPC Resources for Domino demonstrates a true sensitivity and responsiveness to the needs of the low and middle income residents of Williamsburg. It is also a unique opportunity to help address the affordable housing crisis. Your support is essential to the realization of this plan.

Testimony of Bill Frey

Enterprise Community Partners, Inc.

For the New York City Council Subcommittee on Zoning and Franchises
On June 21, 2010

Chair Weprin and members of the New York City Council Subcommittee on Zoning and Franchises:

I am Juan Sebastian Arias from the New York Office of Enterprise Community Partners. I am here today on behalf of Bill Frey, Senior Vice President and Eastern Region Executive of Enterprise, who regrettably couldn't be here this afternoon. Enterprise is a national innovator in creating affordable homes and revitalizing communities. I appreciate the opportunity to share with you our support for the New Domino development project.

For 25 years, Enterprise has pioneered neighborhood solutions through public-private partnerships with financial institutions, governments, community organizations, for-profit neighborhood developers and others that share our vision. We have worked closely many times with CPC, including the $39 million renovation of the Riverdale Osborne Towers in Brownsville that rehabilitated 523 affordable units for low-income families. Based on this and other experience, we know first hand that CPC has the depth and experience to successfully complete the New Domino development.

Enterprise commends CPC's commitment to transform the former Domino manufacturing site into a mixed-use development with 660 units of affordable housing. Rarely is there an opportunity to develop this quantity of affordable housing units in one development on prime waterfront real estate in New York City. Moreover, at a time when New York families are increasingly cutting their budgets back, the need and demand for decent and affordable housing are at their greatest. The proposed Domino site development addresses these community needs directly with its commitment to affordable housing.

A stable, affordable home creates the opportunity for a family to transition to financial security and to redirect scarce resources to education, health care, and other necessities. In neighborhoods that experience rapid market transformation, the ability to maintain significant affordable housing for low-income residents is usually very difficult. Fortunately, the New Domino development directly addresses the needs of local residents by setting aside half of all affordable units exclusively for low-income residents in Community Board 1 of Brooklyn. With a total of 660 affordable units, the Domino site development is a remarkable opportunity to make a positive impact in a neighborhood that has had a significant lack of affordable housing options in recent years.

Furthermore, the New Domino development project goes above and beyond current affordable housing requirements. Fully 30% of units will be set aside for low-income households, which is already 50% more than required. CPC's development plans go even further by targeting very-low income households and seniors: 100 rental units will be kept affordable for families making up to 30% of the area median income (AMI), or under $23,040 for a family of four; and another 100 rental units will be kept affordable for seniors making up to 50% AMI, or $26,880 for an individual. These unprecedented levels of affordability would not be plausible were the New Domino development scaled back in size. As an advocate of affordable housing, Enterprise is fully supportive of this development project because it will produce a significant quantity of quality affordable housing within a mixed income community.

Having a place to live is the crucial first step out of poverty; yet for many low-income people in New York City, finding an affordable place to live is often impossible. Enterprise knows how important and complex developing affordable housing in New York City can be, and we know that CPC will do this the right way. If you have any questions, I would be more than happy to relay them to my colleague, Bill Frey, and get back to you shortly with answers. Thank you for your time.

Public Testimony Submitted by Jerilyn Perine

Executive Director Citizens Housing and Planning Council

June 21, 2010

Re: Domino Sugar Refinery Site, Williamsburg, Brooklyn

My name is Jerilyn Perine and I served in City government for 26 years including 18 years at the Department of Housing Preservation and Development where I was responsible for the construction of housing for the homeless, renovating and preserving the City's in rem stock, home to some of our City's poorest households, and finally as Commissioner where I was the author of Mayor Bloomberg's original New Housing Marketplace Plan. I am now the Executive Director of the Citizens Housing and Planning Council (CHPC), one of the City's oldest civic organizations focused on housing, planning and land use.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to testify in strong support of the actions that you are considering that will ensure the construction of a new residential and mixed use project on the site of the former Domino Sugar refinery.

I would like to emphasize three key reasons for my support of the project.

First the project, with its large scale and long term focus, requires an experienced development team with a proven track record. CPC has since 1974, been preserving and creating housing for working New Yorkers in neighborhoods all around the City; from Park Chester in the Bronx where 12,000 units were saved from predatory lenders to the construction of affordable units in Bedford Stuyvesant, Oceanhill Brownsville, Washington Heights and Corona. Their commitment and contributions to the City's ongoing need for affordable and mixed income housing is well established.

Second the transformation of our derelict industrial landscape must continue to be a priority for zoning and land use decisions. Areas originally created to meet the needs of our old industrial economy, are now critical to meet the needs for housing and jobs in the 21st century and to create access to a waterfront that most New Yorkers have rarely seen.

Thanks largely to the Mayor's commitment to the transformation of brownfield sites, and an intensive process of public engagement, rezoning for much of the Williamsburg waterfront has been accomplished. This privately owned site is now before you that will make possible the extension of that effort.

The third reason to support this project is that it will increase the overall supply of housing along with a significant number of affordable units. Please note that the development of both affordable and market rate housing is critical to our city's future. Not only is housing construction a key economic driver, providing jobs and significant local spending, the demand for housing in NYC is still critical despite the current economic downturn.

Our City's population will continue to grow and our economy will certainly recover. Market rate new construction doesn't create housing demand, it fulfills it. When combined with affordable housing it can, as it has throughout our City, meet the needs of a wide range of New Yorkers – now and into the future.

The inclusion of 660 affordable units is a unique opportunity that is rare for a single project in NYC. That amount exceeds the requirements of both the current Williamsburg rezoning and the newly revised 421-a tax exemption.

Where the Greenpoint Williamsburg rezoning would have required 20% of the units to be affordable to households earning 80% of area median income, this proposal includes 30% of the units as affordable, including set asides for households at the 30%, 50% and 60% of median income. And this project not only meets the requirement of the newly revised 421-a tax exemption program, but will exceed it by providing not only the required affordable units, but additional affordable units, for low income senior citizens and homeownership opportunities for moderate and middle income New Yorkers.

The Mayor's plan for the year 2030 is projecting that our population will increase by 1 million people over the next two decades. How will we make room for them? Only by increasing density that actually expands the entire inventory of housing and by government using its land-use powers to increase the availability of buildable sites for a range of housing options can we hope to house our growing population.

Given the extensive level of public engagement involved in both the Williamsburg rezoning and the recent 421-a debate, surely a project that comes before you with an even greater commitment to affordability should be encouraged and approved.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Presented by Andres Ledesma

Good morning Chair Weprin, Speaker Quinn, and members of the Zoning and Franchises sub-Committee, Land Use Committee, and members of the City Council. My name is Andres Ledesma and I am representing State Senator Martin Malave Dilan. I have been asked to read these brief comments into the record with regard to the land use items before you concerning the Domino Sugar Factory site.

While the Domino Sugar Factory is not in my district, its proposed development would have an enormous impact on the transportation infrastructure of the communities I represent. I represent the neighboring communities of Williamsburg, Greenpoint and Bushwick as well as Cypress Hills, East NY, and parts of Bedford-Stuyvesant and Ocean Hill-Brownsville.

Transportation

First off, the height and density of this development should be scaled down significantly. Building towers of this magnitude in areas of our city that have never had residential development needs to be planned carefully. As Chair of the Transportation Committee of the NYS Senate, I am well aware of the need to have infrastructure needs (public transportation, roads, bridges, traffic flows) become a critical component of any development. This comprehensive view of development, is why the ULURP process was created in the first place. Due to this, it is my view that the development, as proposed by CPCR, would overburden the existing infrastructure of the Williamsburg community. As a former member of the City Council and member of this sub-committee, I know first-hand that every ULURP project not only has a local impact but a regional one as well. The MTA is already looking to reduce service on the J/M/Z lines. The proposed development would add thousand of new passengers to the nearest subway station at Marcy Ave and Broadway. This is why both Borough President Marty Markowitz and Community Board 1 have recommended downsizing this development.

It is also worth examining if the current market is willing to withstand this many new units.

Education

It is unclear to me if an analysis has been done by the Department of Education on the impact thousands of new apartments would have on local schools.

Will there be an amended 5 Year Capital Plan to take into account the new students entering Williamsburg public schools?

Are locally zoned schools in Williamsburg able to handle the new students stemming from this and other proposed developments along the Williamsburg waterfront ?

Affordability

I trust that the below market rate units of this development would continue to remain affordable in perpetuity; that the composition of units deemed affordable reflect local community needs; and that the rent reflects the local median income of about $35,000.

Conclusion

I would like to thank the work of Council Member Stephen Levin in fighting for smart, progressive, and common sense development in his district. Council Member Levin and I agree that new development is great but we must balance new development with the existing infrastructure needs of an already densely populated corner of our great metropolis.

Presented City Council June 21, 2010: Domino

I'm Janyce Stefan-Cole. CPRC's New Domino is too high and too dense; Williamsburg ill-equipped for 40 storey towers, overcrowding, and the few affordable units promised with enough strings attached to build a second Williamsburg Bridge.

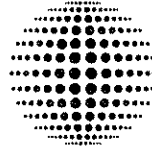

Does CPRC even have the money? Repeatedly asked to show its finances, to explain why such height and density are necessary, the answer is always the same: No books, and affordable housing is the excuse, even though thousands will be displaced as cost of living soars with the arrival of new luxury condos.

We have discovered CPRC's loans are held by Pacific Coast Capitol Partners or PCCP, LLC a private equity firm which focuses on purchasing distressed debt, backed by real estate assets, and which purchased Lehman Brother's real estate portfolios AKA "Lehman Brothers Real Estate Mezzanine Partners, LP in December 2009, renamed: PMRP I or: PCCP's Mezzanine Recovery Partners I, LP which holds the Domino loans: AKA Domino Development, Williamsburg, NY; listed—INCORRECTLY—as Multi-Family.*

It appears the re-zoning must be in place precisely as CPRC demands to secure financing and/or to flip the property with maximum profitability. This may explain: A.) Their refusal to compromise with the community on density, height and infrastructure; B.) To open their books to public scrutiny; and C.) Why the majority of our Community distrusts affordable housing plans which are not legally binding.

Community Board 1 voted no to CPRC's Domino. The Boro President put conditions on his approval. Our City Councilman Stephen Levin is smeared in editorials for speaking for the majority: For common sense, for CPRC to abide by 2005 Williamsburg/Greenpoint rezoning, for genuine affordable housing and contextual upland development. I believe the City Council will agree and send CPRC a message: Williamsburg is not up for grabs.

Thank you.

PARTNERSHIP FOR NEW YORK CITY

The Partnership for New York City represents leadership of international and regional businesses that are headquartered in New York. Partnership members employ 775,000 people in New York City and contribute over $140 billion to the annual Gross City Product.

The Partnership has been an avid supporter of affordable housing and industrial retention and we wholeheartedly support the plan for the redevelopment of the Domino Sugar Refinery site. The Partnership has an extensive history with the neighborhood of Williamsburg, where, through our New York City Housing Partnership subsidiary, we joined with community organizations to sponsor private development of 750 affordable homes and apartments in Williamsburg and Greenpoint. Through our New York City Investment Fund, we also helped finance the nearby Greenpoint Manufacturing and Design Center's program to preserve viable industrial uses in the community.

There are few developers in the city, private or nonprofit, that equal the Community Preservation Corporation and its affiliates in terms of commitment to affordable housing and stronger New York City neighborhoods. It is fortunate that they were able to acquire this important site and I believe that their intention is to provide maximum benefit to the community without endangering the viability and quality of the overall project.

The plan put forth by CPC Resources adheres to the goals laid out in the rezoning approved for Greenpoint-Williamsburg in 2005. In addition, the plan promises additional commitments in the areas of affordable housing, community preservation, open space, and waterfront access.

As envisioned, the New Domino will provide 660 housing units affordable to a wide range of the community, as well as over 1,000 new permanent jobs. The project will also produce hundreds of construction jobs throughout development. The Community Preservation Corporation has a 30-year history of financing affordable housing in Brooklyn and throughout the city. In Williamsburg alone, CPC has been involved in the construction of over 1,600 low-, moderate- and middle-income apartments, reflecting a total investment of over $200 million. Their commitment and track record will help ensure a successful project.

For years, neighborhoods had to stand by while the only sites available for residential development were effectively land-banked for industrial waterfront uses that never materialized. Meanwhile, the most noxious uses – transfer stations, construction equipment storage and sanitation facilities – took over many of our most promising development sites and neighborhoods. In response, the City Administration has made it a priority to reclaim New York City's waterfronts and bring them into the 21st century.

"Vision 2020," the City's Comprehensive Waterfront Plan, sets forth long-term goals for a 21st century waterfront. It will serve as a guide for future land-use decisions along the City's shoreline, recognizing the diversity of the waterfront and balancing the needs of environmentally sensitive natural areas, public access, housing and commercial activity. The rezoning of the Brooklyn waterfront and projects like the New Domino are critical first steps in creating a new balance in our waterfront neighborhoods that is aligned with "Vision 2020."

As you know, earlier this month, the City Planning Commission voted unanimously to support the New Domino development plan. New York City's vitality and growth depends on the creative reuse of land and buildings to adapt to changing economic conditions. With approval of the New Domino plan, the community stands to receive an enormous array of benefits: improved quality of life, affordable housing, greater access to public space and the waterfront, and new jobs.

The Partnership for New York City encourages the Council to support this vital project.

Thank you for your consideration.

In an interview last year, Barack Obama compared manufacturing jobs to those at Walmart and said, "... I do think that there's a culture of making things in a factory that appeals to people and that I understand. Whenever I'd walk into a factory during the campaign and would see these big turbines — things that, you know, you'd say, well, this is neat stuff — in a way you wouldn't when you walk into a retail store."

The Society for Industrial Archeology studies, interprets and seeks to preserve the neat stuff that embodies our industrial heritage.

A key site for us, that is of national, state, city and neighborhood importance, is the former Domino sugar refinery complex in Williamsburg, once the center of sugar making in the country.

Although we appreciate that additional mitigation for the loss of National Register structures is now part of the FEIS, and that this was a response to our previous testimony, we feel that high-quality documentation and interpretive exhibits incorporating factory artifacts was the least we could ask for. We still hope for a development that saves more of the buildings and provides a better context for the three that are landmarked. We want the history to be not only respected but celebrated. We want the world's largest sugar refinery to still be imposing, rather than dwarfed by 40-story towers.

There are at least two alternative plans that have bubbled up from people in the neighborhood. We like them because they preserve more of the factory and its industrial character. The creators of these plans started by looking at what could be re-used at the site and what the community wants and needs from it.

We ask that you vote against the re-zoning request before you and allow time for a better, more creative plan. Take the chance to not only make history but save it.

The Havemeyers of Domino Sugar
By Mary Habstritt, Society for Industrial Archeology
president@siahq.org, 917-709-5291
Revised 06/20/2010

The story of Domino Sugar is one of immigrants starting fresh in America and not only succeeding here but creating an empire that impacted the entire country.

The first Havemeyers, William H. and Frederick Christian ("F.C.") arrived in Manhattan in 1799 and 1802 respectively. They left Germany after the deaths of their parents for a 10-year apprenticeship in sugar refining in London. England was then leading producer of sugar, bringing raw sugar from its Caribbean colonies to London, the most advanced sugar refining center in the world, and supplying the European continent.

Both Havemeyers quickly found employment and by 1805 they were able to go into business for themselves on Vandam St. in Manhattan. Just two years later, they were expanding that plant. By 1828, the second generation, cousins Wm. F. and F.C. Jr., was running the refinery. They both retired in their 30s, leaving the plant to be run by their younger brothers.

In 1841 William F. (son of the first Havemeyer to emigrate) went into politics. He served as mayor, when the term was only one year, in 1845-46 and 1848-49. He returned for his third term in 1872, switching parties to run against the Tweed ring. In an era rife with political patronage and scandal, Havemeyer is said to have mounted a clean, independent, and reform-minded campaign. New York City's first fireboat was named for him in 1875, honoring him a year after his death and launching a tradition of naming fireboats for mayors.

After his retirement, Frederick C. Jr. traveled the world and became an expert on sugar. He brought knowledge of the latest technology to bear when he opened a new plant on the Williamsburg waterfront in 1857 with several partners. (The obsolete plant in Manhattan was closed in 1856.) It was a good site for such a business as it had deep water for ships carrying raw sugar and the large quantities of coal needed to fuel the plant. There was plenty of space to build, and plenty of local labor. The new refinery immediately made all inland refineries obsolete, producing 300,000 pounds per day—more than all others could produce in a month—of pure white sugar at a time when most sugar was brown.

Frederick Jr.'s partners changed several times until, in 1863, the firm became Havemeyers and Elder, the name seen worked into the brick of the oval stack that still stands today. In addition to the refinery property running from South Fifth to Grand Avenue, the company owned the entire waterfront from North Third nearly to North Tenth. They formed their own railroad and warehousing operation, the Brooklyn Eastern District Terminal, to serve not only their refinery and affiliated cooperage (barrel maker) but other companies in the neighborhood. Many of the blocks along the waterfront were accused of not paying duty on 41,000 tons of sugar by tampering with scales. H. O. died in December 1907, during this tumultuous period.

H. O.'s son Horace helped defend the company and facilitated settlement with the government but then resigned from the Trust. He did, however, continue to be involved in the sugar beet industry and eventually went into competition with the Trust. He was the last Havemeyer involved in the American Sugar Refining Company.

H. O. Havemeyer married Louisine Waldron Elder (whose grandmother was a Riker of Rikers Island) in 1883. The two families had lived near each other as well as being partners in the refinery and it was not the first marriage between them. The partnership of H.O. and Louisine resulted in major contributions to the city's culture and began a family legacy of collecting art and historical artifacts.

Due to Louisine's friendship with Mary Cassatt (whose brother was a wealthy executive with the Pennsylvania Railroad), she was introduced early to French Impressionist art and in turn introduced it to her husband, who had up to that point collected mostly Asian ceramics, bronzes and textiles. They went on to develop an early and significant collection of French Impressionist paintings which now forms the core of the French Impressionist collection at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Their daughter Electra married J. Watson Webb, a Vanderbilt on his mother's side. Yet when Electra began collecting American arts and crafts, her mother couldn't figure out why she was interested in such rustic 'kitchen furniture.' This later became the remarkable Shelburne Museum in Vermont.

The contributions of this family, represented by the Domino Sugar refinery, go well beyond the short street in Brooklyn named Havemeyer.

Mr Metal,

The development scale of the Domino Sugar site is far too large for Williamsburg to handle. It will add thousands of commuters on the already congested L and local buses.

As a Williamsburg resident I strongly oppose this massive development.

Dear Honorable Members of the New York City Council:

As a part of the New York City community of architects, designers, and urbanists, we recognize that condo developments in upzoned areas have brought enormous benefits to the public through new tax revenues, high-quality architecture, affordable housing, waterfront parks, and remediation of brownfield sites. But as the market has seemed to have been over-saturated by condos and the rental vacancy rate remains unaffected by the inclusionary rezoning process, we are inviting you to consider a new model of development for the Domino Sugar site, one of the great icons of manufacturing in the area of North Brooklyn and, indeed, the United States.

As you may know, Domino was the first sugar company to use branding to sell its products, and it remains one of the most recognizable brands in the country. We believe that the current plan to preserve the landmarked buildings and provide open space, affordable housing, waterfront access, and generous community space is a good start, but we think there can be a more ambitious and visionary approach to this site—and to waterfront development in general—which embraces the history of Domino and uses the site to prove that there is another way.

As a city, we have progressed far beyond the point when we had to beg developers to invest in New York. We are in the unique position of having investors compete for the right to put billions of dollars into complicated sites that require hundreds of millions in infrastructure, even during the worst recession in decades. The Domino site presents an absolutely unparalleled opportunity, and we ask whether its redevelopment according to the same model befits its enormous significance. While we have made great progress, this model still has not lived up to the standards for design and urbanism that the city must aspire to for the next century. The Domino Sugar site is Williamsburg's High Line. It is clear that the market is still supporting well-designed, high-quality architecture and urbanism. These unique sites are opportunities to generate new forms of urbanism and orders of magnitude greater revenue, instead of producing the high volumes of similar units that are now languishing on the market. We believe that Rafael Vinoly is a superb architect capable of great work, but this inclusionary condo model does not permit the creativity and dynamism that could be supported by this architect, this community, this site, or this city. We ask you to send this plan back for revision, to incorporate the care and attention to detail in site planning and land use that it deserves.

As a body empowered with the ability to accept or reject this plan but not, perhaps, to propose a new model of development, we ask you to embrace a new vision. We all remember the terrible plight of New York during the fiscal crisis of the 1970s, and we never want to go back to a time when burning buildings was more profitable than designing new ones. Rejecting a 1.5 billion dollar investment in our city, especially one that is loaded with community benefits, is an ambitious step. It's a vote of confidence in New York City: that we can do better, that we can begin to create a city and an architecture, and a model of urban development that is fitting for a world-class city, a city that embraces its immigrant communities, a city that is in constant transformation as every generation takes hold of it and reshapes it for itself. We ask you to consider the Domino site an example for what can be accomplished in every neighborhood and every district in the city with more attention to detail, more care, more originality, and a greater level of inclusion, not represented by percentages of units, but by a vision that connects to the history of the place and the future of the city. The Domino University plan is the beginning of a process that can begin to impact the core problem that we still face after decades of redevelopment: a rental vacancy rate that remains below three percent. We need new housing in New York City, but not of this kind. It's time to explore a new way, and the Domino site is the place where it can begin to happen.

A Vision for the Future

As architects, designers, urbanists, and city leaders we are constantly volunteering and being asked to imagine new ways of creating spaces and adapting old spaces to new uses. We participate in competitions and design studios, we engage in discussions and write reviews, we look at plans and proposals and give them our approval or disapproval. We are rarely agents of urban development and site programming. But now, with New York City having achieved a unique status as a "superstar" city, we are in a position to create a new model that corresponds to our idea of what a great city should be. A $150 million dollar investment in the High Line produced billions of dollars of value-added real estate investment around it; for a comparable investment in historic preservation and environmental remediation on the Williamsburg waterfront, we can transform Domino into a social, educational, economic, and commercial center for one of the most creative and diverse communities in the world.

The Domino Sugar factory is situated at the base of the Williamsburg Bridge, which connects north Brooklyn to downtown Manhattan. The area is home to many of the city's immigrant communities and a foothold for young migrants from the rest of the country and the world. It is a community filled with entrepreneurs busy inventing software, designing spaces, opening shops, crafting objects, making clothing, producing magazines and newspapers and websites, working in and starting some of the best restaurants, fashion houses, and design firms in the city. They're college graduates turning rooftops into farms, and kitchens into start-up companies selling organic food and creating beautiful and unheard of fusions of ethnic cuisines. They're milling the interiors and industrial designed products and modeling the high-design spaces of Manhattan and the rest of the city and country. They're teaching in the city's expanding universities, creating new musical genres, writing movies, books, and dramas for television. They're performing scientific and medical research, curing diseases, and transforming our ability to live healthy lives.

Instead of taking the profits from market-rate condos and using it to pay investors and fund other market-rate developments, Domino Art City would be a self-sustaining development that nourishes creative and immigrant communities in the city. We propose to redevelop the site in such a way that 70 percent of the 2,200 housing units will be raw live/ work rent-stabilized units freely adaptable by tenants and maintained by a private nonprofit management company. These units would be rented on a preferential basis through a special lottery system to second-generation neighborhood residents unable to afford market-rate rents, past area residents displaced by development, and new under 35-year-old migrants to New York who will apply for artist and immigrant residencies. Another 30 percent of the units will be devoted to supportive housing for at-risk youth aging out of foster care, low-income tenants from other areas of the city, and other groups in need of supportive services, with the help of state and federal funds. The cost of site preparation and historic preservation will be funded by grants, matching funds, and the sale of tax-exempt bonds.

The 140,000 square feet of community space already allocated within the plan will be designed to accommodate the Domino Educational Community, including an elementary school, kitchens for entrepreneurial start-up food companies, an urbanism think-tank and development company that conceives and produces community-based projects, expandable annexes for educational workshops, green urbanism research and training, pilot schools such as Domino University, School of the Future, Trade School, and Public School New York, and a large open raw warehouse space for ad hoc musical and performance events, flea markets, exhibitions, art installations, and other large-scale indoor gatherings.

The area facing the waterfront esplanade would be rented to small-scale businesses and revenue generating recreational facilities, including a large beer-garden, a foodie village, and an amusement park. A part of the facility would be specifically programmed by stakeholders from the Eastern European, Puerto Rican, Italian, and Jewish communities that have made the area their home, along with the West Indian communities to the southeast whose historical relationship to sugar plantations and Domino sugar is particularly important.

This growing, vibrant community would be a part of a new vision for downtown Williamsburg that would extend its benefits to the under-served communities of the JMZ line, extending into Bushwick, Bedford-Stuyvesant, East New York, Brownsville, Cypress Hills, Ridgewood, Middle Village, Woodhaven and Richmond Hill. A new subway stop for the J train at Broadway and Bedford and a reconfigured route that fluidly links it to the commercial and business centers midtown would ease pressure on the L train and support billions of dollars of new investment extending to the east. The subway stop would be integrated with an urban design plan for the transportation infrastructure of downtown Williamsburg, where automobile traffic from the Williamsburg Bridge and the BQE overpass haplessly intersect with the elevated JMZ train, the bus depot, and the pedestrian overpass. This would be integrated with the new landscape design for the BQE trench currently being undertaken by Susannah Drake of Dland Studio.

A series of public forums and short competitions would be held, including an ideas competition for the programming and overall landscape urbanism scheme for the site, an urban design competition for the downtown Williamsburg transportation infrastructure, and then the Domino site would be divided into separate parts to be designed by several different architecture firms to maintain the fine-grained character and diversity of the city.

Towards a Greater City

This project is fine. It's OK. You should vote for it if you want New York to be fine. You should vote against it if you think we can make great neighborhoods. Don't just vote no. Let's start a process by which we can make this project great. Let's form a working group within the city's department of design and construction in cooperation with the NYC Economic Development Corporation that actively develops sites like these in neighborhoods everywhere around the city. Let's create special places that we LOVE and think of with affection. The skills and competency are here. We have great architects. They're doing great projects around the world, designing whole neighborhoods and cities. Let's let them work here too.

We'll form a committee composed of appointees from a couple of neighborhood organizations (NAG and OSA), the head of DDC as a representative of the mayor's office (David Burney), representatives from the council (Diana Reyna and Steve Levin), a development expert (Vishaan Chakrabarti), a representative of the city's Economic Development Corporation, a few architecture experts (James Corner, Mark Robbins), and a representative of the MTA.

We'll hold a 6-week competition for ideas for the Domino site and its relation to the transportation infrastructure of downtown Williamsburg that includes two programs, one for downtown Williamsburg, one for the Domino site. We'll have a well-publicized presentation of the ideas in a large warehouse in Williamsburg and take comments from the community. We'll revise the program according to the best ideas for design, development, and urbanism. We'll invite two short lists of architects, one with urban design, planning, engineering and landscape urbanism expertise, the other with architecture and landscape architecture expertise, to create landscape urbanism designs for the sites. Then we'll take that plan, divide it into separate projects for the housing, waterfront, community space, education, transportation, parks, and other components, and issue RFPs for each of them to be designed by separate teams of architects, landscape architects, and engineers.

Domino University

The link below is a sketch of the initial Domino University proposal on the part of long-time Williamsburg residents and colleagues, Dennis Farr, Ethan Pettit, and Eva Schicker. I think it needs to be expanded and revised and could use the help of professional architects, planners, and developers, but it could be the seed perhaps of a new way of thinking about sites like these that could take advantage of the many other ideas and possibilities out there.

Testimony before the City Council regarding the Rehabilitation and Re-Use of by Domino Sugar Factory Site – June 21, 2010

UHAB fully supports the Community Preservation Corporation's rehabilitation plans for the Domino Sugar site.

We are particularly pleased that 410 units will be rented to people at 30%, 50%, and 60% of the Area Median Income. By nearer and dear to our hearts is the fact that another 150 units will be homeownership units affordable to households at 130% of median. The need for both types of housing, for households in these income ranges, is sorely needed in this City.

There are many other aspects of CPC's proposal that, in our view, represent excellent design and policy decisions. The fact that affordable units will be dispersed throughout the project, and not clustered on particular floors or buildings, embodies the best thinking about how to create a successful mixed income development. We also think the neighborhood will derive significant benefits from the increased access to the waterfront, improved open spaces, and the addition of new commercial and community spaces.

Overall, this project is an example of outstanding design and planning. UHAB urges the City Council to approve it.

Re: Domino Sugar Applications

I was asked by people from the affected area to look at the proposals by the Domino Sugar developers, and comment on them.

It seems that the developers are essentially asking that all of the Zoning requirements for the area be eliminated, so that they have a zone-free canvas to work with. The number of changes, permits, authorizations, and exceptions to the zoning are almost unbelievable.

I went through the listings, and found the following:

- 3 map changes
- Change in regulations for General Large Scale Developments.
- Text changes for 3 sections & appendix for Inclusionary Housing.
- 6 Special Permits'
- An additional Special Permit for uses on the same floor.
- Exceeding parking regulations
- Authorizations for Visual corridor regulations & permitted obstructions in visual corridors
- Phased waterfront development
- Certification re compliance with public access & visual corridor regs.
- Certification re subdivision of waterfront parcel.

In addition it appears they will also be requesting:

- Coastal Zone consistency determination
- Approvals for upgrades & repairs to waterfront platform & bulkhead - from both the U.S. Corps of Engineers & NYS Dept. of Environmental Conservation
- NYS Pollution Discharge Elimination Systems Permit.

This is a formidable list of applications. But what do they mean.

The Authorization for Visual corridors & waterfront public access deals with the fact that the proposed public walkway, required to be 40' wide shrinks to 11'2" at Grand Street.

The authorization on Permitted obstructions in visual corridors & design requirements for Waterfront Access related to the fact that two of the visual corridors are obstructed by parking garages, and that the seating & planting does not comply with the requirements as to number of planting areas and seating, and that they do not comply with the required screening buffer and trees.

The Initial Setback Distance from street & shore walkways does not comply with the zoning - The base height is in excess, from 8' to 279'. Maximum height is an increase from 9' to 200'. The proposal for towers is in excess of 19,400 to 37,400 sq. ft.

The addition to the original landmarked Domino Sugar building would be 9,870 sq. ft. over what is permitted.

Along the shoreline, buildings would exceed the current zoning regulations by from 80' to 140' in height.

The minimum 60' required space between windows in an inner court would be reduced by 3'6" to 10'.

The required size of rear yards would vary and not completely conform to requirements. The distance between two buildings on the same lot will not comply.

The proposal exceeds the permitted parking per the regulations.

In addition to the various changes above, the proposal also is planning to transfer development rights from one parcel to another. As you are aware, transfers of this type may increase the size of developments by shifting bulk from one site to another inappropriately.

In the appeals by the developer, he states that this building is not out of character with the adjoining areas. However, even he says that most of the surrounding area consists of 2 to 6 stories buildings, although he does cite one 150' tall structure. However, his lowest buildings range from 60' to 150' with the waterfront parcels ranging from 300 to 400' tall. Views to the water and waterfront are confined to view corridors between the high rise buildings.

It is not clear from the proposal whether the "open space" would be available to the general public or only to residents of the buildings on the site. They mention that there are not the required number of benches for seating, but state that people can always sit on the grass.

The applicant also does not seem to feel that the project would create any problems for the area. I am not a traffic expert so I will leave comments about the large number of new cars that will be using the parking garages and what effect this will have on the traffic here.

However, I am a member of the Social Services Committee on CB#2 Manhattan, and I am aware of the lack of enough school spaces that we have. With the large number of units that will be coming here, I don't see any plan for accommodating the families and children that will be moving into the area. In addition, health facilities are also becoming a problem, with hospitals closing or cutting back.

I have heard various complaints ~~xxx~~ already about the crowded subways in this area, and with the further cutbacks in service, this has not been adequately addressed.

Except for the applicant's ascertainment that the project is great, he gives no good reason why you should be approving all these zoning changes and Special Permits and Certifications. The project is much too large and out of character for the area.

If this project came to me when I was head of the Zoning Committee, I would have laughed at the applicant and turned it down immediately.

Re: Domino Sugar application

I understand there are many people here today who support this project because it promises "moderate price housing." I pulled some ads for "moderate price housing" and it largely depends on what area is chosen as the area on which the price is taken. Sample rents & income levels are shown below.

Clinton 2008

50% of median income - $502 for studio
$535 for 1 bedroom
$650 for 2 bedroom

40% of median income - $384 studio
$408 for 1 bedroom
$498 for 2 bedroom

Wall St. area 2008

$671 for studio
$678 for 1 bedroom

The Bronx 1/17/10

$783 for 1 bedroom
$944 for 2 bedroom
$1,091 for 3 bedroom

Midtown 2008

$856 studio
$916 for 1 bedroom
$1,103 for 2 bedroom

Lower Manhattan 2007

$1,993 for 1 bedroom
$2,392 for 2 bedroom

If your income is lower than Income Range shown, you also don't qualify.

DOMINO SUGAR PLAN

Re: Affordable Housing - based on Area Medium Income. What area?
What is the figure? On site?

What are rents for "at or below 30%" (99 units)
"at or below 60%" (330 units) changed
"At or below 50%" - seniors (99 units)
"NYC Housing Partnership Program rents (132 units)
(up to 130% of AMI)

660 units or 720 units?

Upland block - 163 affordable units. 150

Rents as per ad 1/17/10 (Bronx) - 1 bedroom $783 monthly, 2 bedroom $944, 3 bedroom $1091, based on AMI in Bonx. Based on wages shown, this would be more than 1 weeks salary.

Refinery addition - stated addition would reflect industrial nature of building - See photos S-9 and S-11 - addition and adjacent buildings are not the masonry style of Domino Sugar Landmark building.

Below grade parking - 1302 to 1694 spaces - on waterfront. Ground water level 6 to 24' below grade.

Page S-14 - Approvals may also be necessary for allocation of funds for affordable housing.

If "No Action" re zoning, Refinery complex would remain vacant due to redevelopment costs? Why? Applicant has only proposed one possible arrangement of uses for Site. Former Navy Yard is being re-used.

Indirect residential displacement - new high income population. leads to displacement since landlords refuse to renew leases, harass tenants, and use courts and provisions in the laws to vacate buildings.

Language requires 20% of floor area as affordable, not units.

Re: Schools - (S-20) How were number of new students arrived at? New school proposed with 738 seats, new students 696 + 288 = 984 + 336 high school students. S-21 cites mediation of problem, but where?
If it is not adopted, what then? Child care facilities already overcrowded and 128 new children coming.

Health care facilities - "negligible increase in need"? Based on what information?

Shadows on Grand Ferry Park - how come more shadows mid-day when sun is high than morning and afternoon?

"Relatively modest increase in demand for solid waste handling"? 2200 more residential units, plus commercial & community facility?

9 years of construction - 2011 to 2020. Disruption of area.

Re Transportation - 25% of construction workers via transit, not cars or trucks. 5% on foot. What will be total ~~of~~ workers?

* Re: "Reduced density alternative" - 2200 units reduced by 549 - 1/4 less. 720 affordable units reduced by 350 - 1/2 less. Greater loss of affordable units than total units.

"R-8 zoning similar to adjacent areas" - Adjacent areas are mostly R6 with some R7 - lower FAR than R8.

6093 new units unrelated to project - because ~~of~~ recent rezoning?

New buildings masonry and glass at upper levels. This is not what they look like in photos (Figure S-11)

Parking - why is there ~~more~~ more of a shortfall from 9 AM-10 AM weekdays and 9 PM to 11 PM Sat.?

"Reduced Density Alternative" by developer - Upland would be FAR 3.44 instead of 2.42 FAR, thus more residential or other uses. (S-51) Why greater percentage of affordable housing than overall units.

I-12-18
4 pages of required changes to Map or texts, Special Permits, authorizations, certifications, Approvals from U.S. Army Corps of Engineers & NYS Dept. of Environmental Conservation, plus approvals from NYS Housing Preservation & Development, Dept. of Environmental Protection, Dept. of Transportation, Landmarks Preservation Comm., Dept. of Parks & Recreation, School Construction Authority, Housing Development Corp., ~~NYS Dept. of DEC~~, USA Corps of Engineers, State Housing Protection Office. With all of these changes, permits, etc. this will set a precedent for other developers to request them.

Property was purchased in June 2004, 5-1/2 years ago, and it is still sitting there. Why was action not taken earlier? With the economy as it is now, is there any guarantee that anything will be built?

Illustrative figures - Domino vs. background buildings. Won't the landmark be buried behind the high rise buildings on either side?

"Existing Industrial uses (3-1) already co-exist with residential uses on adjacent blocks" - so why must Domino not have industrial uses?

Greenpoint-Williamsburg rezoning - also creates a wall along the river. That is the only R8 in the general area. High rise along the river has normally been opposed, lower rise buildings are preferred along the waterway. Only real access to the ~~river~~ river is by the streets.

"M3 in the area, not adversely affects the area." Why would this one? M3 surrounds the project site.

There is a Study Area map (after 3-3) but no use chart. So you can't tell the uses in the buildings in the ~~vicinity~~ vicinity of the site.

Southside (area adjacent to site) - Uses include warehousing, industrial uses, residential 3 to 6 stories high, retail, churches, 2 schools, firehouse, parks & playgrounds.

Northside - Industrial, residential, retail, open space, parks, light manufacturing, warehousing.

So. Williamsburg - separated from site by Bridge - residential plus large industrial, vacant land and buildings. Residential projects.

Study Area Zoning Districts, Table 3-1 - No MX or M3-1 listed.

Area is adjacent to Industrial Business Zone - assistance to industrial businesses. given.

Current M3 north and east of site - no effect on Proposed Project. per report.

Indirect displacement - due to upward rent pressure - landlords can get higher rents so refuse to renew leases, harass tenants, use loopholes in law to evict. So local coffee shop is replaced by Starbucks, stationary store is replaced by Staples. No small shops to buy things like thread, buttons, greeting cards, etc.

Testimony of Community Council President Philip DePaolo

for the former Domino Sugar Factory Subject: CEQR Application #: CEQR No. 07DCP094K;

This testimony, submitted before the expiration date of public testimony of June, 21 2010, is hereby endorsed by The New York Community Council

My Name is Philip DePaolo, President of The New York Community Council. Thank you for this opportunity to provide testimony today. The New York Community Council is a Citywide volunteer organization that works for a more just, equitable, and sustainable city for all New Yorkers by helping communities to plan for and realize their future. I have also called Williamsburg my home since 1979.

The New Domino Sugar proposal includes 660 units of claimed affordable housing reserved for families with incomes of $23,040 dollars up to $99,840 dollars.

The current AMI for Brooklyn CB1 is $35,300 dollars.

Using the Envisioning Development toolkit we found that only 100 units are affordable to a majority of residents living in Brooklyn CB1. Even the 310 units of housing at $46,080 dollars are out of reach to over 60% of residents in Brooklyn CB1.

The 150 for sale housing units for families earning 99,840 dollars would be offered at 130% of ami. CPCR/KATAN want precious taxpayer dollars to pay for the units but they do not want to offer the units at the levels under IZ that begin at 80% of AMI and cap at 125%.

The 100 units reserved for seniors making up to 50 percent of the area median income is out of reach to most low income seniors facing displacement.

The DEIS also states that 181 units of housing would be lost displacing 570 residents due to indirect displacement. All the units the DEIS claims will be lost are all in one census tract.

The DEIS states that all alternative plans would substantially fail to meet the project's principal goal of providing a substantial amount of affordable housing, but how do we know this. CPCR/KATAN have never shown how much things costs, what subsidies they want to receive and what kind of for profit return they expect.

A report prepared by HPD shows that CPCR/KATAN could earn a net profit between $382 and $447 million (with a return of cost at 42 to 50 percent) if they develop along the scale as planned.

The 2005 rezoning anticipated 5,544 new residential units on the Williamsburg and Greenpoint waterfront. The Domino rezoning would increase the potential number of waterfront housing units by 43%.

The proposed development would result in just under 4 acres of publicly-accessible open space.

But even with this new open space, when all the new residents are accounted for, the community winds up with less open space per resident that we have now. About 6% less within the half-mile study area according to the EIS.

The New Domino would be a significant development with a major impact on schools, police, fire and transportation. Mitigation for these issues was not properly addressed in the EIS.

Domino is proposing a 14-story building on S3rd and Wythe.

When a developer sought a variance in 2005 to develop the site across the street from Domino, they asked for 19 stories. The community said no, and ultimately BSA approved 5 stories.

Overall, Domino is proposing a density of development dramatically larger than the 2005 rezoning both upland and on the water. The main supporters of the rezoning, Churches United for fair housing leader Esteban Duran wrote to a local paper on April 30th that, "If the City had listened to us and built higher buildings further inland on the Broadway Triangle area I would be right by your side asking for lower heights on the Domino site. But the fact is that the City behaved in a racist fashion in limiting the PUBLIC LAND in the Triangle to lower heights. So it seems that the supporters of the New Domino also know this project is too big.

Last week Architect, planner, and educator Alexander Garvin who calls himself pro-development and is proud of his work steering the Lower Manhattan Development Corporation and serving as managing director of the NYC 2012 Olympics effort made some interesting comments regarding major planning at a forum called Conversations on New York. He stated that, "There's no consistent relationship between what can be built around various subway stations.

"If you look at large proposed developments-if you don't have open space or infrastructure to support the increase [in density], you shouldn't be increasing [it]."

We agree, Community concerns regarding infrastructure, density, public safety and neighborhood identity have been ignored. The New York Community Council cannot support this application and we request that the City Council follow the request of our local community board and the Boro Presidents recommendations regarding the reduction of density on the waterfront and inland, the increase of affordable housing that is within the community's ami and proper mitigation to the issues raised by the EIS.

FACT SHEET

Transportation Alternatives (T.A.) is a 8,500 member 501(c)(3) non-profit, non-partisan advocacy organization working for better biking, walking and public transit in New York City.

Through New York City's continuous evolution, as buildings are rebuilt, redesigned and newly created, great opportunity exists for the private sector to contribute towards a more sustainable urban landscape through good design and development. While "green building" materials and sustainable design help conserve natural resources and energy, the prioritization of car-share, bicycles and public transit by a developer can reduce traffic, enable more people to ride bicycles and achieve a greener and healthier city.

On the specific issue of off-street parking, Transportation Alternatives believes that it should be limited as much as possible in New York City. Our position is based on the following ideas:

Minimum Parking Requirements Make Driving Cheap and Building Expensive

Minimum parking requirements are based on the premise that parking should be free. But building parking is expensive. Its cost is absorbed by everyone, whether they drive or not. Parking minimums are effectively a subsidy for driving. They make using a car cheaper and shift costs from motorists to builders and the public. As detailed in PlaNYC, parking consumes space better used for housing, businesses, and green space.

Parking Encourages Driving: If You Build It, They Will Drive

There is an overwhelming body of research and evidence proving that the availability of free and low-cost parking is the biggest factor influencing people to drive instead of taking transit, walking or cycling.

- In Guaranteed Parking, Guaranteed Driving (2008), University of Pennsylvania Professor Rachel Weinberger showed that the city's residential off-street parking requirements exceed existing off-street parking demand. As a result, new residences built under the existing zoning code will have far more parking than existing residences. There is no evidence to suggest that reducing off-street parking requirements would lead to less development, lower growth or other negative consequences.
- In Free Parking Congested Streets (2007) and Necessity or Choice (2006) Bruce Schaller showed that 90% of motorists entering the CBD have an easy transit alternative; city workers with free parking drive at twice the rate of others.
- A 2007 Transit Cooperative Research Program study found that transit oriented developments with lower parking requirements produce less driving.
- A 2005 San Francisco State study of medium and high density housing in San Francisco found each residential parking spot generates several vehicle trips per week, and residences with more parking generate more parking trips.
- A 2001 study by Daniel Hess of UCLA showed that a small increase in parking charges in Portland, OR reduced single occupant driving by 20%.
- New York City zoning regulations mandating parking at new residential developments will increase auto ownership rates and add over 1 billion annual vehicle miles traveled (VMT) by 2030. This is 40% to 50% more than if the City were to maintain its existing rate of car ownership. (A billion VMT is equivalent to 8 months of traffic in Manhattan south of 60th Street.)

Susan Silberman

Opposed to this development for so many reasons. It's just an ill-conceived plan.

The community cannot support such a massive construction site. And that's what it will be for 10 years. Wythe Ave. has already become a parking lot certain times of day now that Kent has become one-way. I can imagine once construction begins on 40-story towers, people will want to avoid Kent Ave. and that will send more traffic through our small neighborhood streets. Williamsburg ~~is~~ not ~~designed~~ ~~this~~ designed to handle this congestion.

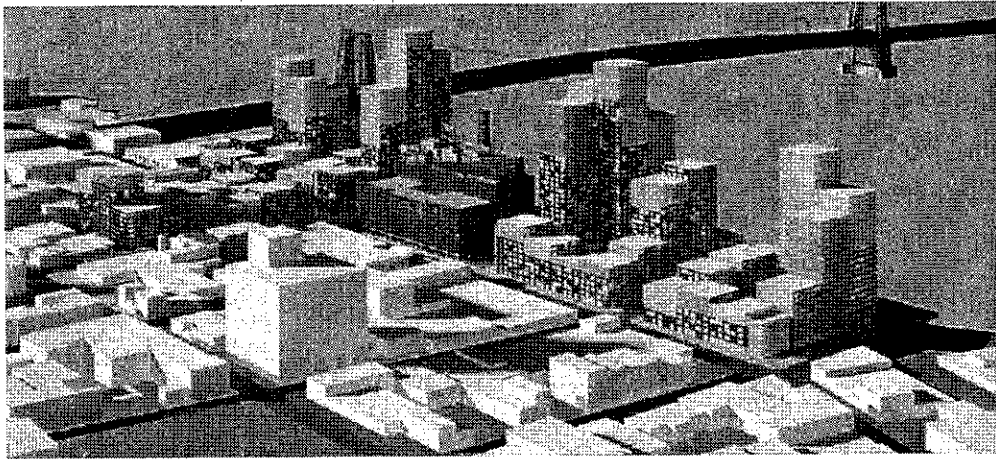

— There is all this talk about open space. I call seeing the sky open space, not being put in the shade by 40-story towers open space.

Other important points I would like to include are the promises that the MTA will add extra trains to accommodate the increase in riders. In the news lately, we keep hearing about all the cuts the MTA is making to close their 400 million dollar gap. Is Williamsburg really a priority for the MTA?

They are making an awful lot of promises with this development. What if they don't deliver? Where does that leave the community? I urge you to take into consideration all the ~~for~~ and not allow this greedy and ill-conceived plan

Re: Objection to Bulk, Density and Overdevelopment of the Domino Sugar Site

Dear Council Members,

Thank you for listening to the concerns of the residents in the area surrounding the Domino Sugar development site.

My name is Steven Frankel and I'm a resident of Williamsburg and have lived a block away from the Domino site for the last 15 years.

I support the idea of doing something with the site and opening up the waterfront to the public. I also support affordable housing. I do wish there could be a more visionary and powerful way to transform this historic and significant piece of Williamsburg beyond building more condos. I think there has been a real lost opportunity here.

My biggest issue with the new Domino is the immense and unprecedented height and density which is being proposed. FAR and building heights may seem abstract but the results are not abstract and I'm not just talking about the impact of 8,000 new residents on already overburdened infrastructure

The upland site with its 14 story tower in a 6 story zone is almost triple the density allowed its neighbors. Recently city planning determined that the contextual height of buildings in this area is 6 stories. Just two years ago, the BSA determined that an almost identical site directly north of this upland site was in a four story context and could not build above four stories. Was City Planning and the BSA wrong? How can we now say it's ok to build 14 stories, every new upland development is now going to point to this building as the new context – this is going to be a huge headache.

Regarding the waterfront site, the rezoning of Edge and Northside Piers with 30 story towers and FAR of 4.7 was a lot more than the community board originally wanted – we were given the impression that the envelope had been pushed as far as it could go. Domino, with it's 40 story towers and FAR of 5.9 for the waterfront make these developments look modest. In addition, the Kent Avenue frontage has been zoned for 6 story buildings for reasons of light and air and neighborhood context– Domino proposes 10 story structures along these narrow sidewalks.

Although there are streets and real connections to the water in the Domino plan, the overall effect of the huge dense building mass is like a wall between the water and the Community.

I urge the planning Commission to hold the developers to the same regulations regarding bulk and height as the other waterfront developments. This project will set the benchmark for all future development and zoning – let's make sure we get things right and set the right precedents.

Don't supersize Domino.

Thank you,

Steven Frankel

STATEMENT

My name is Gregory Barsamian. In the early 80s I personally renovated four abandon buildings on Grand st near Kent ave. I object to the development of the Domino Sugar site as planned. I have lived here since 1983. In that time a community was built from the ashes of industrial flight. The right of communities to have some input into their development was established with the 197 A plan. The Domino development completely disregards the will of the community and as planned will place massive burden on not only the existing residents of the neighborhood but also on the proposed residents.

No thought has been given to our lacking infrasturcture. How for instance will Kent and Wythe ave , already impacted with traffic, withstand the increase. How with the J, M and L trains be able to handle any increase in ridership. How will the residents deal with the power plant smoke stack just a hundred feet from proposed residential towers. How will we deal with the decrease in open space...the decrease in sunlight and the increase in polution. What will happen to our Grand Ferry Park, already suffering from the adjacent power plant, when the sheer wall of a massive building is placed on top of it.....creating a wind tunnel!

Why, most importantly is our zoning being disregarded in a dangerous precedent setting rush to profit.

Our neighborhood is not a blank slate. What you write on it impacts generations of people to come. Creating Manhattan level population densities in a small Brooklyn neighborhood might be good planning for developers who will profit and never have to deal the mess they created but it is bad planning and for long time residents who naively thought they could put down roots, rebuild a devastated neighborhood and live in peace.

Ten years of heavy construction and hoards of newcomers without the infrastructure for them may seem like progress to you but it's hell for us.

I strongly urge the city council to revisit this plan and reduce it to a level in accord with our zoning guidelines.

Sincerely,

Gregory Barsamian

TRANSPORTATION DILEMMA

TRIP HOSMER'S
STATEMENT

The L train is the transportation live-blood of Williamsburg. According to the Domino Group, additional trains can be added to the line to "increase capacity" to accommodate the great number of residents from the Domino Project who will use this subway line. Factually, Domino is correct. Additional trains will add capacity. But this will in no way increase the efficiency of using the already overburdened L-line. In fact, it will create a serious public safety issue.

Firstly, the planning and furnishing of additional trains is determined by the MTA and not by a real-estate developer. Given the serious MTA financial crunch, additional trains will not be available for quite a number of years. And any monies for additional trains will be budgeted for the new 2nd Avenue Subway project.

Secondly, The L train is a two-track line with no 3rd express track to facilitate additional capacity. There are 3 critical transfer stations in Manhattan: Union Square, 6th Avenue and 8th Avenue (terminus). Once a train reaches 8th Avenue, it is either directed to the North track or the South track, whichever is unoccupied. There is no 3rd track nor loop.

The turnaround time at the terminus is important. There are 3 components for the turnaround time: discharging passengers upon arrival, accepting passengers for the return trip and waiting for the next arriving train to position itself to the North or South tracks before it departs. The entire turnaround process is, at best under ideal situations, 10 minutes which is a logistical, and more importantly, public safety issue. As a result, additional trains will result in extensive back-ups all along the L-line well into Brooklyn with more passengers waiting in trains underground. The L-train can barely handle the current commuting Williamsburg population without any subway car breakdowns or emergencies.

Furthermore, as everyone knows, any basic maintenance on the L train during the weekends in which only one track is utilized, is a major issue. Imagine the problem with an additional 6000+ residents!

FLOOD ZONE CLASSIFICATION

The proposed location of the Domino Project is in a NYC government designated flood zone. (I stress NYC government since this classification just doesn't come from some non-affiliated, non-governmental environmental guru, but an official government designation). During a flood or simply the forecasted threat of a flood situation, evacuation and/or assistance from/to a densely populated mini-city will be a logistical nightmare, another serious public safety issue.

Using this fire & water theme, furthermore, the closing of the firehouse on Wythe Avenue will not enable sufficient firefighters to respond to emergencies at the massive Domino complex with sufficient resources and in a timely manner, a serious public safety issue.

An added 6000+ residents attempting to evacuate a densely populated area serviced exclusively by narrow roads will create a public safety nightmare.

My name is Brandon Cole and I've lived on Williamsburg's South Side since 1984. I expressed strong opposition to ~~CPCR's planned development of the Domino site~~ at our community board 1 meetings; I spoke against CPCR before the Borough President; I spoke against CPCR at the City Planning Commission; and I am here to speak against CPCR today.

I will be brief, I promise you I will be brief because I stand here as a representative of the 33rd district and I stand here to show my strong support for our City Councilman Steve Levin. And I will be brief because while I made my statement to Borough President Markowitz, he yawned; and while I made my statement to Planning Commissioner Burden she thumbed through the cards in front of her to see how many more people like me she had to listen to.

I have learned something from this land-use review process: be brief.

My question, respectfully, to this council is: What has CPCR learned?

Has CPCR learned that transparency in financial transactions is critical?

No, CPCR refuses to open its books.

Has CPCR learned ~~that their proposed~~ development is too high and too dense? No, CPCR wants greater density.

Has CPCR learned that the South Side's infrastructure is overburdened and further development needs to be directly connected to infrastructure improvement? No, CPCR talks vaguely about water taxis.

Has CPCR learned that unregulated arrogant developers create serious problems for our city as happened with Peter Cooper Village and The Riverton Houses? No, CPCR, like these other developers, says it knows better.

CPCR says it knows better than the residents most directly affected by its ~~proposed~~ development; CPCR says it knows better than Community Board 1; CPCR says it knows better than the Brooklyn Borough President because CPCR has accepted few to none of the changes requested during this review process.

And CPCR knows better than City Councilman Steve Levin, State Assemblyman Vito Lopez and State Assemblyman Joe Lentol.

CPCR says it just knows better.

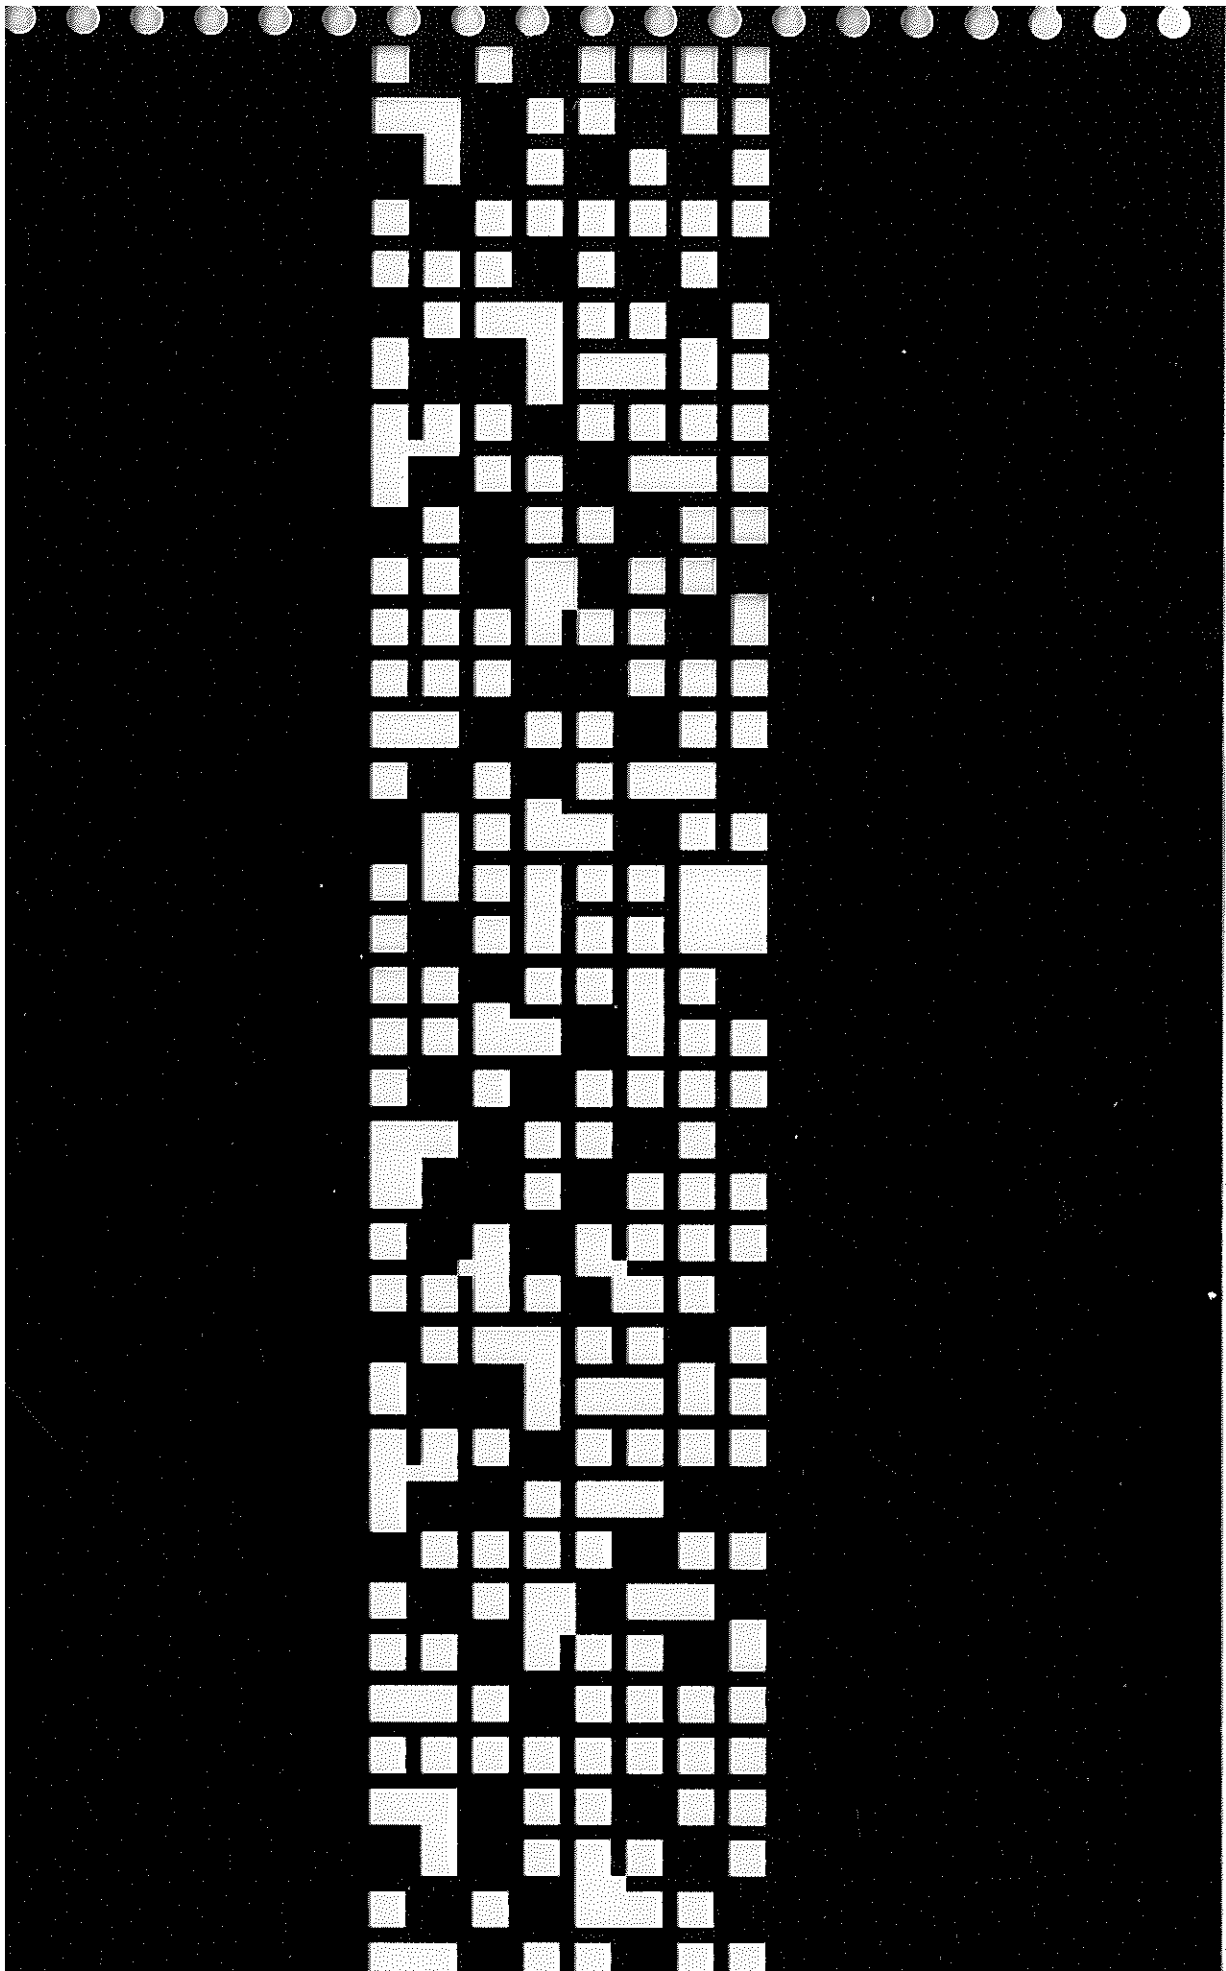

It is time for CPCR to be told by City Council: You do not know better. You will not do what you please on the historical Brooklyn waterfront. You will work with the residents of Williamsburg's South Side through their Community Board and you will listen to their elected representatives.

It is time for CPCR to be told by City Council: You will submit to governance and work with the elected representatives to reach a solution to the problems that have been raised.

It is time for CPCR to be told by City Council: You will submit to governance and work with the elected representatives or your request for extraordinary zoning changes <sup>and special permits</sup> will be denied.

I urge this council to tell CPCR: Now make a deal. There's more important issues before the City Council than your Domino Development. Serious objections have been raised about your proposed development: figure out how to solve these problems and make a deal.

I thank the Council for its kind attention.

CPC Resources, Inc. (CPCR) is the for-profit development subsidiary of The Community Preservation Corporation (CPC), a not-for-profit mortgage lender, founded in 1974 by a group of business leaders and financial institutions to try and stem the tide of deterioration and abandonment that threatened communities in New York City such as Washington Heights in Manhattan and Crown Heights in Brooklyn. Since its inception, CPC has invested $7.4 Billion in the revival and stabilization of entire neighborhoods and over 137,000 homes.

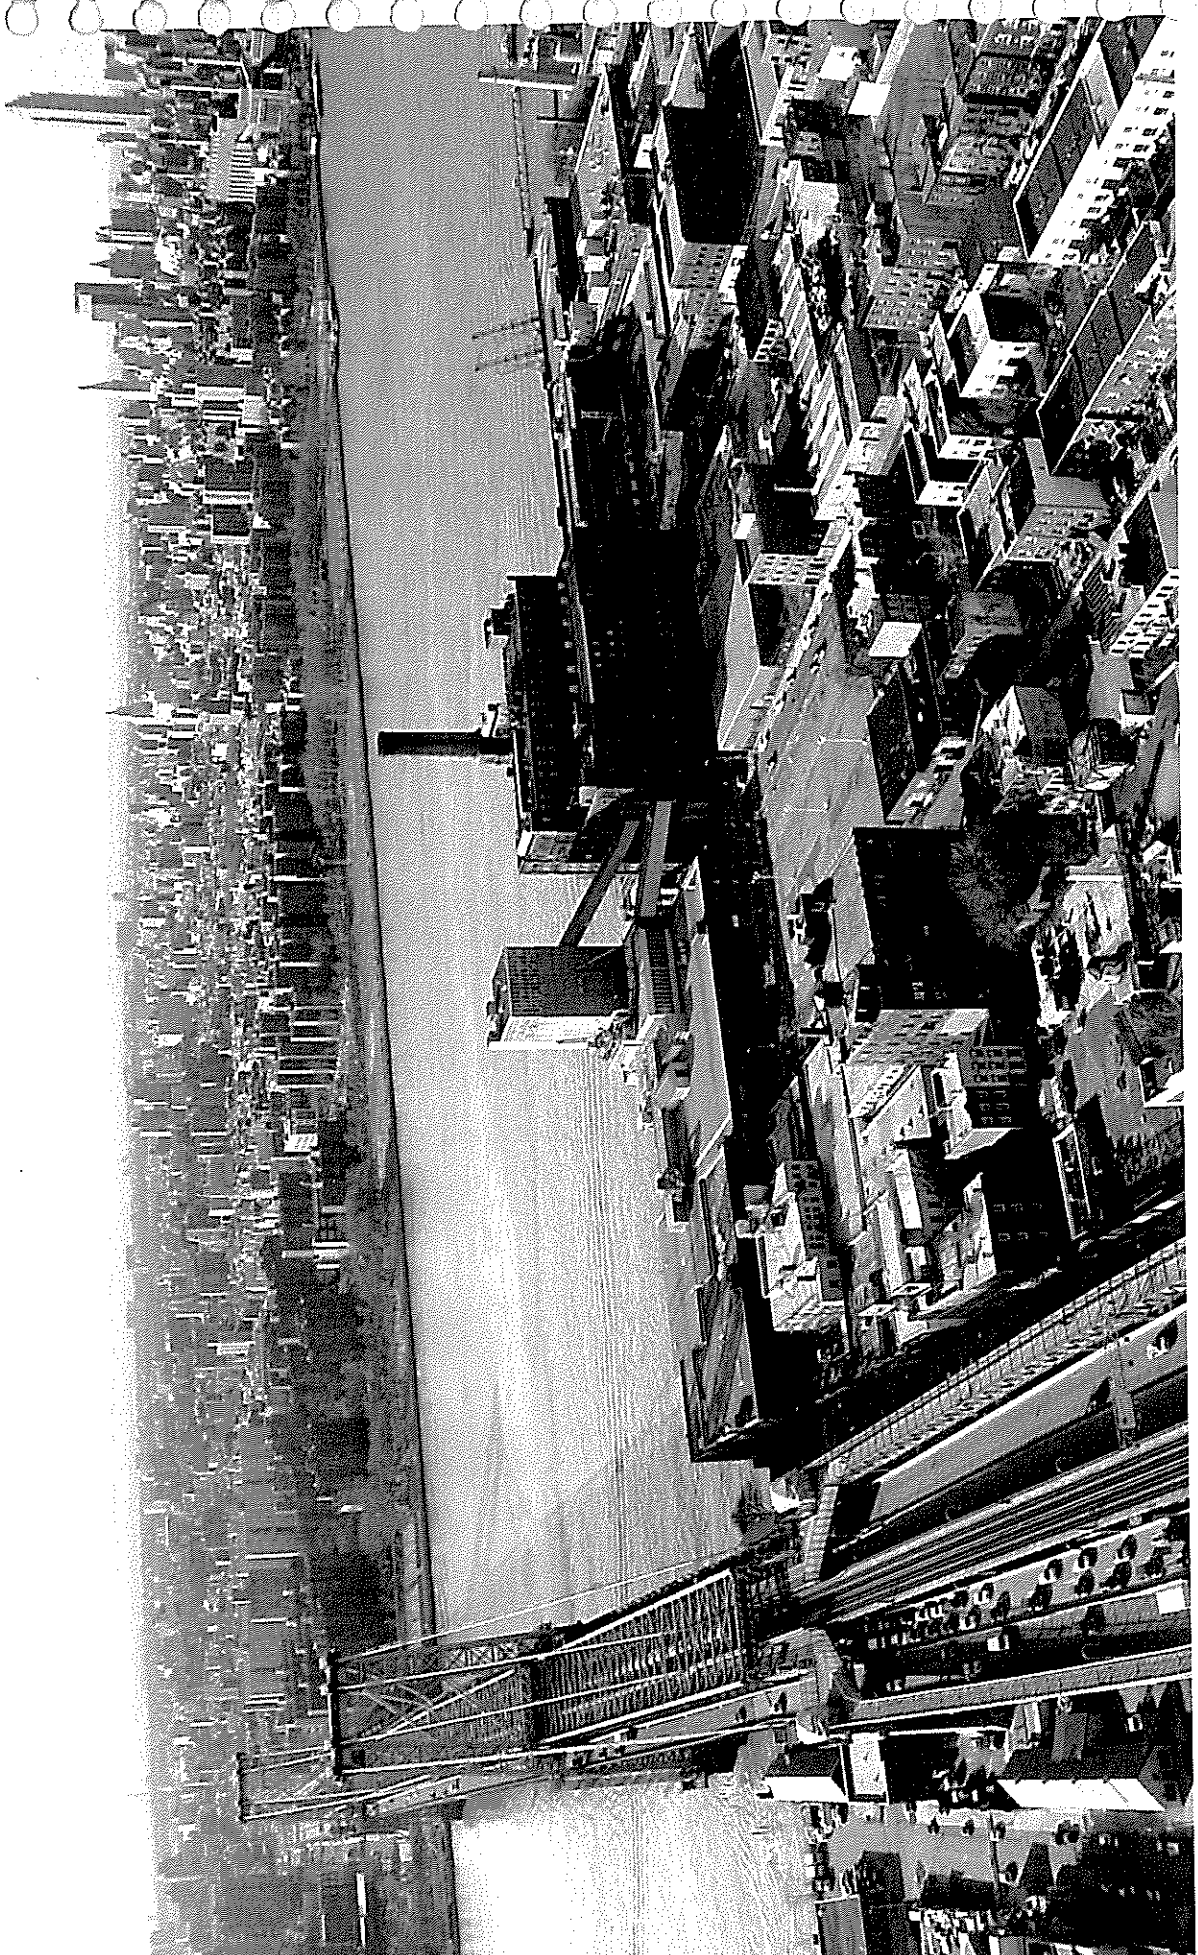

Founded in 1992, CPCR shares the mission of its parent to improve communities by stabilizing the existing housing stock and building new housing affordable to a wide range of income levels including very low income individuals. It has been a vital force in community development. Its largest undertaking was the rescue and renovation of the 12,271-unit Parkchester Condominiums in the East Bronx. This sprawling complex, which is home to nearly 40,000 residents, was in severe decline before CPC Resources stepped in with two other developers to undertake its massive redevelopment. Today, Parkchester is thriving again with substantial increases in apartment values and in overall quality of life.

CPC's and CPCR's top priority has been and will continue to be to preserve, improve and expand the affordable housing stock in New York.

The New Domino will be an extraordinary new development on the 11.2-acre site of the former Domino Sugar site. The project provides a rare opportunity to build new, permanently affordable housing for 660 families, which represents 30% of the project's apartments.

In addition to 660 units of affordable housing, the project includes the following exceptional features:

- Over four acres of new public parks
- Access to the waterfront from all neighborhood streets
- Preservation of the former Refinery complex
- Community facility space, office space, and new retail stores – including a supermarket to serve the entire community
- Over 1,000 new permanent jobs and hundreds of construction jobs each year over the course of the development
- 500 neighborhood residents will receive job training, and additional job opportunities will be available as building service workers
- Underground parking facilities
- Spectacular design
