Distinguished Council Men and Women
and honored guests,
it is a privilege and honor to be here before you today to do this Invocation.

Let us bow our heads, please.

Heavenly Father,
Our Father who art in heaven,
as we gather today
on the threshold of the new year,
let us join in unity,
transcending the turbulence of global conflicts,
anchoring our focus on fortifying
the bonds within our community.
Let us foster an environment
of unwavering solidarity,
keeping fervent prayers for global peace
while dedicating ourselves to contemporary and proactive solutions
as we address the challenges that have plagued our municipality.

Our Father, consider our city,
a tapestry of diversity and ambition,
[which] faces entrenched issues that demand our collective resolve from homelessness to the pursuit of affordable housing;
from battling domestic abuse
to innovative mental and health resources;
from education reforms to nurturing safe spaces for our unattended children;
from violence and thoughtfulness
to assisting our seniors;
and empowering low income families
with healthy food options;
and opportunities for the creation of new small businesses.
These are not merely just hurdles,
but rather these are calls to action demanding our united efforts.

In these Chambers,
where decisions mold our City's destiny,
our gratitude extends to our Mayor,
Borough Presidents, and dedicated Council Members.
Also, to the newly elected officials,
your responsibility to champion truth
guided by morality and love is both an honor and sacred duty
as you represent your constituents.
Let our actions today, and in the coming year,
be guided by an unwavering commitment to morality, ethics, and love.

Our faith based organizations:
let us set aside differences and stand together ecumenically laboring with our communities,
casting aside cultural divides and biases,
embarking together on the pursuit of common purpose,
as we look forward possessing an unbreakable unity surpassing the dividing and fostering an atmosphere where progress thrives.

Oh, Heavenly Father, with humility and with faith,
we invoke divine guidance upon this meeting,
may decisions be made in decency and in order,
echoing the voice of compassion and justice for all.
Let unity prevail over division,
love over hate, peace over conflict,
as we speak these aspirations into existence,
invoking blessings in the name of the Holy Son,
my Lord and Savior and the Savior of others,
Jesus Christ, we pray,
Amen.

REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES

Report of the Committee on Civil and Human Rights

Report for Int. No. 632-A

Report of the Committee on Civil and Human Rights in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to prohibiting housing discrimination on the basis of criminal history.

The Committee on Civil and Human Rights, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on August 11, 2022 (Minutes, page 2014), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Civil and Human Rights, chaired by Council Member Nantasha Williams, held a vote on Proposed Introduction No. 632-A, sponsored by Council Member Keith Powers, in relation to prohibiting housing discrimination on the basis of criminal history. The Committee heard a previous version of the bill on December 8, 2022. Testimony from those in attendance at hearing, as well as ongoing feedback, has informed the amendments to these bills. The bill passed with 5 votes in the affirmative, 0 votes in the negative and no abstentions.

II. BACKGROUND

a. Housing stability and public safety

In 2022, over 1.5 million people were incarcerated in federal or state prisons in the United States—a population four times larger than in 1980.¹ This has left one in three people in the United States with a criminal record.² Members of marginalized communities such as communities of color, LGBTQIA+, and those with histories of mental illness are disproportionately incarcerated.³ In New York, 2.3 million people have a criminal record of some kind⁴ and approximately 750,000 New York City residents have a criminal conviction.⁵ Where criminal background checks are required as part of tenant application processes, these individuals can struggle to find housing.

The societal barriers to reintegration created by prior justice involvement implicate intersectional and structural inequities.⁶ For example, while Black Americans make up about 13 percent of the U.S. population, they are incarcerated at a rate of 2,306 per every 100,000 people.⁷ Comparably, white people in the United States are incarcerated at a rate of 450 per every 100,000 people.⁸ As it stands, Black people make up 38 percent of the prison or jail population in the U.S., despite only making up 13 percent of the overall population in the country.⁹ New York, in particular, has an incarceration rate of 443 per 100,000 people.¹⁰ While Black and Latinx people represent 16 percent and 18 percent of New York's population, respectively, they are incarcerated at a disproportionate rate of 53 percent and 22 percent.¹¹ Furthermore, socioeconomic background also appears to play a role in the rate of incarceration.

Inequities in the justice system subsequently translate into housing inequities.¹² Nationwide, formerly incarcerated people are ten times as likely to become homeless after release from jail or prison as those without a criminal record.¹³ Nearly three times as many are housing insecure, meaning that they only have access to “marginal” housing options that require frequent moves.¹⁴ A recent survey of formerly incarcerated people and their families found that 79 percent of participants were denied housing due to either their own or a loved one's criminal record.¹⁵ In New York City, 11 percent of single adults entering shelters cite release from jail or prison as the reason for their homelessness and more than 40 percent of those returning from state prisons—over 22,000 individuals—were released directly to shelters between 2015 and 2021.¹⁶ Other New Yorkers who have served their time are kept in the correctional system beyond their scheduled release dates because they are unable to find a place to live.¹⁷

For individuals exiting the justice system, a lack of stable housing creates a formidable barrier to reintegration and can perpetuate the cycle of criminality if not addressed. Poverty and lack of access to housing are among the strongest predictors of recidivism.¹⁸ The inverse is also true: interventions that provide housing have been shown to reduce recidivism.¹⁹ For example, a study by the Urban Institute found that access to stable housing reduced recidivism by 40%; similarly, after Milwaukee County, Wisconsin instituted a stable housing policy for individuals exiting prison, the county documented an 82% decrease in municipal violations.²⁰

b. Preventing discrimination in housing

The use of criminal background checks in evaluating tenants, while widespread among private housing providers, has not been shown to be useful in predicting tenant success.²¹ Studies have also shown that criminal and credit background checks can produce false, unverified, incomplete, or misleading information and may show sealed, expunged, or obsolete records.²² In addition, housing providers often reject applicants on the basis of conclusory background checks that recommend denial without providing access to the underlying records or information that led to that recommendation.²³ At the same time, many landlords report that they would consider a potential tenant with a prior conviction if shown evidence of rehabilitation or other mitigating information.²⁴

One way to address challenges faced by justice-involved individuals is through the enactment of state or local laws that regulate how criminal records may be considered while requiring individualized evaluations. In 2015, the City Council passed the Fair Chance Act (Local Law 63 of 2015) to increase access to employment opportunities for those with criminal records by requiring employers to evaluate applicants based on other qualifications prior to conducting a criminal background check. This law has enabled job applicants with convictions the opportunity to provide additional context for potential employers when applying for jobs.²⁵ In a similar vein, Int. 632-A would prohibit landlords, real estate brokers or their agents from making any type of criminal history inquiry into an applicant's background until after the applicant has been conditionally approved based on other criteria. San Francisco, Detroit, the District of Columbia, and Cook County in Illinois have all enacted such laws.²⁶ At the state level, New Jersey enacted the Fair Chance in Housing Act, to improve access to housing and reduce recidivism and Colorado restricts owners from reviewing criminal convictions that are older than five years.²⁷ While New York Governor Kathy Hochul has proposed restrictions on criminal background checks in housing, legislation to this effect has not been enacted by the state.²⁸

While there is some variation, these laws generally limit the amount of information that landlords can use when considering an applicant: for example, criminal history that is irrelevant to a tenancy, is significantly old

a. Int. 632-A - A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to prohibiting housing discrimination on the basis of criminal history

This bill amends the City’s Human Rights Law to prohibit housing discrimination on the basis of criminal history in rentals, sales, leases, subleases, or occupancy agreements in New York City, with limited exceptions for certain crimes that are considered “reviewable.” Landlords, owners, agents, employees, and real estate brokers (“covered entities”) would be prohibited from accessing information about an applicant or potential applicant’s criminal history except for this reviewable criminal history, and any criminal background check process must follow the fair housing process outlined in the bill.

The fair housing process requires three stages. First, in the prequalification stage, an applicant is either rejected or receives a conditional offer based on criteria other than criminal history. Second, a covered entity may choose to conduct a background check; in that case, they must first notify the applicant and provide information about the fair housing process. Third, where a covered entity intends to reject or otherwise take adverse action against an applicant based on their reviewable criminal history, the covered entity must provide a copy of the reviewable criminal history that prompted the adverse action and any other information that the covered entity reviewed, and also allow the applicant 5 days to correct any errors in the record or provide additional information in support of their application. If the landlord, owner, agent, or broker still decides to go forward with the adverse action, they must provide a written explanation to the applicant of how the reviewable criminal history would affect a legitimate business interest, and also explain how any additional information provided by the applicant was taken into account.

Reviewable criminal history includes any registered sex offense, whether in New York or in another jurisdiction, as well as any misdemeanor or felony where less than 3 or 5 years, respectively, has passed from the date of release from prison. Where a conviction did not result in incarceration, it would be reviewable for 3 or 5 years after the date of conviction. Reviewable criminal history may never include non-convictions, sealed or expunged convictions, or adjudications for youth offenders or juvenile delinquency. A covered entity may be liable for relying on criminal history other than reviewable criminal history if it failed to take reasonable steps to ensure compliance with this legislation.

Covered entities would be able to take adverse actions against current occupants for reasons other than a person’s arrest record or criminal history, as long as they are complying with laws protecting victims of domestic violence, sex offenses, or stalking. This law does not apply where federal, state, or local laws, rules or regulations require exclusion based on criminal history or require a criminal background check for eligibility. This bill does not apply to two-family owner-occupied housing or rooms in owner-occupied housing. Covered entities would be immune from civil liability stemming solely from acts or omissions in compliance with this law.

This law takes effect January 1, 2025.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. The administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 8-102a to read as follows:

Excludable matters. The term “excludable matters” means:

1. A criminal action that was resolved in favor of an individual, including actions concluded in one of the following ways:

- (a) Termination in favor of the individual;*
- (b) Adjudication as a youthful offender or for juvenile delinquency;*
- (c) Conviction of a violation; or*
- (d) Conviction that has been sealed;*

2. Criminal charges pending for which a court has issued an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal pursuant to sections 170.55, 170.56, 210.46, 210.47, or 215.10 of the New York criminal procedure law, or pursuant to a comparable law of another jurisdiction that is in effect; and

3. A disposition of a criminal matter under federal law or the laws of another jurisdiction that results in a status comparable to what results from an “excludable matter” under New York law.

Pending case. The term “pending case” means a criminal accusation or an arrest based on a criminal accusation that has not yet been adjudicated to a verdict or dismissed at the time the criminal background check or analysis is conducted by a covered entity. An action that has been adjourned in contemplation of dismissal shall not be considered a pending case unless, prior to the time the criminal background check or analysis is conducted by a covered entity the order to adjourn in contemplation of dismissal is revoked and the case is restored to the calendar for further prosecution.

Reviewable criminal history. 1. The term “reviewable criminal history” means:

(a) Any conviction registered on the New York sex offense registry maintained by the state division of criminal justice services pursuant to section 168b of the New York corrections law, on the federal sex offense registry created pursuant to section 20902 of title 34 of the United States code, or on a register in any other jurisdiction for which an individual is required to register as a sex offender;

(b) Any other misdemeanor conviction under the laws of New York or another jurisdiction where less than three years have passed from (a) the date of release from incarceration, or (b) the date of sentencing for an individual who was not sentenced to a period of incarceration;

(c) Any other felony conviction under the laws of New York or another jurisdiction where less than five years have passed from (a) the date of release from incarceration, or (b) the date of sentencing for an individual who was not sentenced to a period of incarceration.

2. However, the term “reviewable criminal history” shall not include:

(a) Convictions that have been sealed, expunged, the subject of an executive pardon, the subject of a certificate of relief from disabilities, or otherwise legally nullified or vacated;

(b) Convictions in another jurisdiction for (i) having sought, obtained, provided, or facilitated reproductive or gender-affirming care, as defined in section 10-184.1 of the administrative code, outside the state of New York under circumstances where the conduct would have been lawful had it occurred in the state of New York; (ii) having engaged in “legally protected health activity” as defined in section 570.17 of the New York criminal procedure law; or (iii) conviction for the possession of cannabis that would not constitute a felony in the state of New York; or

(c) Excludable matters.

§ 2. Subdivision 5 of section 8-107 of title 8 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new paragraph (o) to read as follows:

(o) Protections based on criminal history; housing.

(1) It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for the owner, lessor, lessee, sublessee, assignee, or managing agent of, or other person having the right to sell, rent or lease or approve the sale, rental or lease of a housing accommodation, constructed or to be constructed, or an interest therein, or any agent or employee thereof, or any real estate broker or agent or employee thereof to:

(A) Refuse to sell, rent, lease, approve the sale, rental or lease or otherwise deny to or withhold from any individual such a housing accommodation or an interest therein because of such individual’s criminal history, other than an individual’s reviewable criminal history obtained and considered in conformity with this paragraph;

(B) Discriminate against any individual in the terms, conditions, or privileges of the sale, rental, or lease of any such housing accommodation or an interest therein or in the furnishing of facilities or services in connection therewith, because of such individual’s criminal history;

(C) Represent to any individual that any housing accommodation or an interest therein is not available for inspection, sale, rental, or lease because of such individual's criminal history, except when consideration of such criminal history is permitted by, and the covered entity has complied with, the procedures required under this paragraph;

(D) Declare, print, or circulate, or cause to be declared, printed, or circulated, any statement, advertisement, or publication, or use any form of application for the purchase, rental or lease of such a housing accommodation or an interest therein, which expresses, directly or indirectly, any limitation, specification, or discrimination in housing because of an individual's criminal history; except as permitted under this paragraph; or

(E) Conduct a criminal background check in connection with the prospective purchase, or prospective or continuing rental or lease, of a housing accommodation, except where conducted in conformity with this paragraph.

(2) Nothing in subparagraph (1) shall prohibit a covered entity from taking any lawful adverse action against an individual, including a current occupant, for reasons other than such individual's criminal history, including acts of physical violence committed by such individual against other persons or property on the premises, or other acts that would adversely affect the health, safety, or welfare of other residents, nor shall such paragraph excuse a covered entity from complying with applicable laws relating to victims of domestic violence, sex offenses, or stalking.

(3) Nothing in subparagraph (1) shall:

(A) Prohibit a covered entity from making any statement, communication, advertisement, publication, or application that is required or specifically authorized by a federal, state or local law, rule, or regulation, provided that any such statement, communication, advertisement, publication, or application shall include a citation to the law, rule, or regulation that requires or permits such action;

(B) Prohibit a covered entity from denying a housing accommodation based on an individual's criminal history where such denial is required or specifically authorized by federal, state, or local law, rule, or regulation, provided that such covered entity shall provide such individual with notice of the law, rule, or regulation that requires or specifically authorizes such action and, where the law permits but does not require an adverse action, provided that such covered entity complies with the requirements of subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6) of this paragraph; or

(C) Prohibit a covered entity from conducting a criminal background check pursuant to any federal, state, or local law, rule, or regulation that requires or specifically authorizes a criminal background check for housing eligibility, provided that, where the law permits but does not require an adverse action, such covered entity complies with the requirements of subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6) of this paragraph.

(4) Preliminary determination and notice of criminal background check. Except where following this process would conflict with a requirement of federal or state law, rule, or regulation, a covered entity that intends to conduct a criminal background check of an individual in connection with a prospective purchase, or prospective or continuing rental or lease of a housing accommodation, shall not conduct such criminal background check until such covered entity has taken the following actions:

(A) In the case of a transaction involving the purchase of housing or shares in housing, the seller has accepted an offer and agreed in writing that the seller will not revoke the acceptance or change the conditions of the deal on the basis of the buyer's criminal history except as permitted by this paragraph;

(B) In the case of any other transaction involving lease or rental, the covered entity has provided to such individual a rental or lease agreement that commits the housing accommodation to the applicant, which may only be revoked based on a criminal background check conducted in accordance with the fair chance housing process set forth in subparagraph (5), or upon an unrelated material omission, misrepresentation, or change in the qualifications for tenancy that was not known at the time of the conditional offer;

(C) In all such cases, has provided such individual notice of such criminal background check and a written copy of the city's fair chance housing notice summarizing the rights in this paragraph, which shall be created and made publicly available by the commission.

(5) Fair chance housing process. After providing notice of a criminal background check, and prior to taking any adverse action because of an individual's reviewable criminal history, and except where such action conflicts with a requirement of federal or state law, rule, or regulation, the covered entity shall:

(A) Provide the applicant a written copy of:

(i) Any information or records about reviewable criminal history based on which the covered entity intends to take adverse action;

(ii) Any information about such individual's criminal history, other than their reviewable criminal history, that the covered entity received, even if the covered entity did not consider such information in making its determination; and

(iii) Provide notice that such individual may, no later than five business days following the receipt of such information, submit to the covered entity any information identifying errors in the criminal history information provided by the covered entity, and any supplemental or mitigating information in support of their application for purchase, rental, or lease.

(6) Adverse action based on reviewable criminal history. If, after conducting the fair chance housing process pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, a covered entity considers taking adverse action because of an individual's reviewable criminal history, such covered entity shall first:

(A) Conduct an individualized assessment of the individual's reviewable criminal history and timely information submitted by such individual pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph; and

(B) Provide such individual with a written copy of the reason for the adverse action, including:

(i) A copy of supporting documents that were reviewed; and

(ii) A written statement of the reason for such adverse action, demonstrating: (i) how the individual's reviewable criminal history is relevant to a legitimate business interest of the property owner, and (ii) how any information submitted in support of such individual's tenancy was taken into account.

(7) If a covered entity utilizes a third party to conduct a consumer background check or criminal background check on their behalf, such covered entity shall take reasonable steps to ensure that such check is conducted consistent with the provisions of this paragraph. Except where a covered entity's actions are required or authorized pursuant to federal, state, or local law, a covered entity may be liable for relying on criminal history other than reviewable criminal history if the covered entity failed to take reasonable steps to ensure compliance with this paragraph. Where a covered entity knowingly receives criminal history information other than reviewable criminal history information, such receipt creates a rebuttable presumption that the covered entity relied on such information in violation of this paragraph, which such covered entity may rebut by affirmatively showing that they complied with the fair housing process described in subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6) and did not rely on such information in making a determination about a sale, rental, or lease.

(8) This paragraph shall not apply to the sale or rental of:

(A) A housing accommodation, other than a publicly-assisted housing accommodation, in a building that contains housing accommodations for not more than two families living independently of each other, if the owner or members of the owner's family reside in one of such housing accommodations; or

(B) A room or rooms in a housing accommodation, other than a publicly-assisted housing accommodation, if such rental is by the occupant of the housing accommodation or by the owner of the housing accommodation and the owner or members of the owner's family reside in such housing accommodation.

(9) A covered entity shall be immune from liability in any civil action arising as a result of an alleged act of an individual with a criminal history based on the claim that the covered entity should not have sold, rented or leased, or otherwise granted a housing accommodation or an interest therein, to such individual or as a result of a covered entity's decision not to perform a criminal background check.

Report for Int. No. 563-A

Report of the Committee on Civil Service and Labor in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to creating a private right of action to enforce the provisions of the earned safe and sick time Act

The Committee on Civil Service and Labor, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on July 14, 2022 (Minutes, page 1816), respectfully

REPORTS:I. Introduction

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Civil Service and Labor, chaired by Council Member Carmen De La Rosa, will hold a vote on Int. No. 563-A, sponsored by Council Member Brewer, in relation to creating a private right of action to enforce the provisions of the earned safe and sick time act (ESSTA). The Committee held a hearing on the topic of safe and sick time for private and nonprofit sector workers on June 20, 2023, during which it heard testimony on Int. No. 563. Witnesses who testified at the hearing included representatives from the New York City Department of Consumer and Worker Protection (DCWP), local chambers of commerce, organized labor, workers' rights advocates, and other interested parties. On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Civil Service and Labor voted to pass Int. No 563-A with 8 votes in the affirmative, 0 votes in the negative, and 0 abstentions.

II. Legislative Analysisa. Int. No. 563-A

Int. No. 563-A would allow employees who are alleging a violation of their rights under ESSTA to commence a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction. Filing a complaint with DCWP for the same alleged violation would be neither a prerequisite nor a bar to bringing a civil action. Employees alleging a violation of their rights under ESSTA would have two years from the date they knew or should have known of the alleged violation to commence a civil action or file a complaint with DCWP.

Since its introduction, this bill received edits that would allow DCWP to stay an investigation into an aggrieved employee's administrative complaint while a civil action for the same alleged violation is ongoing in a court of competent jurisdiction. Additionally, the bill received edits that would require DCWP to annually update its website with the number and nature of civil actions and investigations regarding alleged violations of ESSTA. This bill also received technical edits.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to creating a private right of action to enforce the provisions of the earned safe and sick time Act

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 20-924 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law number 97 for the year 2020, is amended to read as follows:

§ 20-924 Enforcement and penalties. a. The department shall enforce the provisions of this chapter. In effectuating such enforcement, the department shall establish a system utilizing multiple means of communication to receive complaints regarding non-compliance with this chapter and investigate complaints received by the department in a timely manner. The department may open an investigation upon receipt of a complaint or on its own initiative.

b. Any person alleging a violation of this chapter shall have the right to file a complaint with the department within [two] 2 years of the date the person knew or should have known of the alleged violation. The department shall maintain confidential the identity of any natural person providing information relevant to enforcement of this chapter unless disclosure of such person's identity is necessary to the department for resolution of this investigation or otherwise required by federal or state law. The department shall, to the extent practicable, notify such person that the department will be disclosing [his or her] such person's identity prior to such disclosure.

c. 1. Upon receiving a complaint alleging a violation of this chapter, the department shall investigate such complaint, provided that if the complainant commences a civil action pursuant to subdivision f of this section for the same alleged violation, the department shall stay such investigation until the department is notified such civil action is withdrawn or dismissed without prejudice. Upon notice of a final judgment or settlement in such a civil action, the department shall dismiss the complaint unless the department determines the complaint alleges a violation not resolved by such judgment or settlement. The complainant must notify the department, in a manner prescribed by the commissioner and described on the department's website, within 30 days of the date that the time for any appeal has lapsed that such complaint is withdrawn, dismissed without prejudice, or resolved by final judgment or settlement. Nothing in this paragraph shall affect the authority of the department to open an investigation on its own initiative pursuant to subdivision a of this section.

2. Within [fourteen] 14 days of written notification of an investigation by the department, the person or entity under investigation shall provide the department with a written response and such other information as the department may request. The department shall keep complainants reasonably notified regarding the status of their complaint and any resultant investigation. If, as a result of an investigation of a complaint or an investigation conducted upon its own initiative, the department believes that a violation has occurred, it shall issue to the offending person or entity a notice of violation. The commissioner shall prescribe the form and wording of such notices of violation. The notice of violation shall be returnable to the administrative tribunal authorized to adjudicate violations of this chapter.

d. The department shall have the power to impose penalties provided for in this chapter and to grant each and every employee or former employee all appropriate relief. Such relief shall include: (i) for each instance of safe/sick time taken by an employee but unlawfully not compensated by the employer: [three] 3 times the wages that should have been paid under this chapter or [two hundred fifty dollars] $250, whichever is greater; (ii) for each instance of safe/sick time requested by an employee but unlawfully denied by the employer and not taken by the employee or unlawfully conditioned upon searching for or finding a replacement worker, or for each instance an employer requires an employee to work additional hours without the mutual consent of such employer and employee in violation of section 20-915 of this chapter to make up for the original hours during which such employee is absent pursuant to this chapter: [five hundred dollars] $500; (iii) for each violation of section 20-918 not including discharge from employment: full compensation including wages and benefits lost, [five hundred dollars] $500, and equitable relief as appropriate; (iv) for each instance of unlawful discharge from employment: full compensation including wages and benefits lost, [two thousand five hundred dollars] $2,500, and equitable relief, including reinstatement, as appropriate; and (v) for each employee covered by an employer's official or unofficial policy or practice of not providing or refusing to allow the use of accrued safe/sick time in violation of section 20-913, [five hundred dollars] $500.

e. Any entity or person found to be in violation of the provisions of sections 20-913, 20-914, 20-915, or 20-918 of this chapter shall be liable for a civil penalty payable to the city not to exceed [five hundred dollars] $500 for the first violation and, for subsequent violations that occur within [two] 2 years of any previous violation, not to exceed [seven hundred and fifty dollars] $750 for the second violation and not to exceed [one thousand dollars] $1,000 for each succeeding violation. Report of the Committee on Contracts

Report of the Committee on Contracts in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the establishment of a document vault to store certain procurement-related documents.

The Committee on Contracts, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on May 11, 2023 (Minutes, page 1324), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Contracts, chaired by Council Member Julie Won, held a vote on Introduction Number 1048-A (Int. No. 1048-A), a local law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the establishment of a document vault to store certain procurement-related documents. An earlier version of this bill was heard by the Committee on October 25, 2023, where the Committee received testimony from the Mayor's Office of Contract Services, nonprofit contracted service providers, and other interested stakeholders. A summary of that hearing can be found along with the materials for this hearing at <https://bit.ly/nyc-gov1048>. The bill passed the committee vote with five votes in the affirmative, zero in the negative and zero abstentions.

II. INT. NO. 1048-A

Int. No. 1048-A would require the City Chief Procurement Officer to establish a secure electronic document vault to store procurement-related records. The bill defines "procurement-related documents" to include, but not be limited to, vendor certificates, corporate organizational documents, and financial reports. Documents in the vault would be made available upon request to any agency authorized by the vendor who submitted such documents. The purpose of the legislation is to reduce the need for duplicative submissions by contractors and ease access to documents for contractors and agencies.

Int. No. 1048-A differs from Int. 1048 in four primary ways.

First, Int. 1048 had more expansive definitions for "document vault" and "procurement-related documents" compared to the narrower definitions in Int. No. 1048-A, though the definitions are functionally similar.

Second, Int. 1048 required retaining procurement-related documents for at least 10 years, while Int. No. 1048-A has no mandated retention period specified, and thus implies the indefinite retention of such documents.

Third, Int. 1048 allowed access to the document vault to any agency or contracted entity in furtherance of a contract, while Int. No. 1048-A specifies that only persons authorized by the vendor who submitted a document can access that document in the vault.

Finally, Int. 1048 would have taken effect 120 days after enactment, while Int. No. 1048-A would take effect 1 year after becoming law.

III. LEGISLATIVE ANALYSIS

Section 1 of Int. 1048-A would add a new section 6-116.3 to the Administrative Code titled "Document vault for procurement-related documents."

Subdivision a provides definitions for "covered procurement," "document vault," and "procurement-related document."

Subdivision b requires the City Chief Procurement Officer or their designee to establish a document vault for procurement-related documents, as defined in the bill.

Section 2 states the local law takes effect 1 year after becoming law.

II. BACKGROUND ON PROPOSED INTRO 549-A

Punitive Segregation in New York City Jails:

In New York City, DOC provides for the care, custody, and control of persons accused of crimes or convicted and sentenced to one year or less of jail time.¹ As of December 17, 2023, there are 6,102 people incarcerated in New York City jails.²

Prior to 2013, the Department placed incarcerated individuals found guilty of committing rule infractions in "punitive segregation," regardless of age.³ Punitive segregation, also known as "solitary confinement," consisted of housing an incarcerated individual in a single-occupancy cell for 23 hours per day, with access to daily showers in the housing unit and access to medical care.⁴ There were also significant restrictions on visitation and recreational time.⁵ Reports indicate that at its peak, there were 1,035 people in punitive segregation in 2012.⁶ According to the Board of Correction (BOC), on December 31, 2014, there were 414 people in punitive segregation.⁷ In January of 2015, BOC amended its Minimum Standards to include provisions limiting the use of punitive segregation. By December 31, 2015, the number of people in punitive segregation was reduced to 181.⁸ On November 2, 2021, the population was reduced to 68.⁹ As of last year, the Department indicated there were no individuals in punitive segregation and around 117 people in restrictive housing.¹⁰ However, reports indicate that individuals held in certain "de-escalation units" or those in "involuntary protective custody" may be confined in conditions that arguably meet definitions of solitary confinement.¹¹

In June 2020, former Mayor de Blasio and then Board Chair Jennifer Jones Austin announced the formation of a working group to eliminate punitive segregation in the City's jails.¹² On June 7, 2021, the Board unanimously approved its proposed rules on restrictive housing ("the Rule"). The Rule was revised to address concerns from the public and to comply with new state law requirements in the Humane Alternatives to Long-Term Solitary Confinement Act ("HALT Act"), signed into law on April 1, 2021. According to the de Blasio Administration, the Rule, when implemented, which was anticipated to be in the fall of 2021, would end solitary confinement¹³. The Administration described solitary confinement as a long-practiced form of restrictive housing where people are locked in their cells for 20-24 hours each day, which would be replaced with a new alternative disciplinary model, the Risk Management Accountability System (RMAS). The de Blasio Administration described RMAS as a two-level progression model that includes:¹⁴

- Attorney Representation at the infraction hearing and throughout the process
- Minimum 10 hours out of cell, socializing with at least one other person
- A strong presumption of progression from Level 1 to Level 2 in 15 days, and out of Level 2 in 15 days
- The ability for the Department to extend placement in RMAS only when necessary; extension must be documented with a clear threat to safety; person in custody has ability to appeal with attorney representation
- Individualized behavioral support plans
- Steady, experienced case managers
- Hours of daily programming, including required therapeutic programming in space outside the dayroom space; and
- Daily rounding by health and mental health staff
- Post-RMAS, step-down Restorative Rehabilitation Unit with 14 hours of lock out, full access to Minimum Standards, and intensive programming.¹⁵

Some advocates were critical of the RMAS.¹⁶ Among the issues raised, they pointed out there are no strict limits on how many days a detainee could remain in segregation and contend that out-of-cell time should not include walking around in a "fenced in porch" adjacent to their cell.¹⁷

Ultimately, after announcing the RMAS would go into effect on November 1, 2021, just prior to implementation, Mayor de Blasio signed an emergency executive order putting the plan on hold, initially for five days, but subsequently repeated, citing a jail system unable to staff required security posts with more than 1,000 correction officers reportedly calling out sick daily at that time.¹⁸ The Adams Administration continued to sign similar emergency executive orders while indicating they anticipated the new system would go into effect on July 1, 2022.¹⁹

On June 30, 2022, the court-appointed Monitor, appointed as part of the consent settlement in the case of Nunez vs. City of New York,²⁰ issued a status report stating that, at that juncture, they did not approve the Department's proposal to implement RMAS on July 1, 2022.²¹ The Monitor outlined a rationale for why proceeding with RMAS was not prudent and posed significant safety concerns. The report noted that for the past six years, the Monitoring Team has observed a pattern of hasty, ill-planned implementation of these types of critical programs that fail because the time needed to develop a strong foundation was short-circuited (e.g., staff selection and training), in combination with poor fidelity to design and that therefore, the Department must adopt lessons learned from previous attempts to address serious misconduct and develop both a credible program model and invest the time necessary to select, train, guide and coach staff.²² The Monitor also stated that the RMAS program design would be unlikely to hold individuals accountable for violent misconduct in a safe and effective manner.²³

The Monitoring Team recommended the Department retain a consultant with the requisite expertise to support the creation of a program model that provides the necessary structure and security on the housing units and an implementation plan that avoids the pitfalls of the past. Finally, the Monitor noted that the Monitoring Team intends to work closely with the Department and the consultant that the Department has already retained, Dr. Austin, on the development of a program that can ultimately be approved by the Monitor.²⁴ Citing the

Monitor's report, the Department indicated that they would not be implementing RMAS on July 1, 2022 as planned but rather would work with the consultant as requested by the Monitor to develop and alternative plan.²⁵

Most recently, as of March 2023, DOC instituted a new Enhanced Supervision Housing (ESH) system for the selection and housing of incarcerated individuals who engage in acts that threaten the safety and security of the jail.²⁶ Under this system, if an incarcerated individual commits a qualifying offense, they can be separated from general population, and placed in pre-hearing detention for seven days before they must be afforded a hearing with certain due process protections. If an individual is found guilty at a hearing, they may be placed in an ESH unit. There are two levels of ESH and a person must successfully complete Level I before being eligible for Level 2 and must successfully complete Level II before being returned to general population. To progress through these levels, individuals are evaluated every thirty days to determine whether they are complying with program participation requirements. There are no durational caps on placement in ESH. At each level of ESH, individuals must be provided seven hours of out-of-cell time. In ESH Level II, the use of restraints is relaxed, individuals can participate in congregate outdoor recreation, and they have a greater ability to make purchases at the commissary.²⁷

As of June 2023, DOC opened new ESH units in the Rose M. Singer Center, commonly referred to as "RESH."²⁸ In a status report issued by the Nunez monitor on October 5, 2023, they described conditions in RESH as "chaotic, violent, and unsafe" and noted that in July and August of 2023 RESH had the highest use-of-force rate in the Department and the largest number of slashings and stabbings of any command.²⁹ As a result of DOC's failure to properly implement the ESH program and the high levels of violence and fear in those units, the Monitor described RESH as an environment that "in practice, is not substantially different that punitive segregation."³⁰

Impact of Punitive Segregation:

A study cited by the National Institute of Justice in 2016 stated that "there is little evidence that [solitary confinement] has had effects on overall levels of violence within individual institutions or across correctional systems."³¹ For example, in Cook County, Illinois, where the use of solitary confinement was reportedly eliminated in 2016, assaults on people in custody and staff plummeted to an all-time low in 2018.³² This was reportedly achieved by placing disruptive incarcerated people in a "Special Management Unit" where they spend time in open rooms or yards with other people in custody for up to eight hours at a time under direct supervision from correctional staff who are trained in de-escalation and conflict resolution.³³ Similarly, other states that have decreased the use of solitary confinement, such as Colorado, Mississippi and Maine, have seen corresponding reductions in assaults and other violent behavior.³⁴

Research shows that solitary confinement has hardly any individual or general deterrence effect on violent behavior and misconduct.³⁵ One study found that exposure to short-term punitive segregation for initial violent behavior did not deter incarcerated people from engaging in more violence.³⁶ The study found that in about 2% of incarcerated people, exposure to punitive segregation might have increased their propensity to commit more violence.³⁷ Researchers explain that the condition of segregated housing and mistreatment of persons held in this setting lead them to become more violent.³⁸

Research also shows that solitary confinement is harmful to the people in custody who are subjected to the practice. A 2014 study of New York City Jails found that people in custody who were placed in punitive segregation committed self-harm at disproportionately high rates.³⁹ The study found that people who were placed in punitive segregation were over seven times more likely to harm themselves and six times more likely to commit fatal self-harm.⁴⁰ The deaths of Kalief Browder,⁴¹ Bradly Ballard,⁴² and Jason Echeverria⁴³ are tragic illustrations of this phenomenon; all of these individuals took their own life after spending time in punitive segregation in New York City jails.⁴⁴ In addition to self-harm, solitary confinement leads to other or overlapping mental health problems. Research shows that people who spent time in restrictive housing in prisons and jails experienced serious psychological distress.⁴⁵ Similarly, research found that solitary confinement can lead to hallucinations and paranoia.⁴⁶ Almost a third of the people in custody interviewed in a study described hearing voices, while almost half reported paranoid and persecutory fears.⁴⁷

III. BACKGROUND ON PROPOSED INTRO 1203-A

Letters of Incarceration:

A letter of incarceration, sometimes referred to as "jail release papers" or "discharge papers," is a document that specifies the time a person is in jail. During incarceration, Federal Law prohibits the collection of certain public benefits such as Social Security or Medicaid. To regain access to these benefits, a person must obtain a letter of incarceration to prove they have been released from custody. Right now, DOC does not automatically provide letters of incarceration to those leaving their custody. Instead, to receive this document, an individual must request a copy from DOC's Office of Constituent and Grievance Services. It's often difficult for individuals to obtain their letter of incarceration and the resulting lapses in access to benefits can make the re-entry process more difficult.⁴⁸

IV. BILL ANALYSIS AND AMENDMENTS

Prop. Int. 549- A:

This bill would ban the use of solitary confinement in city jails and provide individuals in DOC custody due process protections before being placed in restrictive housing or continued use of restraints. The bill also limits how DOC can use emergency lock-ins and requires regular reporting on the Department's use of de-escalation confinement, restrictive housing, and emergency lock-ins. The bill would take effect 180 days after enactment.

Since introduction, the bill has been amended in several respects: 1) by adding or amending definitions for de-escalation confinement, legal advocate, pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing, restraints, suicide prevention aides, out-of cell, restrictive housing, solitary confinement, and violent grade I offense; 2) by removing requirements that medical and mental health assessments and medical rounding occur during periods of de-escalation confinement, restrictive housing, and emergency lock-in and shifting responsibility to conduct regular rounding to DOC staff and suicide prevention aides; 3) by removing bill provisions that gave medical staff the authority to remove an individual from de-escalation confinement, restrictive housing, or an emergency lock-in; 4) by adding a provision that states suicide prevention aides shall not face retaliation for carrying out duties outlined in the bill; 5) by requiring that persons in de-escalation confinement and those subject to an emergency lock-in have access to a tablet or device that can make phone calls outside the facility or to medical staff; 6) by mandating that de-escalation confinement not be located in intake areas or decontamination showers; 7) by requiring that the Department not maintain locked decontamination showers and not place an incarcerated individual in a decontamination shower or any locked space that does not meet BOC minimum standards; 8) by adding limited exceptions for instances in which the department may use restraints on incarcerated persons under the age of 22; 9) by adding subdivision (g) which outlines the procedures and policies for when a person may be placed pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing following de-escalation confinement but before a hearing for placement in restrictive housing; 10) by adding requirements that all housing for medical or mental health support, including for those in contagious disease units, and units for transgender and gender non-conforming individuals, voluntary protective custody, and for purposes of school attendance comply with new standards established in this bill and 11) by changing the effective date from 60 days to 180 days after the bill becomes law. The bill also received technical edits.

V. BILL ANALYSIS AND AMENDMENTS

Prop. Int. 1203- A:

This bill would require the DOC to provide a letter of incarceration, also known as jail release papers or discharge papers, to every person at the time of their release from the Department's custody. Right now, people in custody must make a request to the DOC Office of Constituent and Grievance Services to receive this letter. The bill requires the letter of incarceration to include the specific date the person entered and the date they were released from DOC custody.

Since its introduction, the bill has been amended to make technical changes.

VI. RESOLUTION ANALYSIS

Prop. Res. 241- A:

This resolution calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign the Fair and Timely Parole Act (S307/A162) and Elder Parole Act (S2423/A2035). The Elder Parole Act (S2423/A2035) would establish parole consideration for people at least 55 years old who have served 15 consecutive years in prison. The Fair and Timely Parole Act (S307/A162) would ensure that the parole release process is based on rehabilitation and risk to public safety.

Since introduction, this resolution has been amended to reflect updated bill numbers for the 2023 New York State legislative session.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to banning solitary confinement in city jails and establishing standards for the use of restrictive housing and emergency lock-ins

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 9 of the administrative code is amended by adding a new section 9-167 to read as follows:

§ 9-167 Solitary confinement. a. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Advocate. The term “advocate” means a person who is a law student, paralegal, or an incarcerated person.

Cell. The term “cell” means any room, area or space that is not a shared space conducive to meaningful, regular and congregate social interaction among many people in a group setting, where an individual is held for any purpose.

De-escalation confinement. The term “de-escalation confinement” means holding an incarcerated person in a cell immediately following an incident where the person has caused physical injury or poses a specific risk of imminent serious physical injury to staff, themselves or other incarcerated persons.

Emergency lock-in. The term “emergency lock-in” means a department-wide emergency lock-in, a facility emergency lock-in, a housing area emergency lock-in, or a partial facility emergency lock-in as defined in section 9-155.

Out-of-cell. The term “out-of-cell” means being in a space outside of, and in an area away from a cell, in a group setting with other people all in the same shared space without physical barriers separating such people that is conducive to meaningful and regular social interaction and activity or being in any space during the time of carrying out medical treatment, individual one-on-one counseling, an attorney visit or court appearance.

Pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing. The term “pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing” means any restrictive housing designated for incarcerated persons who continue to pose a specific risk of imminent serious physical injury to staff, themselves, or other incarcerated persons after a period of de-escalation confinement has exceeded time limits established by this section and prior to a hearing for recommended placement in restrictive housing has taken place.

Restraints. For the purposes of this section, the term “restraints” means any object, device or equipment that impedes movement of hands, legs, or any other part of the body.

Restrictive housing. The term “restrictive housing” means any housing area that separates incarcerated persons from the general jail population on the basis of security concerns or discipline, or a housing area that poses restrictions on programs, services, interactions with other incarcerated persons or other conditions of confinement. This definition excludes housing designated for incarcerated persons who are: (1) in need of medical or mental health support as determined by the entity providing or overseeing correctional medical and mental health, including placement in a contagious disease unit, (2) transgender or gender non-conforming, (3) in need of voluntary protective custody, or (4) housed in a designated location for the purpose of school attendance.

Solitary confinement. The term “solitary confinement” means any placement of an incarcerated person in a cell, other than at night for sleeping for a period not to exceed eight hours in any 24-hour period or during the day for a count not to exceed two hours in any 24-hour period.

Suicide prevention aide. For the purposes of this section, the term “suicide prevention aide” means a person in custody who has been trained to identify unusual and/or suicidal behavior.

Violent grade I offense. The term “violent grade I offense” shall have the same meaning as defined by the rules of the department of correction as of January 1, 2022.

b. Ban on solitary confinement. The department shall not place an incarcerated person in a cell, other than at night for sleeping for a period not to exceed eight hours in any 24-hour period or during the day for count not to exceed two hours in any 24-hour period, unless for the purpose of de-escalation confinement or during emergency lock-ins.

c. De-escalation confinement. The department’s uses of de-escalation confinement shall comply with the following provisions:

1. De-escalation confinement shall not be located in intake areas and shall not take place in decontamination showers. Spaces used for de-escalation confinement must, at a minimum, have the features specified in sections 1-03 and 1-04 of title 40 of the rules of the city of New York and be maintained in accordance with the personal hygiene and space requirements set forth in such sections;

2. Department staff must regularly monitor a person in de-escalation confinement and engage in continuous crisis intervention and de-escalation to support the person’s health and well-being, attempt de-escalation, work toward a person’s release from de-escalation confinement and determine whether it is necessary to continue to hold such person in such confinement;

3. The department shall conduct visual and aural observation of each person in de-escalation confinement every 15 minutes, shall refer any health concerns to medical or mental health staff, and shall bring any person displaying any indications of any need for medical documentation, observation, or treatment to the medical clinic. Suicide prevention aides may conduct check-ins with a person in de-escalation confinement at least every

15 minutes and refer any health concerns to department staff who will get medical or mental health staff to treat any reported immediate health needs. No suicide prevention aide shall face any retaliation or other harm for carrying out their role;

4. Throughout de-escalation confinement, a person shall have access to a tablet or device that allows such person to make phone calls outside of the facility and to medical staff in the facility;

5. A person shall be removed from de-escalation confinement immediately following when such person has sufficiently gained control and no longer poses a significant risk of imminent serious physical injury to themselves or others;

6. The maximum duration a person can be held in de-escalation confinement shall not exceed four hours immediately following the incident precipitating such person's placement in such confinement. Under no circumstances may the department place a person in de-escalation confinement for more than four hours total in any 24-hour period, or more than 12 hours in any seven-day period; and

7. In circumstances permitted in subdivision g of this section, the department may transfer a person from de-escalation confinement to pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing.

(a) The department shall not place any incarcerated person in a locked decontamination shower nor in any other locked space in any facility that does not have, at a minimum, the features specified in sections 1-03 and 1-04 of title 40 of the rules of the city of New York and maintained in accordance with the personal hygiene and space requirements as set forth in such sections.

(b) The department shall not maintain any locked decontamination showers. Any other locked spaces in any facility for holding incarcerated people must at least have the features specified in and maintained in accordance with the personal hygiene and space requirements set forth in 40 RCNY § 1-03 and § 1-04.

d. Reporting on de-escalation confinement. For each instance an incarcerated person is placed in de-escalation confinement as described in subdivision c of this section, the department shall prepare an incident report that includes a detailed description of why isolation was necessary to de-escalate an immediate conflict and the length of time the incarcerated person was placed in such confinement. Beginning on July 15, 2024, and within 15 days of the end of each subsequent quarter, the department shall provide the speaker of the council and the board of correction all such reports for the preceding quarter and post all such reports on the department's website. The department shall redact all personally identifying information prior to posting such reports on the department's website. Beginning July 31, 2024, and within 30 days of the end of each subsequent quarter, the department shall provide to the speaker of the council and the board of correction, and post on the department's website, a report with data for the preceding quarter on the total number of people placed in such confinement, disaggregated by race, age, gender identity and mental health treatment level, as well as the total number of people held in such confinement disaggregated by whether confinement lasted less than one hour, between one and two hours, between two and three hours, and between three and four hours.

e. Use of restraints. 1. The department shall not place an incarcerated person in restraints unless an individualized determination is made that restraints are necessary to prevent an imminent risk of self-injury or injury to other persons. In such instances, only the least restrictive form of restraints may be used and may be used no longer than is necessary to abate such imminent harm. Restraints shall not be used on an incarcerated person under the age of 22 except in the following circumstances: (i) during transportation in and out of a facility, provided that during transportation no person shall be secured to an immovable object; and (ii) during escorted movement within a facility to and from out-of-cell activities where an individualized determination is made that restraints are necessary to prevent an immediate risk of self-injury or injury to other persons. The department is prohibited from engaging in attempts to unnecessarily prolong, delay or undermine an individual's escorted movements.

2. The department shall not place an incarcerated person in restraints beyond the use of restraints described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision, or on two consecutive days, until a hearing is held to determine if the continued use of restraints is necessary for the safety of others. Such hearing shall comply with the rules of the board of correction as described in paragraph 1 of subdivision f of this section. Any continued use of restraints must be reviewed by the department on a daily basis and discontinued once there is no longer an imminent risk of self-injury or injury to other persons. Continued use of restraints may only be authorized for seven consecutive days.

f. Restrictive housing hearing. Except as provided in subdivision g of this section, the department shall not place an incarcerated person in restrictive housing until a hearing on such placement is held and the person is found to have committed a violent grade I offense. Any required hearing regarding placement of a person into restrictive housing shall comply with rules to be established by the board of correction.

1. The board of correction shall establish rules for restrictive housing hearings that shall, at a minimum, include the following provisions:

(i) An incarcerated person shall have the right to be represented by their legal counsel or advocate;

(ii) An incarcerated person shall have the right to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses;

(iii) Witnesses shall testify in person at the hearing unless the witnesses' presence would jeopardize the safety of themselves or others or security of the facility. If a witness is excluded from testifying in person, the basis for the exclusion shall be documented in the hearing record;

(iv) If a witness refuses to provide testimony at the hearing, the department must provide the basis for the witness's refusal, videotape such refusal, or obtain a signed refusal form, to be included as part of the hearing record;

(v) The department shall provide the incarcerated person and their legal counsel or advocate written notice of the reason for proposed placement in restrictive housing and any supporting evidence for such placement, no later than 48 hours prior to the restrictive housing hearing;

(vi) The department shall provide the legal counsel or advocate adequate time to prepare for such hearings and shall grant reasonable requests for adjournments;

(vii) An incarcerated person shall have the right to an interpreter in their native language if the person does not understand or is unable to communicate in English. The department shall take reasonable steps to provide such interpreter;

(viii) A refusal by an incarcerated person to attend any restrictive housing hearings must be videotaped and made part of the hearing record;

(ix) If the incarcerated person is excluded or removed from a restrictive housing hearing because it is determined that such person's presence will jeopardize the safety of themselves or others or security of the facility, the basis for such exclusion must be documented in the hearing record;

(x) A restrictive housing disposition shall be reached within five business days after the conclusion of the hearing. Such disposition must be supported by substantial evidence, shall be documented in writing, and must contain the following information: a finding of guilty or not guilty, a summary of each witness's testimony and whether their testimony was credited or rejected with the reasons thereof, the evidence relied upon by the hearing officer in reaching their finding, and the sanction imposed, if any; and

(xi) A written copy of the hearing disposition shall be provided to the incarcerated person and their counsel or advocate within 24 hours of the determination.

2. Failure to comply with any of the provisions described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision, or as established by board of correction rule, shall constitute a due process violation warranting dismissal of the matter that led to the hearing.

g. Pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing. In exceptional circumstances, the department may place a person in pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing prior to conducting a restrictive housing hearing as required by subdivision f of this section.

1. Such placement shall only occur upon written approval of the Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner, or another equivalent member of department senior leadership over the operations of security. Such written approval shall include: the basis for a reasonable belief that the incarcerated person has committed a violent grade I offense, and whether such person has caused serious physical injury or poses a specific and significant risk of imminent serious physical injury to staff or other incarcerated persons.

2. A restrictive housing hearing shall occur as soon as reasonably practicable following placement in pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing, and must occur within five days of such placement, unless the person placed in such restrictive housing seeks a postponement of such hearing.

3. If a person is found guilty at a restrictive housing hearing, time spent in pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing prior to such hearing determination shall be deducted from any sentence of restrictive housing and such time shall count toward the time limits in restrictive housing.

4. Pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing shall comply with all requirements for restrictive housing, including but not limited to those established in subdivision h of this section.

5. During the first day of placement in pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing, department staff must regularly monitor the person and engage in continuous crisis intervention and attempt de-escalation, work toward a person's release from pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing and determine whether it is necessary to continue to hold the person in pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing.

h. Restrictive housing regulations. The department's use of restrictive housing must comply with the following provisions:

1. The department shall not place an incarcerated person in restrictive housing for longer than necessary and for no more than a total of 60 days in any 12 month period.

2. Within 15 days of placement of an incarcerated person in restrictive housing, the department shall meaningfully review such placement to determine whether the incarcerated person continues to present a specific, significant and imminent threat to the safety and security of other persons if housed outside restrictive housing. If an individual is not discharged from restrictive housing after review, the department shall provide in writing to the incarcerated person: (i) the reasons for the determination that such person must remain in restrictive housing and (ii) any recommended program, treatment, service, or corrective action. The department shall provide the incarcerated person access to such available programs, treatment and services.

3. The department shall discharge an incarcerated person from restrictive housing if such person has not engaged in behavior that presents a specific, significant, and imminent threat to the safety and security of themselves or other persons during the preceding 15 days. In all circumstances, the department shall discharge an incarcerated person from restrictive housing within 30 days after their initial placement in such housing.

4. A person placed in restrictive housing must have interaction with other people and access to congregate programming and amenities comparable to those housed outside restrictive housing, including access to at least seven hours per day of out-of-cell congregate programming or activities with groups of people in a group setting all in the same shared space without physical barriers separating such people that is conducive to meaningful and regular social interaction. If a person voluntarily chooses not to participate in congregate programming, they shall be offered access to comparable individual programming. A decision to voluntarily decline to participate in congregate programming must be done in writing or by videotape.

5. The department shall utilize programming that addresses the unique needs of those in restrictive housing. The department shall provide persons in restrictive housing with access to core educational and other programming comparable to core programs in the general population. The department shall also provide persons in restrictive housing access to evidence-based therapeutic interventions and restorative justice programs aimed at addressing the conduct resulting in their placement in restrictive housing. Such programs shall be individualized and trauma-informed, include positive incentive behavior modification models, and follow best practices for violence interruption. Staff that routinely interact with incarcerated persons must be trained in de-escalation techniques, conflict resolution, the use of force policy, and related topics to address the unique needs of those in restrictive housing units.

6. The department shall use positive incentives to encourage good behavior in restrictive housing units and may use disciplinary sanctions only as a last resort in response to behavior presenting a serious and evident danger to oneself or others after other measures have not alleviated such behavior.

7. All housing for medical or mental health support provided to persons recommended to receive such support by the entity providing and, or overseeing correctional medical and mental health, including placement in contagious disease units, housing for people who are transgender or gender non-conforming, housing for voluntary protective custody, and housing for purposes of school attendance, shall comply with subdivisions (b), (c), (e), (i), (j) and (k) of this section and paragraphs 4, 5, and 6 of this subdivision.

8. For purposes of contagious disease units, after a referral from health care staff, a person may be held in a medical unit overseen by health care staff, for as limited a time as medically necessary as exclusively determined by health care staff, in the least restrictive environment that is medically appropriate. Individuals in a contagious disease unit must have comparable access as individuals incarcerated in the general population to phone calls, emails, visits, and programming done in a manner consistent with the medical and mental health treatment being received, such as at a physical distance determined appropriate by medical or mental health staff. Such access must be comparable to access provided to persons incarcerated outside of restrictive housing units.

9. Reporting on restrictive housing. For each instance a disciplinary charge that could result in restrictive housing is dismissed or an incarcerated individual is found not guilty of the disciplinary charge, the department shall prepare an incident report that includes a description of the disciplinary charge and the reasons for the dismissal or not guilty determination. For each instance an incarcerated person is placed in restrictive housing, the department shall prepare an incident report that includes a detailed description of the behavior that resulted in placement in restrictive housing and why restrictive housing was necessary to address such behavior, including if a person was placed in pre-hearing temporary restrictive housing and the reasons why the situation met the requirements in paragraph 1 of subdivision g of this section. For each instance in which confinement in restrictive housing is continued after a 15-day review of an incarcerated person's placement in restrictive housing, the department shall prepare an incident report as to why the person was not discharged, including a detailed description of how the person continued to present a specific, significant and imminent threat to the safety and security of the facility if housed outside restrictive housing and what program, treatment, service, and/or corrective action was required before discharge. Beginning on July 15, 2024, and within 15 days of the end of each subsequent quarter, the department shall provide the speaker of the council and the board of correction all such reports for the prior quarter and post all such reports on the department's website. The department shall redact all personally identifying information prior to posting the reports on the department's website. Beginning July 31, 2024, and within 30 days of the end of each subsequent quarter, the department shall provide to the speaker of the council and the board of correction, and post on the department's website, a report with data for the preceding quarter on the total number of people placed in restrictive housing during that time period, disaggregated by race, age, gender identity, mental health treatment level and length of time in restrictive housing, and data on all disposition outcomes of all restrictive housing hearing during such time period, disaggregated by charge, race, age, gender identity and mental health treatment level.

i. Out-of-cell time. 1. All incarcerated persons must have access to at least 14 out-of-cell hours every day except while in de-escalation confinement pursuant to subdivision c of this section and during emergency lock-ins pursuant to subdivision j of this section.

2. Incarcerated persons may congregate with others and move about their housing area freely during out-of-cell time and have access to education and programming pursuant to section 9-110 of the administrative code.

j. Emergency lock-ins. 1. Emergency lock-ins may only be used when the Commissioner, a Deputy Commissioner, or another equivalent member of department senior leadership with responsibility for the operations of security for a facility determines that such lock-in is necessary to de-escalate an emergency that poses a threat of specific, significant and imminent harm to incarcerated persons or staff. Emergency lock-ins may only be used when there are no less restrictive means available to address an emergency circumstance and only as a last resort after exhausting less restrictive measures. Emergency lock-ins must be confined to as narrow an area as possible and limited number of people as possible. The department shall lift emergency lock-ins as quickly as possible. The Commissioner, a Deputy Commissioner, or another equivalent member of department senior leadership over the operations of security shall review such lock-ins at least every hour. Such lock-ins may not last more than four hours.

2. Throughout an emergency lock-in, the department shall conduct visual and aural observation of every person locked in every fifteen (15) minutes, shall refer any health concerns to medical or mental health staff, and shall bring any person displaying any indications of any need for medical documentation, observation, or treatment to the medical clinic. Throughout an emergency lock-in, other than in a department-wide emergency lock-in or a facility emergency lock-in, each person locked in shall have access to a tablet or other device that allows the person to make phone calls both outside of the facility and to medical staff in the facility.

3. The department shall immediately provide notice to the public on its website of an emergency lock-in, including information on any restrictions on visits, phone calls, counsel visits or court appearances.

4. For each instance an emergency lock-in is imposed, the department shall prepare an incident report that includes:

(a) A description of why the lock-in was necessary to investigate or de-escalate an emergency, including the ways in which it posed a threat of specific, significant and imminent harm;

(b) A description of how other less restrictive measures were exhausted;

(c) The number of people held in lock-in;

(d) The length of lock-in;

(e) The areas affected and the reasons such areas were subject to the emergency lock-in;

(f) The medical and mental health services affected, the number of scheduled medical and or mental health appointments missed and requests that were denied;

(g) Whether visits, counsel visits or court appearances were affected;

- (h) What programs, if any, were affected;
- (i) All actions taken during the lock-in to resolve and address the lock-in; and
- (j) The number of staff diverted for the lock-in.

Beginning July 15, 2024, and within 15 days of the end of each subsequent quarter, the department shall provide the speaker of the council and the board of correction all such reports for the preceding quarter and shall post all such reports on the department's website with any identifying information redacted. Beginning July 15, 2024, and within 15 days of the end of each subsequent quarter, the department shall provide to the speaker of the council and the board of correction a report on the total number of lock-ins occurring during the preceding quarter, the areas affected by each such lock-in, the length of each such lock-in and number of incarcerated people subject to each such lock-in, disaggregated by race, age, gender identity, mental health treatment level and length of time in cell confinement.

k. Incarcerated persons under the age of 22 shall receive access to trauma-informed, age-appropriate programming and services on a consistent, regular basis.

§ 2. This local law takes effect 180 days after it becomes law. The board of correction shall take any actions necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules relating to procedures and penalties necessary to effectuate this section before such date.

Report of the Committee on Education

Report for Int. No. 3-A

Report of the Committee on Education in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to responding to students in emotional crisis in public schools.

The Committee on Education, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on February 10, 2022 (Minutes, page 95), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On December 19, 2023, the Committee on Education, chaired by Council Member Rita Joseph, will consider Proposed Introduction Number (Int. No.) 3-A, sponsored by Council Member Diana Ayala, related to responding to students in emotional crisis in public schools; and Proposed Int. No. 542-A, sponsored by Council Member Mercedes Narcisse, related to requiring the department of education and the administration for children's services to report on educational programming for juvenile delinquents, juvenile offenders, and adolescent offenders.

The Committee previously held a hearing on Int. No. 3 on October 25, 2023 and heard testimony from the New York City (NYC) Department of Education (DOE) and the NYC Police Department (Department). The Committee previously held a hearing on Int. No. 542 on October 13, 2023 and heard testimony from the NYC DOE, the NYC Administration for Children's Services (ACS) and the NYC Department of Correction (DOC). At both hearings the Committee also heard testimony from community-based organizations, service providers and members of the public.

II. BILL ANALYSIS

Proposed Int. No. 3-A – A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to responding to students in emotional crisis in public schools

This bill would regulate the Department's response to children in emotional crisis within public schools. Specifically, the bill establishes procedures for Department personnel responding to children in emotional crisis and limits the use of mechanical restraints on children in emotional crisis. Additionally, the Department would be required to report on any training for school safety personnel on (1) identifying and responding to children in emotional crisis or (2) the impacts of trauma on child development.

Since it was heard, required training on identifying students in emotional crisis for Department personnel was removed from the bill. This bill was also amended to allow Department personnel to directly respond to a student in emotional crisis when necessary to prevent an imminent and substantial risk of "physical injury" or "serious physical injury" to any person, as such terms are defined in Penal Law. Except under these limited circumstances, Department personnel would not be allowed to respond to a student in emotional crisis, unless responding to a 911 call or unless a request to intervene has been received by appropriate DOE staff. Additionally, this bill was amended to limit the use of mechanical restraints to when the behavior of a student in emotional crisis creates an imminent and substantial risk of physical injury to any person. This bill also received technical edits.

Proposed Int. No. 542-A – A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the department of education and the administration for children’s services to report on educational programming for juvenile delinquents, juvenile offenders, and adolescent offenders

This bill would require DOE and ACS to issue a yearly report on educational statistics and related incidents pertaining to juvenile delinquents, juvenile offenders and adolescent offenders in ACS division facilities. This report must include statistics on educational programming enrollment, available services, attendance, use of restraints, and other related indicators.

Since it was heard, DOC was removed from required reporting. This bill was also amended to require reporting on (1) educational services for students with disabilities and English language learners; (2) the average number of days between release from ACS division custody and re-enrollment into department of education schools; and (3) the reasons why students do not attend educational programming. This bill also received technical edits.

Report of the Committee on Environmental Protection, Resiliency and Waterfronts

Report for Int. No. 532-A

Report of the Committee on Environmental Protection, Resiliency and Waterfronts in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to installing pumpout facilities to establish the coastal waters of the city as no-discharge zones.

The Committee on Environmental Protection, Resiliency and Waterfronts, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on June 16, 2022 (Minutes, page 1522), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On December 20, 2023, the New York City Council Committee on Environmental Protection, Resiliency, and Waterfronts (the “Committee”), chaired by Council Member James Gennaro, will hold a hearing to vote on Proposed Int. No. 532-A, sponsored by Council Member Gennaro, in relation to installing pumpout facilities to establish the city’s coastal waters as no-discharge zones. Proposed Int. No. 532-A was first heard by the Committee on February 3, 2023.

II. BACKGROUND

No-discharge zones (“NDZs”) are areas in which treated and untreated sewage discharges from vessels are prohibited under federal law.¹ Designating a body of water as an NDZ may address both human health and environmental concerns, as sewage discharges from boats can contain bacteria, viruses, chemical products, and nutrients that may stimulate harmful algal growth.² In 2010, New York State and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (“EPA”) announced a joint initiative to establish NDZs in all coastal and navigable connecting waterways of the State.³ Currently, the bodies of water in New York City (“NYC” or the “City”) with an NDZ designation are the portions of the Hudson River and Long Island Sound within New York State, as well as Jamaica Bay.⁴

The Clean Water Act (“CWA”) provides that states may apply to the EPA to designate a body of water as an NDZ.⁵ The EPA may approve the NDZ application if it determines that the protection and enhancement of the water body requires an NDZ; it determines that the water body has adequate⁶ pumpout facilities and the state determines in its application that the water body requires an NDZ; or if it establishes that water body is a drinking water intake zone.⁷ To enforce the NDZ designation, the federal government may assess a civil penalty of not more than $2,000 against owners or operators of vessels that illegally discharge sewage from a vessel.⁸

⁶ The federal government has determined that an adequate number of pumpout stations is one station per 300 to 600 boats; US Fish and Wildlife Service, “Clean Vessel Act: Pumpout Station and Sump Station Technical Guidelines,” March 10, 1994. Additionally, the United States Coast Guard may inspect and, under certain conditions, detain vessels suspected of illegally discharging sewage.⁹

III. LEGISLATION

Proposed Int. No. 532-A

Federal law requires sufficient vessel waste pumpout facilities for a body of water to be designated as an NDZ for water protection purposes. This bill would require the Department of Environmental Protection (“DEP”) to report by December 31, 2025 on the additional construction and installation of pumpout facilities needed to establish each of the City’s coastal bodies of water as an NDZ. The report would also include information such as anticipated costs, and identification of the coastal bodies of water for which establishment of an NDZ would be most beneficial to water quality, and whether DEP has made a determination that establishment of an NDZ is not feasible for any individual coastal body of water in the City. Additionally, the bill would require DEP to install at least two pumpout facilities per year until each of the City’s coastal bodies of water hosts the number of operational pumpout facilities required to become an NDZ as determined by such report. However, DEP would not have to install pumpout facilities pursuant to this bill if the report determines that it would be infeasible to establish any individual coastal body of water in the City as an NDZ. The bill would require DEP to report every two years on progress regarding the foregoing, and to make best efforts to ensure that no-discharge zones continue to meet federal eligibility criteria for no-discharge zones once they are established.

This local law would take effect immediately.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: According to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), the projected cost for the construction of a pumpout station is $180,000. As a result, the potential capital cost of the legislation would be $360,000 annually to install two pumpout stations each year. This legislation calls for the installation of no less than two pumpout stations per year until such a time as the City's coastal bodies of water are designated as no-discharge zones. There are several potential costs relating to the legislation that would not be able to be determined until it was implemented, including: land acquisition, sewer extensions, additional staffing.

Int. No. 532-A

By Council Members Gennaro, Restler, Holden, Riley, Velázquez, Cabán, Hanif and Rivera.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to installing pumpout facilities to establish the coastal waters of the city as no-discharge zones

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Subchapter 1 of chapter 1 of title 22 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 22-112.1 to read as follows:

§ 22-112.1 a. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the term “pumpout facility” has the meaning ascribed to such term in the environmental conservation law.

b. No later than December 31, 2025, the department of environmental protection shall develop a report that would summarize the additional construction and installation needed for all coastal bodies of water of the city to be designated as no-discharge zones. Such report shall include, at a minimum:

- 1. Which coastal bodies of water of the city have been designated as no-discharge zones;*
- 2. The existing number and locations of pumpout facilities in or adjacent to the city’s coastal bodies of water;*
- 3. Determine the number of additional pumpout facilities required to establish a no-discharge zone in each coastal body of water in the city, and the necessary locations of such pumpout facilities;*
- 4. The costs that would be incurred in order to establish a no-discharge zone in each remaining coastal body of water in the city; and*
- 5. The coastal bodies of water in which the establishment of a no-discharge zone would be most beneficial to water quality.*

c. If the department of environmental protection determines that establishing certain coastal bodies of water as no-discharge zones is not feasible despite the best efforts of city government, or if the fiscal cost of the installation of pumpout facilities along a particular coastal body of water would be significantly in excess of the typical cost of installation for equivalent pumpout facilities in other locations in the city, the department of environmental protection shall include such determination in the report and make recommendations with respect to actions that may be undertaken to achieve no-discharge zone status in all of the coastal bodies of water of the city.

d. Each calendar year, beginning in the calendar year following the issuance of the report required pursuant to subdivision b of this section, until all of the coastal bodies of water of the city are designated as no-discharge zones or the department of environmental protection determines that establishing all of the coastal bodies of water of the city as no-discharge zones is not feasible pursuant to subdivision c of this section, the department of environmental protection shall install at least 2 public pumpout facilities until each coastal body of water hosts the number of operational pumpout facilities the department of environmental protection determines is required to be established as a no-discharge zone pursuant to the report required by subdivision b of this section or any update of such report. The department of environmental protection shall prioritize installing pumpout facilities in or around the coastal bodies of water that would most benefit from being designated no-discharge zones, as identified pursuant to the report required by subdivision b of this section or any update of such report.

e. By December 31, 2027, and by December 31 of every second year thereafter, until all of the coastal bodies of water of the city have been designated as no-discharge zones by the United States environmental protection agency, other than any portions of such coastal bodies of water for which a determination has been made pursuant to subdivision c of this section, the department of environmental protection shall submit a report to the mayor and the council including but not limited to the following:

1. The number and locations of pumpout facilities constructed in or adjacent to the city's coastal bodies of water since the date of the most recent report issued pursuant to this section and the number and locations of pumpout facilities to be constructed during the following calendar year;
 2. Which coastal bodies of water of the city have been designated as a no-discharge zone since the date of the most recent report issued pursuant to this section;
 3. An assessment of priorities pursuant to subdivision d of this section; and
 4. An assessment of progress toward establishing all of the city's coastal bodies of water as no-discharge zones.
 - f. The department of environmental protection shall use best efforts to ensure that all no-discharge zones continue to meet federal eligibility criteria for no-discharge zones promulgated pursuant to the clean water act.
- § 2. This local law takes effect immediately.

Item #1: Sojourner Truth Houses

Sojourner Truth (“Project”) currently has an Article V tax exemption and is looking to obtain an additional period of exemption through Article V. At closing, the owner and HPD will enter into a 40-year and 4-month regulatory agreement as a condition of receiving the new Article V tax exemption for the 40-year exemption period beginning April 22, 2024, and amending the existing Article V expiring on April 21, 2024 to adjust the taxes due for FY24 to reflect HPD’s term sheet requirements. Being that the original Article V tax exemption cannot be longer or shorter than forty years, Program has decided to execute the Regulatory Agreement in December 2023 while letting the original Article V exemption expire April 21, 2024 to have the regulatory agreement and the new tax exemption end at the same time.

The Project consists of three buildings that are located at 980 Columbus Avenue, 988 Columbus Avenue, and 73 West 105th Street (AKA 921 Columbus Avenue). Combined, these buildings have 92 total units including one superintendent's unit. 91 units are covered under a 20-year Mark-Up-to-Market HAP contract under Project Based Section 8. The super's unit is not covered by the HAP contract. The buildings contain a total of 5 studios, 42 one-bedrooms, 44 two-bedrooms (one of which is a superintendent's unit), and 1 three-bedroom.

In connection herewith, Council Member Brannan offered the following two resolutions (Res. Nos. 869 and 870):

Preconsidered Res. No. 869

Resolution approving an amendment to a previously approved real property tax exemption pursuant to Section 125(1)(a) of the Private Housing Finance Law for property located at (Block 1841, Lot 1; Block 1863, Lot 29), Manhattan (Preconsidered L.U. No. 298).

By Council Member Brannan.

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development (“HPD”) submitted to the Council its request dated December 7, 2023 that the Council amend a previously approved tax exemption for real property located at (Block 1841, Lot 1; Block 1863, Lot 29), Manhattan (“Exemption Area”) pursuant to Section 125(1)(a) of the Private Housing Finance Law;

WHEREAS, the HPD’s request for amendments is related to a previously approved Board of Estimate Resolution adopted on April 16, 1982 (Cal. No. 2) (the “Prior Resolution”), granting the Exemption Area a real property tax exemption pursuant to Section 125(1)(a) of the Private Housing Finance Law;

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the financial implications relating to the Tax Exemption;

RESOLVED:

The Council approves the amendments to the Prior Resolution requested by HPD for the Exemption Area pursuant to Section 125(1)(a) of the Private Housing Finance Law as follows:

Paragraph 2 of the Prior Resolution is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

2. That the Board of Estimate, pursuant to subdivision 1(a) of the PHFL, does hereby approve the exemption from local and municipal taxes, other than assessments for local improvements, of all of the value of the property included in the Project (excluding, however, those portions, if any, authorized to be used for business and commercial purposes), provided that the amount of such taxes to be paid shall be as follows: (a) for all tax years prior to July 1, 2023, the annual aggregate amount of $27,164, representing the Minimum Annual Ten Percent of Shelter Rent taxes for the residential portion of the Project, plus an additional amount after the tax exemption first becomes effective, which additional amount shall equal 25% of the amount by which the Contract Rent applicable to the Project annually exceeds the Contract Rent in effect as of the date of occupancy of the Project by eligible tenants, and (b) for the period commencing upon July 1, 2023 and ending upon April 20, 2024, in the sum of $383,105. Solely for purposes of subparagraph (a) hereof, (i) Contract Rent is defined in the HUD Regulations promulgated pursuant to Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, and (ii) local annual real estate taxes for the residential portion of the Project shall not, at any time, exceed the lesser of either 17 percent of Contract Rent for that year or the amount of real estate taxes that otherwise would be due in the absence of any form of tax exemption or abatement provided for by existing or future local law or state legislation.

The exemption granted herein shall operate and continue for so long as a federally-aided and/or assisted mortgage is outstanding, but in no event for a period of more than forty (40) years, commencing on the date on which the benefits of such exemption first become available and effective.

The tax exemption shall first become available and effective, at the option of the Redevelopment Company, upon either of the following dates: (a) July 1st of that year in which the Project would be subject to tax based upon an increase in assessment resulting from improvements made to the property by the Redevelopment Company, or (b) the date of issuance of the Certificate of Occupancy, temporary or permanent, for each such stage. In the event the Redevelopment Company shall elect alternative (a) as the effective and available tax exemption date, it shall notify the Finance Department, the Bureau of Real Property Assessment and the Department of Housing Preservation and Development of its election prior to the last date upon which the taxable status of real property can be altered or modified for a particular tax year. If alternative (a) is not so elected, alternative (b) shall be the effective and available tax exemption date.

Except as specifically amended above, all other terms, conditions, provisions and requirements of the Prior Resolution remain in full force and effect.

And be it further Resolved;

Preconsidered Res. No. 870

Resolution approving an additional period of exemption from real property taxes for property located at (Block 1841, Lot 1; Block 1863, Lot 29) Manhattan, pursuant to Section 125(1)(a-3) of the Private Housing Finance Law (Preconsidered L.U. No. 298).

Report of the Committee on General Welfare

Report for Int. No. 1153-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring reports on removals involving individuals experiencing homelessness and the outcomes for those individuals.

The Committee on General Welfare, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on August 3, 2023 (Minutes, page 2254), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On December 19, 2023, the Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Deputy Speaker Diana Ayala, will consider Proposed Introduction Number (Int. No.) 1153-A, sponsored by Council Member Sandy Nurse. The Committee previously held a hearing on Int. No. 1153 on December 7, 2023, where the Committee received testimony from the Department of Social Services and various advocacy organizations.

II. Bill Analysis

This bill would require the Commissioner of Social Services to produce two quarterly reports, in consultation with the Police Commissioner, the Commissioner of Sanitation, and the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation. The first report would track each time a city agency worked to remove a person experiencing homelessness from a public space, including when the removal was coordinated among multiple agencies and when a person was asked to vacate a public space by a police officer. The second report would track how many individuals were affected by the removal, what housing services they were offered and whether there were any involuntary removals or arrests.

Since introduction, the bill was amended to require reporting on a quarterly basis, rather than a monthly basis. Since introduction, the bill was also amended to include a definition of affected individual, to mean any individual perceived as experiencing homelessness who is temporarily or permanently removed from a location or whose personal property has been cleared at a location.

5. Approve an exemption of the Exemption Area from real property taxes pursuant to Section 577 of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law.

WHEREAS, the Project is to be developed on land that is an eligible area as defined in Section 692 of the General Municipal Law, consists solely of the rehabilitation or conservation of existing private or multiple dwellings or the construction of one to four unit dwellings, and does not require any change in land use permitted under the New York City Zoning Resolution;

WHEREAS, upon due notice, the Council held a public hearing on the Project on October 11, 2023; and

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the land use and financial implications and other policy issues relating to the Project.

By Council Members Salamanca and Louis.

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("HPD") submitted to the Council on October 2, 2023 its request dated October 2, 2023 that the Council take the following action regarding the proposed Urban Development Action Area Project (the "Project") located at Block 4009, Lot 47; Block 4010, Lot 6; Block 4030, Lots 19 and 20; Block 4072, Lots 25 and 27; Block 4074, Lot 39; Block 4076, Lot 25; Block 4078, Lot 11; and Block 4083, Lot 146, Community District 5, Borough of Brooklyn (the "Disposition Area"):

WHEREAS, the Application is related to application G 230038 XAK (L.U. No. 283), for approval of an exemption from real property taxes;

WHEREAS, the Project is to be developed on land that is an eligible area as defined in Section 692 of the General Municipal Law, consists solely of the rehabilitation or conservation of existing private or multiple dwellings or the construction of one to four unit dwellings, and does not require any change in land use permitted under the New York City Zoning Resolution;

RESOLVED:

The Council finds that the present status of the Disposition Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the City of New York and that a designation of the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project is consistent with the policy and purposes stated in Section 691 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council waives the designation requirement of the Disposition Area as an Urban Development Action Area pursuant to Section 693 of the General Municipal Law.

Resolution approving an Urban Development Action Area Project and waiving the urban development action area designation requirement and the Uniform Land Use Review Procedure pursuant to Article 16 of the General Municipal Law, and approving a real property tax exemption pursuant to Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law for property located at 150 West 121st Street (Block 1905, Lot 155), 204 West 120th Street (Block 1925, Lot 38), 271 West 126th Street (Block 1932, Lot 1), and 305 West 126th Street (Block 1953, Lot 27), Borough of Manhattan, Community District 10 (Preconsidered L.U. No. 293; G 230039 XAM).

By Council Members Salamanca and Louis.

WHEREAS, the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development ("HPD") submitted to the Council on November 13, 2023 its request dated November 13, 2023 that the Council take the following actions regarding the proposed Urban Development Action Area Project (the "Project") located at 150 West 121st Street (Block 1905, Lot 155), 204 West 120th Street (Block 1925, Lot 38), 271 West 126th Street (Block 1932, Lot 1), and 305 West 126th Street (Block 1953, Lot 27), Community District 10, Borough of Manhattan (the "Disposition Area"):

1. Find that the present status of the Disposition Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the municipality and that the proposed Urban Development Action Area Project is consistent with the policy and purposes of Section 691 of the General Municipal Law;

2. Waive the area designation requirement of Section 693 of the General Municipal Law pursuant to Section 693 of the General Municipal Law;
3. Waive the requirements of Sections 197-c and 197-d of the Charter pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law;
4. Approve the project as an Urban Development Action Area Project pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law; and
5. Approve an exemption of the Exemption Area from real property taxes pursuant to Section 577 of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law.

WHEREAS, the Project is to be developed on land that is an eligible area as defined in Section 692 of the General Municipal Law, consists solely of the rehabilitation or conservation of existing private or multiple dwellings or the construction of one to four unit dwellings, and does not require any change in land use permitted under the New York City Zoning Resolution;

WHEREAS, upon due notice, the Council held a public hearing on the Project on December 5, 2023; and

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the land use and financial implications and other policy issues relating to the Project.

RESOLVED:

The Council finds that the present status of the Disposition Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the City of New York and that a designation of the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project is consistent with the policy and purposes stated in Section 691 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council waives the area designation requirement pursuant to Section 693 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council waives the requirements of Sections 197-c and 197-d of the New York City Charter pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council approves the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law.

The Project shall be developed in a manner consistent with the Project Summary that HPD has submitted to the Council on November 13, 2023, a copy of which is attached hereto.

Pursuant to Section 577 of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law, the Council approves an exemption of the Disposition Area from real property taxes as follows:

- a. All of the value of the property in the Disposition Area, including both the land and any improvements (excluding those portions, if any, devoted to business, commercial, or community facility use), shall be exempt from real property taxation, other than assessments for local improvements, for a period commencing upon the later of (i) the date of conveyance of the Disposition Area to the Sponsor, or (ii) the date that HPD and the Sponsor enter into a regulatory agreement governing the operation of the Disposition Area (“Effective Date”) and terminating upon the earlier to occur of (i) a date which is forty (40) years from the Effective Date, (ii) the date of the expiration or termination of the regulatory agreement between HPD and the Sponsor, or (iii) the date upon which the Disposition Area ceases to be owned by either a housing development fund company or an entity wholly controlled by a housing development fund company (“Expiration Date”).

- b. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, the exemption from real property taxation provided hereunder ("Exemption") shall terminate if HPD determines at any time that (i) the Disposition Area is not being operated in accordance with the requirements of Article XI of the Private Housing Finance Law, (ii) the Disposition Area is not being operated in accordance with the requirements of the regulatory agreement between HPD and the Sponsor, (iii) the Disposition Area is not being operated in accordance with the requirements of any other agreement with, or for the benefit of, the City of New York, or (iv) the demolition of any private or multiple dwelling on the Disposition Area has commenced without the prior written consent of HPD. HPD shall deliver written notice of any such determination to the owner of the Disposition Area and all mortgagees of record, which notice shall provide for an opportunity to cure of not less than sixty (60) days. If the noncompliance specified in such notice is not cured within the time period specified herein, the Exemption shall prospectively terminate.
- c. In consideration of the Exemption, the Sponsor and any future owner of the Disposition Area, for so long as the Exemption shall remain in effect, shall waive the benefits, if any, of any additional or concurrent exemption from or abatement of real property taxation which may be authorized under any existing or future local, state or federal law, rule or regulation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein shall prohibit the granting of any real property tax abatement pursuant to Sections 467-b or 467-c of the Real Property Tax Law to real property occupied by senior citizens or persons with disabilities.
- d. The provisions of the Exemption shall apply separately to each individual property comprising the Disposition Area, and a sale or other event which would cause the expiration, termination, or revocation of the Exemption with respect to one property in the Disposition Area shall not affect the continued validity of the Exemption with respect to other properties in the Disposition Area.

II. LEGISLATIVE ANALYSIS

a. Prop. Int. No. 946-A

The New York City Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is administered through the New York City Office of Labor Relations and provides services to New York City non-uniform Mayoral agencies, the New York City Department of Corrections, New York City Housing Authority and NYC Health + Hospitals.¹ Generally, an EAP provides education, information, counseling, and individualized referrals to assist with a wide range of personal and social problems.²

Prop. Int. No. 946-A, sponsored by Council Member Hudson, requires the designation of an existing employee as a mental health coordinator in each city agency to assist and perform outreach to city employees with mental health needs. The bill requires the head of each agency, in consultation with the Mayor's Office for People with Disabilities, to designate an employee as such agency's mental health coordinator. Each coordinator will assist each agency in coordinating efforts to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act and other federal, state, and local laws and regulations concerning accessibility and support for city employees with mental health needs. The mental health coordinator would also be required to perform outreach to city employees about mental health services and support services available, including the EAP.

Since its initial hearing, the proposed bill was amended to clarify that an existing employee shall be designated as the mental health coordinator. The proposed bill was also amended to include, when appropriate, referrals to the agency's equal employment opportunity officer as part of the mental health coordinators' responsibilities.

b. Res. No. 584

Res. No. 584 calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to enter the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact, the Nurse Licensure Compact, and the Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact, to enhance the portability of medical and mental health providers to become licensed in multiple participating states.

The Interstate Medical Licensure Compact (IMLC) is a legally binding agreement between 2 or more states and establishes a formal, legal relationship to address common problems or to promote a common agenda.³ Compacts are a flexible policy tool used to address issues where states have a need to coordinate.⁴ In recent years, the growth of telemedicine and other technologies has created new opportunities to increase access to healthcare for patients in underserved or rural areas and to allow them to connect more easily with medical experts: physicians are increasingly able to use telemedicine to practice in multiple states.⁵ The IMLC creates a voluntary, expedited pathway to state licensure for physicians who want to practice medicine in multiple states.⁶ Eligible physicians can qualify to practice medicine in multiple states by completing just one application, and thus the overall process of gaining a license is significantly streamlined.⁷ Only states who have formally joined can participate in this streamlined licensure process, and in order to participate, states must pass legislation authorizing it.⁸

Similarly, the Nurse Licensure Compact (NLC) is an interstate agreement that allows nurses to have one license issued by their home state that they can use to practice in any state that is a member of the NLC.⁹ Under the NLC, a nurse holding a multistate license can practice telehealth in all NLC-member states without needing a separate nursing license in each state.¹⁰ The NLC also facilitates online nursing education: because nursing faculty generally are required to hold a nursing license in each state in which they have students, the NLC significantly eases the burdens on schools and nursing faculty who are able to acquire a multistate license issued by their home state.¹¹

Lastly, the Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact (PSYPACT) is an interstate agreement designed to facilitate the practice of telepsychology and the temporary in-person, face-to-face practice of psychology across state boundaries.¹² It allows a practitioner to practice either in the PSYPACT member states using a multistate license or by obtaining a "compact privilege or compact authorization."¹³ PSYPACT is designed to allow licensed psychologists to practice of telepsychology and conduct temporary in-person face-to-face practice of psychology across state boundaries legally and ethically without necessitating that an individual become licensed in every state to practice.¹⁴ Through PSYPACT, consumers have greater access to care, and allows licensed psychologists to provide continuity of care as clients/patients relocate.¹⁵ Psychologists will also be able to reach populations that are currently underserved, geographically isolated, or lack specialty care.¹⁶ States have an external mechanism that accounts for all psychologists who may enter their state to practice telepsychology or conduct temporary in-person, face-to-face practice, thus indicating psychologists have met defined standards to practice in other states.¹⁷

Ahmad Samhan was a longtime resident and business entrepreneur of Fort Greene, Brooklyn. He was born in a small village in Palestine and later migrated to Brooklyn, New York in March 1973. He resided on Vanderbilt Ave between Myrtle and Park for over 30 years before starting a family of his own in his childhood home. Inspired by fellow Brooklyn residents, Ahmad was determined to be the true definition of an American-Arab pioneer. From the age of 13, he began to work so that he may provide additional income for his family. His earliest business ventures varied from delivering newspapers door-to-door in the neighborhood, to selling water bottles on the street, to washing car windows at the gas station formerly located on Vanderbilt Avenue, to working as a bag boy at the Met Food supermarket on Myrtle Avenue. Many people in the neighborhood recall his inviting smile and incredible sense of humor. Aside from his remarkable work ethic, he was known in the community for his impressive intellect. As a student at Samuel J. Tilden high school, he was a member of the school band and played the French horn. After graduating high school in 1987, he obtained his baccalaureate at John Jay College in Criminal Justice. Although very fond of and well versed in criminology and justice, he found his niche as an entrepreneur instead. He went on to own over eight businesses in his lifetime, two of which were on Myrtle Avenue. Paying homage to his Palestinian roots, Ahmad opened his first restaurant 'Zaytoons' in Carroll Gardens in 1995. Following the immediate success of that location, Ahmad was able to open a second location in his own backyard on Myrtle Avenue. Of all his businesses across Brooklyn, this location was always Ahmad's favorite. However, as the neighborhood began to transform, Ahmad realized he too would have to adapt to the evolving neighborhood. After 15 years of serving the community Middle Eastern food, Ahmad converted Zaytoons into a taqueria in 2017. Villa Pancho would eventually close after his untimely passing in 2020. The neighborhood not only enjoyed his cuisines, they were acquainted with his exuberant personality. Ahmad was known for stopping anyone and talking to them. The bench in front of his business has encountered a multitude of conversations varying from common street banter to the deep and thought-provoking conversations that many people in the community expressed their gratitude for after his passing. Indifferent of age, religion, politics, race or beliefs, Ahmad always found a way to connect to the people he would converse with. He left an incredible impression on those who knew him. He was an extraordinary man who could relate to anyone who interacted with him. He was best described as a wealth of knowledge, always able to relate and understand anyone he happened upon. He spent many days sitting on the bench in front of his restaurant talking to his neighbors and bringing joy to their lives as they brought joy to his. He cared for the community that contributed to his upbringing and constantly reminded everyone around him to always give back to their local communities as it is what shapes the future generations. II. BACKGROUND

Police Investigative Encounters:

In New York, case law has developed an overarching framework used to evaluate the legality of police investigative encounters, identifying levels of police intrusion and establishing corresponding degrees of knowledge of criminality an officer must possess in order to justify action at each such level.¹ The levels of investigative encounters are as follows:

- Level 1 – Request for Information: An officer can approach an individual and request information when there are "objective credible reasons" for the interference (public service or law enforcement), but not necessarily indicative of criminality.²
 - An officer can ask "basic, nonthreatening questions regarding, for instance, identity, address or destination."³
 - The "brevity of the encounter and the absence of harassment or intimidation [is] relevant in determining whether a police initiated encounter is a mere request for information."⁴C
 - An officer cannot request permission to search.⁵
 - General community engagement, such as an officer saying hello, answering questions, giving directions, or talking about what is going on in the community, does not constitute a Level 1 stop.⁶
- Level 2 – Common-Law Right of Inquiry: Higher intrusion of privacy than Level 1, and can obtain explanatory information by means of short or forcible seizure. This level can be activated by a "founded suspicion that criminal activity is afoot."

¹ People v. DeBour, 40 N.Y.2d 210 (1976), People v. Hollman & Saunders 79 NY2d 181 (1992)

- Level 2 stop is triggered when an officer asks "more pointed questions that would lead the person approached reasonably to believe that he or she is suspected of some wrongdoing and is the focus of the officer's investigation."⁷
- An officer can request permission to search,⁸ but cannot forcibly detain.⁹
- Level 3 – Reasonable suspicion to Stop: Officer can forcibly stop and detain a person when the officer has a "reasonable" suspicion that the person has committed, is committing or is about to commit a felony or misdemeanor.¹⁰ An officer can conduct a frisk upon the belief that the individual is armed and dangerous.¹¹

Level 4 – Probable Cause to Arrest: Has probable cause to arrest and search incident to lawful arrest.¹²

In response to concerns that NYPD disproportionately targeted Black and Latino individuals for investigative encounters, in 2002, the New York City Council ("Council") enacted a local law requiring the NYPD report data on its practice known as "Stop-Question-and-Frisk" ("SQF"), which are Level 3 encounters that require an officer to have reasonable suspicion of criminality by the person detained.¹³ The law required quarterly reporting on the number of SQFs conducted by the NYPD in each police precinct, disaggregated by race, gender and the number of individuals arrested or issued a summons, as well as reporting on the factors leading to such stops.¹⁴

The data gathered from these reports showed that the number of individuals stopped by the NYPD steadily rose for many years – from under 100,000 stops in 2002, to over 300,000 stops in 2004 before peaking at over 680,000 stops in 2011.¹⁵ During this period, Black and Latino individuals were subject to being stopped by the NYPD at disproportionately high rates, as those populations consistently accounted for over 80% of all stops, and of all individuals stopped nearly 90% did not lead to a summons or arrest.¹⁶

The 2013 decision of Floyd v. City of New York, held that the manner in which the NYPD was conducting its stops violated the constitutional rights of a class of mostly Black and Latino New Yorkers, who were illegally stopped and frisked by police without requisite reasonable suspicion.¹⁷ Since the Floyd decision, as the NYPD has been subject to a federal monitor, the number of recorded stops has dramatically decreased, and the proportion of such stops conducted with sufficient legal basis has increased; however, the federal monitor recently reported concern that officers were significantly under-reporting the number of qualified encounters.¹⁸

Law Enforcement Use of Body-Worn Cameras

Body-worn cameras ("BWC") are widely used by law enforcement agencies as a means of documenting work undertaken by police officers.¹⁹ When utilized by police officers, BWCs can be a valuable tool by providing objective documentation of police investigations and officer-civilian encounters. Recordings can aid in supervisor review of officer performance, facilitate accountability for police misconduct or exonerate officers when faced with unfounded complaints, and inspire respectful interactions between officers and civilians by de-escalating potentially volatile encounters.²⁰

The Floyd decision included a remedial order which, in part, required the NYPD to address its use of stop-and-frisk in a way that violated peoples' constitutional rights by implementing a 1-year pilot program of deploying officers with BWCs, and assessing the effectiveness and cost of the program.²¹ In 2017, the Department began the process of full implementation of a BWC program. Beginning in April 2017, 1,300 officers in 20 precincts across the City were equipped with cameras.²² Phase II of the rollout began in December 2017 and resulted in all NYPD patrol officers being equipped with BWCs by February 2019.²³

During the rollout of the BWC program, the NYPD was required to solicit input from officers and the public regarding policies related to BWC use; and the Federal Monitor approved the resulting policy in April 2017.²⁴ Aspects of the approved policy were later incorporated into the NYPD's Patrol Guide in Procedure No. 212-123 "Use of Body-Worn Cameras," ("P.G. 212-123").²⁵ P.G. 212-123 includes protocols for all members of service and supervisors, regarding how to use BWCs in the routine course of duty, when to activate and deactivate the device, prohibited use, and the process for reviewing footage.²⁶ According to P.G. 221-123, officers are required to activate BWCs prior to engaging in any police action defined as: "[] any police service, as well as, law enforcement or investigative activity conducted in furtherance of official duties . . . includ[ing] responding to calls for service, addressing quality of life conditions, handling pick-up assignments and any self-initiated investigative or enforcement actions such as witness canvasses, vehicle stops and Investigative Encounters. All police actions are required to be recorded from start to finish, and officers are further instructed to "[r]ecord any interactions that escalate to become adversarial or may hold evidentiary value."²⁷

b. Release of BWC Footage

In February of 2019, the NYPD started reviewing pertinent footage recorded by BWCs in response to FOIL requests, after an appellate court determined that such footage was not a personnel record protected under Civil Rights Law Section 50-A, which has since been repealed.²⁸ This forced the NYPD to release BWC footage of critical incidents and to respond more broadly to FOIL requests for footage when made by the public and members of the press.²⁹

On July 9, 2020, the Department issued operations order No. 54 to establish policies for the public release of BWC footage of critical incidents.³⁰ The order defines critical incidents as any incident where: (i) there is use of force by one or more officers that results in death or serious physical injury; (ii) an officer discharges a firearm and such discharge hits or could hit a person; and (iii) any incident which the Police Commissioner determines the release of BWC footage will address vast public attention or concern, or will help enforce the law, preserve peace and/or maintain public order.³¹ Order No. 54 further established that the NYPD would share all relevant BWC footage with federal and state authorities investigating a critical incident, within 24-hours of the Department being notified of such an investigation, and publically release BWC footage of critical incidents within 30-days.³²

Right to Know Act – Consent Searches

In an effort to further regulate police-civilian encounters and protect individuals from police abuse, the Council enacted components of legislation in 2018 collectively known as “The Right to Know Act,” which sought to improve communication and transparency during police stops and searches. The Right to Know Act, as passed, requires NYPD officers to identify themselves when conducting investigative stops,³³ and requires officers to obtain proof of consent to conduct a search that otherwise has no legal basis.³⁴ The Right to Know Act further required NYPD report data on the total number of instances for which it gained consent to search an individual and demographics of such individuals.³⁵

Police Civil Litigation

Pursuant to Local Law 166 of 2017, the City’s Law Department is required to issue biannual public reports on civil actions against the NYPD and individual officers accused of misconduct.³⁶ The law requires reporting on each civil action filed against the NYPD, or employee of the Department, and for each such action to include relevant information, such as the date such action was filed and resolved, details regarding any alleged improper police conduct, and amount of any payment made pursuant to resolution of the case. The law limits the reporting obligations to civil actions commenced in a five-year period preceding each report.³⁷

According to a Legal Aid Society analysis of data released pursuant to Local Law 166, in 2022, New York City paid over $121 million to plaintiffs in lawsuits that alleged police misconduct.³⁸ The 2022 sum is almost $34 million more than in 2021 and represents the highest total for police misconduct settlements since 2018.³⁹ This jump can partially be attributed to six settlements of over $10 million, some of which stem from conduct that occurred decades ago.⁴⁰ However, the Legal Aid Society also cites lawsuits filed following the Black Lives Matter protests in 2020 as a rationale for the increase in NYPD misconduct settlements.⁴¹

Each fiscal year, the Comptroller's Office issues a report that examines claims filed against the City of New York and looks at trends by claim type across City agencies. In the most recent report covering FY21, the data indicated that both the number of tort claims and the average settlement and judgment payouts for cases filed

Fare Evasion and Fair Fares

According to the MTA, the agency could potentially lose $500 million in revenue due annually to subway fare evasion.⁴⁴ At the current base fare of $2.75, that is the equivalent of having about 180 million acts of fare evasion a year.⁴⁵ This is a loss of much needed operating revenue as the agency is expected to have an annual operating deficit of $2.5 billion by 2024.⁴⁶ The penalty for fare evasion is a $100 fine.⁴⁷

In order to combat fare evasion, the MTA has implemented a pilot program where the agency has hired private unarmed security guards and has placed them at six stations throughout the subway system.⁴⁸ The pilot program began earlier in 2022.⁴⁹ Officials from the MTA have indicated that it has been quality tested since August 2022 and has proven successful.⁵⁰ The MTA has said they plan to expand the pilot by adding an additional fifty private guards each month over the next several months.⁵¹ According to NYCTA President Richard Davey, the MTA has seen a dramatic increase in the amount of fares being collected in the stations where the private security guards have been deployed.⁵² In total, the MTA is netting approximately $100,000 a month in additional revenue due to the use of the private security guards.⁵³

NYPD's approach to enforcing fare evasion has shifted in recent years; both in terms of policy changes and enforcement priorities. In 2017, the NYPD implemented new directives for enforcing fare evasion within the subways, guiding officer discretion as to when to issue transit summonses and when to arrest individuals for criminal theft of service.⁵⁴ The policy established practices whereby individuals caught evading fares would not be subject to arrest unless they (1) had received three or more transit summonses within the last two years or has three or more unpaid/unanswered such summonses within the last eight years; or (2) met established criteria regarding prior criminal conduct committed within the subway system.⁵⁵

In a separate effort to reduce the occurrence of fare evasion, the City has taken measures to provide low-income individuals with access to discounted transit passes. One such program, "Fair Fares," was established in 2019 to provide reduced price transit rides for individuals meeting certain eligibility requirements.⁵⁶

Prop. Int. No. 538-A:

Prop. Int. No. 538-A would require the NYPD to report on instances where an individual denied an officer consent to a search. As discussed above, the City's "Right to Know Act," requires that NYPD officers, who otherwise lack authority to conduct a search, explain to civilians that searches will not be conducted if a person refuses to provide consent. Prop. Int. No. 538-A would expand existing reporting on such searches, to require the NYPD disclose the number instances where an officer sought, but was denied, consent to search an individual. Additionally, all reporting would be required to include information on whether consent was sought to search a person, vehicle, home or to collect forensic samples, whether the individual subject to such requests had limited English proficiency, and whether officers utilized interpretation services in seeking to obtain consent to search.

Since introduction, the enactment date of the legislation has been delayed to provide the Department with additional time to implement its provisions.

This bill would take effect July 1, 2024. The first report required pursuant to the legislation would be due within 30 days of September 30, 2024.

Prop. Int. No. 585-A:

Prop. Int. No. 585-A would require the NYPD to provide access to body-worn camera footage of an officer's law enforcement activity to the Department of Investigation's Inspector General within 10-days of receiving a request for such footage.

Since introduction, the legislation has been amended to remove requirements that body-worn camera footage be provided to the Department of Records, and to provide the NYPD with additional time to produce footage upon receiving a request from DOI.

This bill would take effect 30 days after becoming law.

Prop. Int. No. 586-A:

Prop. Int. No. 586-A would require the NYPD to publicly report on all police-civilian investigative encounters. Currently, the NYPD is only required to issue reports on "Level III" or "reasonable suspicion" stops where an officer has the legal authority to detain and search someone and prevent them from leaving. This legislation would expand that requirement to require reporting on all levels of police investigative encounters, disaggregated by police precinct, demographic information, factors leading to the investigative encounter, and whether the encounter resulted in any enforcement action or use-of-force incident.

Since introduction, the bill has been amended as follows. Language has been added to the definition of "investigative encounter" to clarify that encounters subject to reporting must be investigative in nature, and does not include casual conversations between police officers and members of the public. Additionally, the enactment date of the legislation was updated to provided the Department with sufficient time to implement the bill's requirements.

This bill would take effect immediately after becoming law. The first report required pursuant to the legislation would be due within 30 days of September 30, 2024.

Prop. Int. No. 638-A:

Prop. Int. No 638-A would require an annual report on all donations, which in aggregate exceed $1 million dollars in value, that are made to the New York City Police Department. It would also require information on programs or projects to which the NYPD applied those donations.

This bill would take effect immediately after becoming law. The first annual report required pursuant to this legislation would be due January 1, 2025.

Prop. Int. No. 781-A:

Prop. Int. No. 781-A would require the New York City Police Department to include in existing vehicle encounter reports, the justification used by an officer to conduct a vehicle stop, and if an observed offense was cited as the justification such vehicle stop, whether such offense was at the level of an infraction, violation, misdemeanor or felony.

Since introduction, the enactment date of the legislation has been amended to provide the Department with additional time to implement the provisions.

This bill would take effect August 1, 2024. The first report required pursuant to this legislation would be due October 31, 2024.

Prop. Int. No. 944-A:

Prop. Int. No. 944-A amends existing law requiring the Law Department to report on civil actions alleging improper conduct by NYPD officers. Currently, local law only requires reporting on civil actions commenced in a five-year period preceding each report. This legislation eliminates this five-year lookback limitation and requires public disclosure of all resolved civil actions, even if such action was filed more than 5-years prior to the reporting date.

Since introduction, the legislation has been amended to remove provisions that would require the Law Department update online reporting on civil actions against the NYPD within 15-days of the resolution of such actions.

This bill would take effect immediately after becoming law. The first report required pursuant to this legislation would be due January 31, 2025.

Prop. Int. No. 948-A:

Prop. Int. No. 948-A would expand existing requirements that NYPD report information and data regarding the department operations. Specifically, this legislation would require the Department to publish existing reporting on its website and expand reporting on metrics related to the Department's overtime usage.

Since introduction, the legislation has been amended to remove requirements that the Department report on a monthly basis, and instead retaining existing quarterly reporting periods. Additionally, provisions related to reporting on the Department's use of overtime were amended to clarify the specific categories of information required to be provided.

This bill would take effect July 1, 2024.

Prop. Int. No. 1011-A:

Prop. Int. No. 1011-A would require the Department of Social Services to develop informational materials on reduced fare programs administered by the City and to distribute such materials to individuals summoned for fare evasion in the subway system or on buses.

Since introduction, the legislation has been amended to require the Department of Social Service, rather than the NYPD to be responsible for the distribution of informational materials.

This bill would take effect 120 after becoming law.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the police department to report on police-civilian investigative encounters

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 14 of the administrative code of the city of New York, is amended by adding a new section 14-196 to read as follows:

§ 14-196 Report on investigative encounters.

a. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Investigative encounter. The term “investigative encounter” means an interaction between a member of the department and a member of the public for a law enforcement or investigative purpose. The term does not include a casual conversation or interaction between a member of the department and a member of the public unless such conversation or interaction is based on or, in the course of such conversation or interaction, an officer develops: an objective credible reason to approach; a founded suspicion that such member of the public has engaged in or will engage in criminal activity; a reasonable suspicion that such member of the public has committed, is committing, or is about to commit a crime; or a reasonable cause to believe that an offense is being or has been committed.

Level I encounter. The term “level I encounter” means an investigative encounter in which a member of the department requests information from a member of the public based on an objective credible reason for such encounter, and need not necessarily require any suspicion of criminal activity.

Level II encounter. The term “level II encounter” means an investigative encounter in which a member of the department requests information from a member of the public based on a founded suspicion that such member of the public has engaged in or will engage in criminal activity, and during which a reasonable person would feel free to leave.

Level III encounter. The term “level III encounter” means an investigative encounter in which a member of the department requests information from a member of the public based on a reasonable suspicion that such member of the public has committed, is committing, or is about to commit a crime, and during which a reasonable person would not feel free to leave.

Use of force incident. The term “use of force incident” has the same meaning as set forth in subdivision a of section 14-158.

b. Within 30 days of the quarter ending September 30, 2024, and thereafter within 30 days of the end of each quarter, the department shall submit to the mayor, the public advocate and the speaker of the council and post on its website a report for the previous quarter regarding investigative encounters conducted by the department. Such report shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

- 1. The total number of level I encounters;*
- 2. The total number of level II encounters;*
- 3. The total number of level III encounters.*

c. The information required pursuant to subdivision b of this section shall be disaggregated by the precinct in which such encounter occurred, and further disaggregated by each of the following:

- 1. The apparent race/ethnicity, gender, and age of the member of the public involved in the investigative encounter;*
- 2. The reason for the investigative encounter, including the conduct or offense or other circumstances that formed the basis for the investigative encounter;*
- 3. Whether the investigative encounter was based on observations made by a member of the department, a response to a dispatch from a police radio, information provided by a witness, or on another basis;*
- 4. Whether a criminal or civil summons was issued to the member of the public involved in the investigative encounter, or whether an arrest of such person was made;*
- 5. Whether a use of force incident involving such member of the public occurred during such encounter; and*
- 6. Whether a level III encounter with such member of the public began as a level I or level II encounter, and whether a level II encounter with such member of the public began as a level I encounter.*

d. The information required pursuant to this section shall be stored permanently and shall be accessible from the department’s website. The information shall be provided in a format that permits automated processing. Each report shall include a comparison of the current reporting period to the prior four reporting periods, where such information is available.

5. The department of sanitation or other agency having custody of the vehicle or equipment, after judicial determination of forfeiture, shall, by public notice of at least 5 days, sell such forfeited vehicle or equipment at public sale. The net proceeds of any such sale shall be paid into the general fund of the city.

6. In any forfeiture action commenced pursuant to this subdivision, where the court awards a sum of money to 1 or more persons in satisfaction of such person's interest in the forfeited vehicle or equipment, the total amount awarded to satisfy such interest or interests shall not exceed the amount of the net proceeds of the sale of the forfeited vehicle or equipment after deduction of the lawful expenses incurred by the city, including reasonable costs of removal and storage of the vehicle or equipment between the time of the seizure and the date of sale.

§ 6. This local law takes effect immediately, except that section three of this local law expires and is deemed repealed 6 months after the first day of implementation of the program established by such section, and sections four and five of this local law take effect on the same day as such expiration and repeal, provided that the commissioner of consumer and worker protection shall notify the legislative bill drafting commission of such first day of implementation in order that the commission may maintain an accurate and timely effective database of the official text of the New York city charter and the administrative code of the city of New York in furtherance of effectuating the provisions of section 70-b of the public officers law and notify relevant publishers of such first day of implementation in furtherance of effectuating the provisions of section 7-111 of the administrative code, provided that failure to provide the notifications described in this section shall not affect the effective date of any section of this local law.

Report for Int. No. 1139-A

Report of the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to advertising on the interior of for-hire vehicles.

The Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on August 3, 2023 (Minutes, page 2237), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, chaired by Majority Whip Selvena N. Brooks-Powers, conducted a hearing to vote on Int. No. 1139-A, sponsored by Council Member Amanda Farías, in relation to advertising on the interior of for-hire vehicles. The Committee heard a previous version of the bill on October 13, 2023 at an oversight hearing to receive an update on the industries regulated by the New York City (“NYC” or “City”) Taxi and Limousine Commission (“TLC”), including the taxi and for-hire vehicle (“FHV”) industries. Those that testified included TLC representatives, taxi medallion owners and drivers, disability advocates, industry advocates, and other interested stakeholders.

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure adopted Int. No. 1139-A with a vote of 12 in the affirmative, zero in the negative, with zero abstentions.

BACKGROUND

The TLC, created in 1971, is responsible for the regulation and licensing of: taxicabs, including medallion taxicabs (also known as yellow taxis) and street hail liveries (also known as green or boro taxis); FHV; commuter vans; and paratransit vehicles.¹ The TLC has approximately 600 employees and its Board consists of nine members, eight of whom are unsalaried Commissioners, along with the salaried Commissioner and Chair (“TLC Chair”).² The TLC Chair is the head of the TLC and presides over its public meetings.³ The TLC regulates over 200,000 TLC licensees in NYC.⁴

Over the last decade, the FHV industry has experienced tremendous changes, particularly with the introduction of mobile application-based (“app-based”) FHV in the City. As a result, the number of licensed FHV dramatically increased from approximately 39,700 in 2011⁵ to more than 130,000 in March 2018, with the TLC issuing licenses to approximately 2,000 new FHV per month at that time.⁶ Ultimately, this led to the Council’s passage of Local Law 147 of 2018⁷, which paused the issuance of new FHV licenses, with an exception for wheelchair-accessible vehicles, and Local Law 149 of 2018,⁸ which created a new license category, High-Volume For-Hire Services (“HVFHS”) for TLC-licensed FHV bases that dispatch more than 10,000 trips per day.⁹ In 2022, TLC allowed an exemption for an additional 1,000 electric vehicle FHV.¹⁰ In September 2023, TLC data indicated that the total number of FHV licenses was 98,267.¹¹

More recently, the TLC, beginning on October 19, 2023, allowed any qualifying person or entity to apply for an EV license pursuant to the recent FHV License Report.¹² The opening of TLC licenses created a surge of demand from FHV drivers; however, the New York Taxi Workers Alliance (“NYTWA” or “Alliance”) filed a lawsuit resulting in the issuance of a temporary restraining order, forcing TLC to stop processing new EV license applications by November 13.¹³ The lawsuit and the Alliance argued that TLC’s lift on the license cap for EVs would add “an unlimited number of new cars to the roads” and “have a disastrous impact on driver income.”¹⁴ The TLC has received thousands of applications for the new EV licenses; however, no new applications may be processed.¹⁵

Uber’s Partnership with Yellow Taxis

In an effort to help both the HVFHS industry and yellow taxis after the COVID-19 pandemic, Uber announced on March 24, 2022 a partnership with two yellow taxi companies, Curb and CMT, to allow New Yorkers to order a yellow taxi on the Uber app.¹⁶ This was the first large-scale taxi-FHV agreement of its kind in the United States.¹⁷ Fares are based on Uber’s pricing and policies, including surge pricing, with pricing to be about the same price for a yellow taxi as for a standard individual UberX ride.¹⁸ Under the partnership, yellow taxi drivers have the option to accept or reject the hail, with pricing presented to them upfront.¹⁹

In August 2023, Uber began to automatically dispatch taxis to any NYC customer requesting an UberX, provided that a taxi is closer than a car being driven for Uber.²⁰ This is a way in which Uber believes it can increase efficiency in their dispatch system, allowing for faster matches with customers, and reducing time spent cruising without a fare for drivers.²¹

Vehicle Advertising

Among its many roles, the TLC regulates interior and exterior vehicle advertising. Under Section 59A-29(e) of the TLC’s rules, an owner must not display any advertising on the exterior or the interior of an FHV unless the advertising has been authorized by the TLC and TLC has issued a license to the owner.²² Despite this, such advertising was allowed to be displayed on the interiors and exteriors of FHV’s until July 2019, when TLC won a court decision, and quickly announced that they would resume enforcing its rules, requiring all advertisements be removed from FHV’s by August 31, 2019.²³

Although TLC rules allow for permits to be issued by TLC to FHV’s to advertise, TLC did not issue any advertising permits to FHV’s until 2018, when a federal court enjoined the Commission from enforcing those rules.²⁴ The court case was in relation to a Minnesota-based advertising company, which sued TLC after they refused to grant company permits to display video advertising on tablets in the back of Ubers, Lyfts, and other FHV’s.²⁵ The decision was eventually reversed by the federal appeals court, upholding TLC’s decision to ban advertising inside FHV’s.²⁶

There are some similarities between what would be provided for interior advertising in FHV’s and existing TLC requirement for taxicabs to be equipped with a Taxi TV and a Taxicab Technology System (otherwise known as a “T-PEP system”) to, among other things, process payments and collect data.²⁷ The main difference is that taxi drivers and vehicle owners do not earn any income from their advertisements from Taxi TVs; rather, any advertising revenue generated offsets the cost of the devices.²⁸ This difference is substantial; according to

LEGISLATIVE ANALYSIS

Analysis of Int. No. 1139-A

Int. No. 1139-A, sponsored by Council Member Farías, would permit for-hire vehicles to display digital advertising on an approved electronic tablet attached to the interior of the vehicle. The approved tablet would be capable of being turned on and off, muted, or having its volume adjusted by the passenger in the vehicle. No driver would be required to have a tablet in their vehicle or pay for the installation of a tablet in the vehicle they drive. It would also be unlawful for any HVFHS or other service regulated by TLC to take negative action against any driver if the driver chooses not to have an approved tablet in their car. Any driver of a for-hire vehicle with an approved tablet in their vehicle would receive 25 percent of the revenue generated by such tablet in their vehicle. TLC would license the persons who provide or supply the approved tablets.

If enacted, the provisions found in Int. No. 1139-A would take effect 90 days after it becomes law.

UPDATE

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure adopted Int. No. 1139-A with a vote of 12 in the affirmative, zero in the negative, with zero abstentions.

By Council Members Farías, Louis, Riley, Williams, Feliz, Sanchez, Stevens, Dinowitz, Lee, Schulman, Krishnan, Narcisse, Powers, Brooks-Powers, Marte, Ayala, Ung, Rivera, Won, Velázquez and Gennaro.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to advertising on the interior of for-hire vehicles

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 5 of title 19 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section § 19-525.1 to read as follows:

§ 19-525.1 Interior advertising in for-hire vehicles. a. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Approved electronic tablet. The term “approved electronic tablet” means a third-party device, including an electronic display, touchscreen, or similar device, that is approved by the commission, attached to the interior of a for-hire vehicle, capable of broadcasting electronic media to a passenger of such for-hire vehicle, and capable of being turned on and off, muted, or having its volume adjusted by such passenger, that meets the specifications set out in the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission under this section.

Approved software. The term “approved software” means any software running on an approved electronic tablet, approved by the commission, for the purpose of broadcasting electronic media to a passenger of a for-hire vehicle, that meets the specifications set out in the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission under this section.

Discriminate. The term “discriminate” means imposing any negative consequences on a driver, including but not limited to deactivating the driver, refusing to lease a for-hire vehicle to a driver, imposing an additional charge for leasing a vehicle without an approved electronic tablet, reducing the compensation provided to the driver, either directly or indirectly through manipulating the number or type of rides assigned to the driver, or disciplinary action.

Electronic media. The term “electronic media” means audio-visual content, including but not limited to advertising, interactive content, informative graphics, music, and videos.

b. Optional use of an approved electronic tablet. A for-hire vehicle may have an approved electronic tablet running approved software in such vehicle, provided that such vehicle does not have more than 1 such tablet operating in the vehicle at the same time. No driver shall be required to install or pay for the installation of an approved electronic tablet in such driver’s vehicle, or be required to operate a vehicle with an approved electronic tablet. No high-volume for-hire service or other service regulated by the commission may discriminate against a driver based on whether the driver chooses to operate a vehicle with an approved electronic tablet, or based on the brand or affiliation of the approved electronic tablet if a driver chooses to use an approved electronic tablet, or based on the approved software running on such approved electronic tablet, except that it shall not be discrimination for such a service to pay for the installation of an approved electronic tablet; to provide a driver of a vehicle in which an approved electronic tablet is installed a portion of the proceeds it receives from broadcasting electronic media on an approved electronic tablet, as determined pursuant to subdivision d of this section; or to facilitate the payment of a gratuity from a passenger to a driver through such approved electronic tablet.

c. Interior advertising company license required. It shall be unlawful for any person to provide or supply an approved electronic tablet for use in a for-hire vehicle unless such person secures a license therefor from the commission. The fee for the issuance of such license shall be no more than $500 a year. II. Bill Analysis

Proposed Int. No. 1237-A – A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the collection of demographic data on veterans.

This bill would further require DVS to compile all survey data collected and submit a report to the Speaker on the total number of veterans who have sought social services through the City, disaggregated by agency, type of service requested, and the council district in which such person resides. This bill would take effect 180 days after it becomes law. Since introduction the bill received technical edits.

This bill further requires DVS to include on its website a form that allows organizations that provide mental health services to veterans to submit information about the services offered to the department for potential inclusion in the required outreach and engagement. This bill would take effect 180 days after it comes law. Since introduction the bill received technical edits.

Proposed Int. No. 1241-A – A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the commissioner of veterans' services to submit an annual report on the provision of mental health services by city agencies to veterans.

Proposed Int. No. 1241-A would require the Commissioner of DVS to submit to the Speaker, the mayor and post on DVS' website an annual report on mental health services provided by City agencies to veterans. This bill would take effect 180 days after it becomes law. Since introduction the bill received technical edits.

Proposed Int. No. 1244-A – A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to an online resource tool and pamphlet for veterans.

Proposed Int. No. 1244-A would require DVS to maintain and operate an online resource tool to enable a veteran or a member of their household to request assistance with accessing and obtaining resources for veterans. This bill would require DVS to maintain a link to the online resource tool on its website and require the city to ensure that a link to the online resource tool is provided on any online platform through which the city disseminates information on social services and benefits. The bill further requires DVS to develop a pamphlet on the online resource tool, the veteran resource guide, and the locations of veteran resource centers. Res. No. 241-A Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, the Fair and Timely Parole Act (S307/A162) and Elder Parole Act (S2423/A2035).

By Council Member Hudson, the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Hanif, Brewer, Won, Avilés, Louis, Gutiérrez, Restler, Riley, Rivera, Sanchez, Joseph, Krishnan, Richardson Jordan, Ossé, Nurse, De La Rosa, Cabán, Narcisse, Farías and Marte.

Whereas, New York State's Parole Board (the Board) oversee approximately 12,000 parole hearings per year, according various sources; and

Whereas, The Board is required to consider whether parole-eligible people in custody are likely to commit future crimes upon release and whether their release will deprecate the seriousness of their crime when deciding whether to approve or deny release; and

Whereas, According to a report from the Correctional Association of New York (CANY), the Board has been criticized for not releasing enough incarcerated people who are up for parole; and

Whereas, CANY's analysis of the DOCCS Under Custody dataset in October 2020 found that 69% of incarcerated people were denied parole after their first hearing; and

Whereas, According to CANY's report, fifty-eight per cent of respondents to their study reported filing an appeal, with only 11% successfully appealing and being granted a de novo interview; and

Whereas, According to CANY, low parole release rates along with longer minimum sentence are reasons people are aging in New York prisons; and

Whereas, New York's aging prison population requires more expensive medical care because the aging population have many health problems and longer and more frequent hospitalizations related to their age, according to a report from the Office of the New York State Comptroller; and

Whereas, The long-term incarceration of aging people does not promote public safety as research shows people age 50 and older in New York prisons are least likely to re-offend; and

Whereas, New York parole system disparately affects Black and Latinx communities; and

Whereas, For example, between 2018 and 2020, 34 percent of Black and 33 percent Latinx parole-eligible person were approved for parole compared to 41 percent of white parole-eligible person who were approved during that same period, according to the Albany Times Union; and

Whereas, S307, introduced by State Senator Julia Salazar, and companion bill A162, introduced by State Assembly member David Weprin, would create a presumption of release for parole-eligible incarcerated persons unless there is a reasonable public safety reason to keep them in prison; and

Whereas, S307/A162 would ensure that the parole release process in New York is based on rehabilitation and current risk to public safety; and

Whereas, S307/A162 would also save the state roughly $60,000 per year for every parole-eligible incarcerated individual released from prison, according to state's estimates; and

Whereas, S2423, introduced by State Senator Brad Hoylman, and companion bill A2035, introduced by State Assembly Member Maritza Davila, would establish parole consideration for people at least 55 years old who have served 15 consecutive years in prison; and

Whereas, Parole advocates, such as Release Aging People in Prison (RAPP) indicate there are now about 8,000 older adults in the New York Prison system; and

Whereas, should S2423/A2035 become law, it could help thousands of elderly people in the New York prison system; and,

Whereas, according to a report from Columbia University, together the two bills, S2423/A2035 and S307/A162, are estimated to save $522 million annually for New York State, now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, the Fair and Timely Parole Act (S307/A162) and Elder Parole Act (S2423/A2035).

Report of the Committee on Public Safety in favor of approving a Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S1099/A1963 which would protect youth during custodial police interrogation.

Res. No. 473

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S1099/A1963 which would protect youth during custodial police interrogation.

By Council Members Cabán, Hanif, Hudson, Richardson Jordan, Stevens, Riley, Krishnan, Brooks-Powers, Barron, Avilés, Williams, Sanchez and Won.

Whereas, Youth under the age of 18, under certain circumstances, are subject to similar conditions as adults with regard to pre-arraignment detention; and

Whereas, In New York, youth can be arrested, taken for questioning, encouraged to waive their rights, and interrogated using sophisticated tactics designed to draw out a confession; and

Whereas, Reports indicate interrogations can sometimes involve remaining in police custody for more than 24 hours without a parent or guardian or access to legal counsel; and

Whereas, Experts report that brain neural regions responsible for decision making and for managing emotional or stressful situations socioemotionally are among the last to fully develop in youths; and

Whereas, This developmental immaturity reportedly makes youths more likely to act impulsively, make decisions based on emotion, and prioritize short-term rewards over long-term consequences; and

Whereas, As a result, youths are uniquely vulnerable to unknowingly, unintelligently, or involuntarily waiving their Miranda rights and providing unreliable confessions; and

Whereas, Analyses of Miranda warnings indicate they typically include language too complicated for youths to understand, even when written explicitly with children in mind, and the majority of justice-involved youth have serious misunderstandings of at least one critical vocabulary word in the Miranda warning; and

Whereas, Many youths have, at best, a very vague sense of what an attorney does or how having one might be helpful when talking with police; and

Whereas, Even if an adolescent understands their rights, research shows that adolescent brains are too immature to make sound decisions about whether to waive their rights; and

Whereas, Youth are likely to prioritize appeasing authority figures and are susceptible to saying what they believe police want to hear; and

Whereas, According to Behind Closed Doors: What Really Happens When Cops Question Kids, over 90% of youth waive their Miranda rights, and once they do, are substantially more at risk for giving a false confession than are adults; and

Whereas, New York state recently enacted legislation requiring videotaping of youth interrogations, but this is insufficient as a safeguard because recording does not help youth understand their rights or prevent them from giving false confessions, nor does it prevent wrongful convictions based on false confessions; and

Whereas, While New York's Raise the Age law mandates immediate parental notification that youth have been arrested and the location where they are being detained, this safeguard has proven ineffective in practice; and

Whereas, S1099 sponsored by Senator Bailey and A1963 sponsored by Assemblymember Joyner would, among other items, prohibit the police from questioning anyone under 18 before the person has consulted with an attorney and if the child were questioned before an attorney was present, their statement would be inadmissible in court; and

Whereas, S1099/A1963 also requires officers to contact parents before a child can be moved from the location of their arrest; and

Whereas, Youth who have contact with the criminal justice system are disproportionately poor, Black and Hispanic, more likely to have a developmental disability or mental health condition, and be disconnected from school, thus these pressured split-second and uncounseled decisions can have irrevocable consequences that will impact the young person for life; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S1099/A1963 which would protect youth during custodial police interrogation.

Report for voice-vote item Res. No. 556-B

Report of the Committee on Immigration in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.170/S.999, also known as the Access to Representation Act, which establishes the right to legal counsel in immigration court proceedings and provides for the administration thereof.

The Committee on Immigration, to which the annexed amended resolution was referred on April 11, 2023 (Minutes, page 979), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On December 20, 2023, the Committee on Immigration, chaired by Council Member Shahana Hanif, held a vote on: Resolution Number 556-B (Res. 556-B), sponsored by Council Member Crystal Hudson, calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.170/S.999, also known as the Access to Representation Act, which establishes the right to legal counsel in immigration court proceedings and provides for the administration thereof. A prior version of this bill was heard on April 28, 2023. Res. 556-B was approved by the Committee by a vote of five in the affirmative and zero in the negative.

II. BACKGROUND

a. Immigration Legal Proceedings

Removal proceedings begin when the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) files a Notice to Appear (NTA) with the immigration court after it is served on the noncitizen, who is called a respondent in immigration proceedings.¹ Removal proceedings take place in immigration court, before an immigration judge, an attorney whom the Attorney General appoints as an administrative judge within the U.S. Department of Justice, Executive Office for Immigration Review, Office of the Chief Immigration Judge.² The parties in removal proceedings are the noncitizen and DHS, who is represented by an attorney referred to as “the Assistant Chief Counsel,” “the DHS attorney,” or “the government attorney.”³

In a removal proceeding, an immigration judge determines a noncitizen’s removability or deportability from the United States and adjudicates “applications for relief from removal or deportation, including, but not limited to, asylum, withholding of removal, protection under the Convention Against Torture, cancellation of removal, adjustment of status, registry, and certain waivers.”⁴ DHS bears the evidentiary burden of establishing “alienage” (in the case of a noncitizen present in the United States without being admitted or paroled) or the noncitizen’s deportability from the United States (when the respondent is a lawful permanent resident).⁵ Once the immigration judge determines removability or deportability, the noncitizen bears the burden of proving eligibility for relief from removal.⁶

There is no right to representation for noncitizens in immigration court. A respondent in removal proceedings may appear without representation (“pro se”) or with representation from a practitioner authorized to provide representation under federal regulations.⁷ Immigrants who obtain legal representation are much likelier to win release from detention and prevail in their removal proceedings. Represented immigrants in detention who had a hearing to determine their ability to be released from DHS custody were four times more likely to be released from detention.⁸ Moreover, “detained immigrants with representation, when compared to their unrepresented counterparts, were ten-and-a-half times more likely to succeed” in terminating their removal proceedings or obtaining a grant of relief from removal or deportation.⁹ Finally, “immigrants who were never detained were three-and-a-half times more likely to succeed” in their immigration court proceedings.¹⁰

b. Growing Backlog

Since the summer of 2022, New York City has seen a significant increase in migrants and asylum seekers seeking care, with almost 140,000 coming to New York.¹¹ This has also been reflected in the increasing number of cases pending in New York immigration courts.¹² Although there has been an increase in cases in immigration courts across the country, New York City remains a top destination for asylum seekers and migrants.¹³ In August 2023, there were 14,084 NTAs received in New York City, compared to the second most preferred destination,

Houston, where 6,178 NTAs were received.¹⁴ New York continues to face a growing backlog of cases in immigration court. According to data gathered by Syracuse University's TRAC records, for Fiscal Year (FY) 2024 300,000 cases are pending in New York immigration courts.¹⁵ Pending cases have almost doubled since FY 2021, which had just over 160,000 cases.¹⁶ Additionally, more than half of the cases in the FY 2024 backlog do not have legal representation.¹⁷ The percentage of cases without legal representation in New York immigration courts has steadily increased since FY 2019, when only 14% of cases did not have legal representation.¹⁸ Between FY 2022 and FY 2023, the percentages of cases without legal representation jumped from 29% to 50%.¹⁹ In a closer look at the current pending cases without legal representation in New York based on the immigrant's address, New York County ranks in the top 7 lowest in the counties across the state, with only 24.6% represented out of roughly 24,000 cases.²⁰ Compared to Queens County with about 84,000 pending cases, about 53% have legal representation, and Kings County with almost 69,000 pending cases, about 52% have legal representation.²¹

c. Funding

In New York City there are a few funding streams that support organizations and initiatives that deal with immigration removal proceedings, such as the New York Immigrant Family Unity Project, which "is the first and largest public defender program in the country for detained immigrants facing deportation."²² The program commenced in 2013 with an initial investment from New York City Council and continues to receive funding from the city and the state each year.²³ Additionally, the city continues to support initiatives and organizations that provide legal counsel in removal proceedings, including the Immigrant Opportunities Initiative and Unaccompanied Minors and Families.²⁴ Funding for programs providing legal counsel in removal proceedings, however, is at risk in New York City. In the November 2023 Financial Plan's Program to Eliminate the Gap (PEG), the funding for the Rapid Response Legal Collective program under the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs is being reduced.²⁵

In 2022, Governor Hochul announced $3 million in funding for Catholic Charities, New York Legal Assistance Group, and Immigrant Advocate Response Collaborative.²⁶ This funding is administered over three years and includes funding for deportation defense.²⁷ This funding is added to the annual $13 million provided by the state's Office for New Americans to legal providers to provide legal services, including representation.²⁸ As the number of immigrants requiring legal representation grows, however, affordable resources are becoming scarcer, and advocates and providers are calling for New York State to fully fund legal services for immigrants.²⁹ In testimony for the NYC Council's Committee on Immigration's hearing related to Legal Services for Asylum Seekers, the Immigration and Nationality Law Committee of the New York City Bar Association called for an increase in funding to legal service providers to support legal representation for all immigrants in removal proceedings.³⁰

III. RES. NO. 556 AMENDMENTS

On April 28, 2023, the Committee on Immigration considered Res. 556 at a joint hearing with the Committee on Governmental Operations. The Committees received testimony from the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs, Human Resources Administration, the Department of Consumer and Worker Protection, Assembly Member Kenny Burgos, the NYC Public Advocate, immigration and housing advocates, and members of the public.

After the hearing, Res. 556 was amended to include positions from the New York State and American Bar Associations regarding funding needed to support access to legal representation for immigrants in removal proceedings. Res. 556 was also amended to include various initiatives in New York City that provide access to counsel in removal proceedings. Additionally, Res. 556 was amended to accurately reflect the growing backlog for cases in immigration court, the number of cases without legal representation, the updated number of asylum seekers and migrants in New York, and the recent budget cuts to immigration legal services being made in the November 2023 Financial Plan.

IV. RES. 556-B LEGISLATIVE ANALYSIS

The resolution calls on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.170/S.999, also known as the Access to Representation Act, which would establish a right to legal counsel for immigrants in removal proceedings in New York immigration courts who meet income requirements. The Act would also establish consistent funding streams for immigration legal services. The passage of the Act would make New York the first state in the nation to guarantee this right to counsel. Immigrants in removal proceedings are responsible for obtaining and paying for counsel in order to defend their right to remain in the United States. Immigrants often represent themselves even though the government will be represented by an attorney. Without legal representation, immigrants defending themselves against removal in New York immigration courts have a low success rate, compared to those represented by a lawyer who has knowledge of complex immigration law. The passage of this legislation would support long-term legal services for the influx of asylum seekers and migrants to New York City.

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

Res. No. 556-B

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.170/S.999, also known as the Access to Representation Act, which establishes the right to legal counsel in immigration court proceedings and provides for the administration thereof.

By Council Member Hudson, the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams) and Council Members Hanif, Abreu, Richardson Jordan, Restler, Ung, Brewer, Louis, Riley, Avilés, De La Rosa, Sanchez, Cabán and Won.

Whereas, The Sixth Amendment to the United States Constitution Assistance to Counsel clause provides criminal defendants with the right to counsel even if they are unable to afford an attorney; and

Whereas, Immigrants facing removal proceedings under federal immigration law are not protected by the Sixth Amendment and are not provided a government-paid lawyer in immigration court; and

Whereas, In 2017 the American Bar Association (ABA) called for both a federally funded system of appointed counsel for indigent respondents in removal proceedings as well as for states and localities to provide such counsel until the federal government does so; and

Whereas, In 2019 the New York State Bar Association (NYSBA) approved a resolution supporting the ABA position that there should be a federally funded system of appointed counsel for indigent respondents in removal proceedings, but urging the New York State Legislature to act in the meantime; and

Whereas, Immigrants and their families subject to deportation are responsible for the expense of counsel, locating a non-profit for legal support, or representing themselves even though the government will be represented by a professional attorney; and

Whereas, According to a Fordham University Law Review study, immigrants in New York immigration court without legal representation have a three percent success rate in defending their right to remain in the United States; and

Whereas, A study by the University of Pennsylvania Law School revealed immigrants in removal proceedings are over ten times more likely to win their case to remain in the United States when represented by a lawyer; and

Whereas, Commencing with a $500,000 investment by the New York City Council in 2013, the New York Immigrant Family Unity Project (NYIFUP) provides legal representation to indigent immigrants in removal proceedings in New York City and State; and

Whereas, New York City Council continues to provide immigrants in New York with access to counsel in deportation proceedings by funding various initiatives including NYIFUP, the Immigrant Children Advocates Response Effort (ICARE), the Immigrant Opportunity Initiative (IOI), and others; and

Whereas, According the November 2023 Financial Plan, immigration legal services provided by the Rapid Response Legal Collective are being cut under the Mayor's Program to Eliminate the Gap; and

Whereas, According to Syracuse University's TRAC-Immigration data reports, as of October 2023, over half of the backlog of over 300,000 cases in New York Immigration Courts lack legal representation--nearly 160,000 cases of individuals; and

Whereas, Over 140,000 migrants have arrived in New York City since the summer of 2022 who need access to both immediate and long-term legal services; and

Whereas, A.170, introduced by Assembly Member Catalina Cruz and pending in the New York State Assembly, and companion bill S.999 introduced by Senator Brad Hoylman-Sigal and pending in the New York State Senate, seeks to amend the executive law, in relation to establishing a universal right to legal counsel in immigration court proceedings; and

Whereas, In addition to establishing a universal right to counsel for indigent New Yorkers who are subject to removal proceedings under federal immigration law, A.170/S.999 establishes consistent funding streams for immigration legal services; and

Whereas, According to Vera Institute of Justice, A.170/S.999 will make New York the first state in the nation to guarantee the right to counsel for immigrants subject to removal under complex immigration law; and

Whereas, A.170/S.999 will codify elements of the New York Immigrant Family Unity Project, which provides legal representation to indigent immigrants in removal proceedings; and

Whereas, A.170/S.999 will expand representation to immigrant New Yorkers not currently covered by the New York Immigrant Family Unity Project; and

Whereas, A.170/S.999 will further establish New York as a defender of immigrant rights and dignity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.170/S.999, also known as the Access to Representation Act, which establishes the right to legal counsel in immigration court proceedings and provides for the administration thereof.

Res. No. 584

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to enter the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact, the Nurse Licensure Compact, and the Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact, to enhance the portability of medical and mental health providers to become licensed in multiple participating states.

By Council Members Lee, Powers, Rivera, Bottcher, Riley, Louis, Menin, Ayala, Brewer, Ung, Abreu, Avilés, Velázquez, Hudson, Cabán, Hanif and Gennaro (in conjunction with the Brooklyn Borough President).

Whereas, According to the Kaiser Family Foundation, the rapid increased use of telehealth services during the COVID-19 pandemic played a critical role in meeting the needs of mental and physical health care in America; and

Whereas, Researchers in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services found that telehealth visits significantly increased for Medicare beneficiaries as a result of waivers being expanded to include in-home visits during the pandemic due to social distancing concerns; and

Whereas, According to the Journal of the American Medical Association, during the pandemic, all medical disciplines suffered severe shortages of qualified personnel nationwide, and more than one in five healthcare workers considered reducing their hours or quitting the workforce entirely due to being overwhelmed by stress and the inability to maintain a work-life balance; and

Whereas, Staffing shortages continue to threaten the medical workforce in New York City, as evidenced by the nurses strike at Mount Sinai Hospital in Manhattan and Montifiore Medical Center in the Bronx, which began on January 4, 2023, and ended January 12, 2023, after both hospitals agreed to add nurses and improve working conditions; and

Whereas, A federal omnibus bill passed in December 2022 included critical funding to allow Staten Island University Hospital to retain 300 residency slots among “a national physician shortage” complicated by the triple-demic of COVID-19, influenza, and respiratory syncytial virus (RSV), which overwhelmed hospitals in late 2022; and

Whereas, The Association of American Medical Colleges projects an estimated loss of 124,000 physicians in both primary and specialty care by the year 2034, signaling the need to implement innovative ways of providing care, including telehealth visits, to ensure necessary service delivery; and

Whereas, While federal standards govern medical training and the U.S. Medical Licensing Examination, each state has its own licensing board and, with limited exceptions for emergency consultations, all physicians must be licensed by the state in which they choose to practice, which serves as a barrier to providing telemedicine in more than one state; and

Whereas, The Interstate Medical Licensure Compact (IMLC) is an agreement allowing physicians to become licensed in multiple participating states, thereby expanding the portability of their medical licensure in order to provide increased medical services; and

Whereas, The Nurse Licensure Compact (NLC) is a multistate license issued by a nurse’s Primary State of Residence that allows a nurse to practice in other NLC states and territories without obtaining additional licenses and, similar to a driver’s license, is recognized across state lines; and

Whereas, The Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact (PSYPACT) is an interstate agreement designed to allow licensed psychologists to practice tele-psychology and conduct temporary in-person practices across state boundaries as a means to provide services to a wider patient population; and

Whereas, New York State Senate bill S.2216, introduced by State Senator Thomas F. O’Mara, and its companion bill A.4860, introduced by New York State Assembly Member Philip A. Palmesano, would enact the IMLC to simplify the processes of allowing physicians to become licensed in multiple participating states and enhance the portability of medical licenses; and

Whereas, New York State Assembly bill A.3391, introduced by Assembly Member Daniel J. O’Donnell, would enact the IMLC and the NLC to strengthen access to healthcare by providing a streamlined process to become a licensed healthcare provider in multiples states; and

Whereas, New York State Assembly bill A.4528, introduced by Assembly Member Brian D. Miller, would enact the PSYPACT, the recognition of emergency medical services personnel licensure interstate compact, and the counseling compact model legislation, which would serve to expand the mobility of the psychology and counseling workforce; and

Whereas, Telehealth services proved invaluable to New York City residents during the pandemic, and digital medical appointments continue to serve as a safe, convenient, and innovative way to access medical and behavioral healthcare for individuals who are unable or prefer not to attend in-person healthcare visits; and

Whereas, The need for medical health professionals to have greater portability and flexibility to practice in more than one state is projected to increase in the future; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation to enter the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact, the Nurse Licensure Compact, and the Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact, to enhance the portability of medical and mental health providers to become licensed in multiple participating states.

Whereas, According to the United States (U.S.) Department of Veterans Affairs, as of September 2022, there were over 18.5 million veterans in the U.S.; and

Whereas, The New York State Department of Health (NYS DOH) estimated that as of 2021, there were 968,528 veterans in New York State (NYS), representing 6.1 percent of the state's adult population; and

Whereas, Per the NYS DOH, in New York City, as of 2021, there were 282,664 veterans, accounting for 4.2 percent of the city's adult residents; and

Whereas, The impacts of military service on psychological health are complex, and as a result, veterans tend to suffer from substance and alcohol use/misuse, military sexual trauma, behavioral issues, and mental health disorders, including Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), at higher rates than non-veterans; and

Whereas, According to the 2021 Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) report on veterans' health by the NYS DOH, veterans in NYS experience a higher prevalence of disabilities than non-veterans; and

Whereas, Thus, per the NYS DOH, in 2021, 37 percent of veterans in NYS reported at least one disability in contrast with 25.9 percent of non-veterans; and

Whereas, Moreover, as of 2021, the rates of smoking were higher among veterans than non-veterans in NYS, at 14.9 percent and 11.9 percent, respectively, and contrasted with 12 percent among all adults in the state; and

Whereas, Furthermore, as of 2021, 14.6 percent of veterans in NYS were engaging in binge or heavy drinking, and the prevalence of this problem was even higher among veterans aged 18 to 64 years, at 22.3 percent; and

Whereas, Also, in 2021, 9.3 percent of veterans in NYS reported poor self-assessed mental health; and

Whereas, Additionally, during 2021, 14.4 percent of veterans in NYS had a depressive disorder diagnosis, and this rate was elevated among veterans between the ages of 18 and 64 years, at 18.3 percent; and

Whereas, According to an October 2021 report by the New York State Health Foundation, data collected between 2015 and 2018 revealed that approximately 10 percent of veterans in NYS reported ever receiving treatment for substance or alcohol use/misuse, which was double the rate among non-veterans of 5 percent; and

Whereas, Per the same 2021 report by the New York State Health Foundation, survey data from 2015 to 2018 showed that about 6 percent of veterans in NYS experienced serious psychological distress in the past 12 months; and

Whereas, In addition, 20 percent of veterans in NYS reported feeling sad, empty, or depressed for several days or longer; and

Whereas, The New York State Health Foundation's 2021 report also highlighted that the incidence of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) among veterans was double the rate as among non-veterans, at 12.9 percent and 6.8 percent, respectively; and

Whereas, Moreover, the New York State Health Foundation stressed that in 2019, 156 veterans died by suicide in NYS, and that compared with the general population in the state, veterans die by suicide at a much higher proportion—at twice the non-veterans' rate in 2019; and

Whereas, According to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), in 2020, 143 veterans died by suicide in NYS, representing the rate of 19.2 per 100,000 veterans and contrasted with the state's general population's rate of 10.5 per 100,000 NYS residents; and

Whereas, A meta-review of research on benefits and efficacy of Animal-Assisted Therapies (AAT) cited by the VA demonstrates that AAT can be an effective treatment for mental, mood, and behavioral disorders, including PTSD, anxiety, depression, schizophrenia, and alcohol and substance use/misuse, can increase social engagement and improve quality of life, self-efficacy, and ability to cope, as well as can yield significant therapeutic benefits for people with acquired brain injury and cognitive impairment; and

Whereas, The VA's 2015 Healthcare Analysis Information Group survey found that 52 percent of VA healthcare systems offer AAT for veterans, an increase from 25 percent in 2011; and

Whereas, To meet veterans' therapeutic need for AAT, State Senator James Sanders Jr. introduced S.4717 in the NYS Senate, and Assembly Member Pamela J. Hunter introduced companion bill A.3149 in the NYS Assembly, which would authorize the NYS Department of Veterans' Services to provide eligible veterans with financial assistance for purchasing, training, and the upkeep of service dogs and emotional support dogs; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S.4717/A.3149, to authorize the New York State Department of Veterans' Services to provide eligible veterans with financial assistance for purchasing, training, and the upkeep of service dogs and emotional support dogs.

Whereas, Sikhism is a religion originating in the Punjab region of the Indian subcontinent in 1469, which follows the teachings of Guru Nanak and whose tenets include social equality, service to others, and devotion to God; and

Whereas, Following the annexation by the British of the Punjab province in 1849, in hopes of securing a better economic future, some Sikhs with a background in agriculture immigrated to the United States (U.S.); and

Whereas, According to the University of California at Davis, during the 1940s, due to discrimination and xenophobia against many Asian immigrants, Sikhs were met with newly enacted discriminatory laws branding most immigrants ineligible from holding leases on agricultural lands or securing U.S. citizenship; and

Whereas, These restrictions caused Sikh immigrants to secure employment as laborers for railroad construction projects and lumber mills and eventually to accept work as farm laborers; and

Whereas, According to the University of California at Davis, despite their significant contributions to building the infrastructure of America, a fundamental misunderstanding and mistrust of Sikhs by white Americans have led to acts of violence and discrimination against many Sikh communities since their arrival in the 19th century; and

Whereas, One memorable example of violence against Sikhs came in 1907, when a crowd of 600 white men drove 400 Sikh Americans out of Bellingham, Washington; and

Whereas, Almost 95 years later, the Sikh Coalition, an advocacy group, was founded in New York City (NYC) on the night of 9/11, as a result of an assault on an elderly Sikh man and two teenagers and in anticipation of the coming ill-informed backlash against the Sikh community, with a goal of raising awareness about Sikh Americans and defending their civil rights; and

Whereas, Despite the fact that Sikhism is the world's fifth-largest religion, with more than 25 million followers worldwide and about 500,000 in the U.S. today, a 2015 national survey conducted in the U.S. by Hart Research Associates found that about 60 percent of Americans admitted they knew nothing at all about Sikh Americans; and

Whereas, According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Uniform Crime Reporting Program publication Hate Crime Statistics, 2020, total hate crimes in 2020 were at their highest since 2008 and were thought to be underreported; and

Whereas, According to Hate Crime Statistics, 2020, there were 67 anti-Sikh hate crimes, an increase of 37 percent over 2019; and

Whereas, In response to the upward trend in FBI figures, Sim J. Singh Attariwala, Sikh Coalition Senior Policy and Advocacy Manager, noted that, in the days following the terrorist attacks of 9/11, the Coalition "tracked more than 300 instances of hate and bias against Sikhs," perhaps in part because the Sikh faith requires men not to shave or cut their hair and to wrap their hair inside turbans, which unfortunately associates them with a negative and bigoted stereotype of what some people believe terrorists look like; and

Whereas, Kiran Kaur Gill, Executive Director of the Sikh American Legal Defense and Education Fund, explained that hate crimes against Sikh Americans are not always reported to or properly classified by law enforcement agencies and noted the FBI's practice of categorizing hate crimes by the apparent bias of the attacker rather than the actual identity of the victim; and

Whereas, Gill further explained that the number of hate crimes does not include many other incidents of bias, such as abusive speech or bullying, and that better data collection is needed in order to shed light on the true size of the problem; and

Whereas, A 2014 study by the Sikh Coalition reported that about 54 percent of all Sikh American school-age children have been bullied at school, but that 67 percent of Sikh American children wearing turbans have experienced bullying; and

Whereas, The Sikh Coalition study also reported that about 51 percent of Sikh American youth did not feel that school officials did enough to stop the bullying they faced; and

Whereas, According to a 2007 Sikh Coalition Advocacy Survey, there were an estimated 50,000 Sikhs living in Queens, based upon reported membership in Sikh places of worship; and

Whereas, According to the 2021 American Community Survey, the estimate of the number of Sikhs living in metropolitan New York was almost 80,000, with a strong concentration in Richmond Hill, Queens; and

Whereas, In October, 2023, Jasmer Singh, a Sikh man in his 60s who came from India to the U.S. to raise his family, was brutally assaulted after a minor traffic accident in Queens and has since died from the injuries inflicted by the other driver; and

Whereas, The other driver has been arrested and charged with manslaughter and assault, but not with a hate crime; and

Whereas, Singh's son, who believes that his father, who was wearing a turban, was actually the victim of a hate crime, said, "Consider the safety of the Sikh community, please, that nobody would lose the father, brother, or son, like I did"; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York condemns recent attacks on members of the Sikh community in the City of New York and seeks a swift end to any discrimination against Sikh New Yorkers.

Res. No. 865

Resolution calling on the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to institute a recall of Hyundai and Kia models lacking immobilizer technology that are vulnerable to theft.

By Council Members Cabán and Brooks-Powers.

Whereas, More than eight million Hyundai and Kia vehicles manufactured between 2011 and 2022 have a vulnerability in their starting systems that allows them to be hotwired and stolen quickly and easily; and

Whereas, A viral social media trend has exposed this vulnerability and exacerbated the problem, with users posting videos that how show how to start the cars and challenging others to do the same; and

Whereas, The New York City Police Department reports that about 782 Kia and Hyundai vehicles were reported stolen in 2022, compared with approximately 351 in 2021, and that 977 Hyundai and Kia vehicles were reported stolen in the first four months of 2023, up about 660 percent from the same period in 2022; and

Whereas, In June 2023, New York City sued Kia and Hyundai alleging that the automakers were guilty of negligence by failing to include anti-theft devices in their cars and claiming that the vehicle thefts are straining police department resources and negatively impacting public safety and emergency services; and

Whereas, In July 2023, two teenagers were killed and several others were injured when the driver of a stolen Hyundai ran a red light and collided with another car near East 179th Street and Audobon Avenue in Manhattan; and

Whereas, Kia and Hyundai have offered free software updates to address this vulnerability, but many insurance companies refuse to cover the affected models due to the high risk of theft, according to NPR; and

Whereas, The attorneys general of 17 states including New York have called for a national recall of the affected vehicles, saying the thefts are creating a “safety crisis” on roads; and

Whereas, Unlike voluntary software upgrades, a recall includes mailed notification to all impacted vehicle owners; now, therefore, be it,

Resolved, that the Council of the City of New York calls on the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to institute a recall of Hyundai and Kia models lacking immobilizer technology that are vulnerable to theft.

4. The person's reason for making the complaint or request for service.

The 311 customer service center may share such identifying information with responding agencies only upon request and representation by the responding agencies that necessary and appropriate steps will be taken to protect the privacy of such information. Res. No. 866

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the New York State Governor to sign, S.2447/A.5234, which would increase the penalties for purposefully obstructed license plates.

By Council Member Holden.

Whereas, Under New York State (NYS) law, license plates must be kept clean and in a condition which is easily readable and must not be covered by glass or any plastic material, covered or coated with any artificial or synthetic materials or substances that obscure recorded or photographic images of such plate, or obstructed by any part of the vehicle; and

Whereas, The law also provides that those who sell or distribute materials or substances for the purpose of distorting a license plate when recorded or photographed may be subject to punishment; and

Whereas, NYS law allows for these violations to be punishable by a fine ranging from $25 to $300; and

Whereas, Although illegal, the prevalence of covered, defaced, or obstructed license plates is a persistent problem that allows those who are using such plates to evade speed, red-light, and bus-lane cameras, and tolls, ultimately making roads less safe; and

Whereas, According to data obtained by Streetsblog from the City Department of Transportation, the problem of cars evading speed, red-light, and bus-lane cameras with defaced or covered plates has gotten worse over recent years, with 4.66 percent of plates being unreadable in December of 2022 as compared to just 3.98 percent of plates in December 2021; and

Whereas, The data also shows that between January 2019 and December 2022, the City lost as much as $38.7 million in unissued tickets due to unreadable license plates, which can result from cars having temporary plates, no plates, or plates that are defaced or covered; and

Whereas, With the rise in use of covered, defaced, or obstructed license plates in recent years, current penalties for such violations need to be increased in order to deter drivers from utilizing such plates; and

Whereas, To deter such use, NYS Senator Andrew Gounardes and NYS Assemblymember Michaele Solages introduced S.2447 and A.5234, respectively; and

Whereas, S.2447/A.5234 would increase the penalties for purposefully obstructed license plates and authorize a set of actions that law enforcement and the government can take, including confiscating coverings that obscure license plates, suspending a vehicle's registration, and/or temporarily blocking certain vehicle identification numbers from registration; and

Whereas, S.2447/A.5234 would discourage the use of purposefully obstructed license plates and allow for law enforcement and the government to properly enforce these violations, increasing safety on roads, and ensuring that tolls are paid by all those who use them; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the New York State Governor to sign, S.2447/A.5234, which would increase the penalties for purposefully obstructed license plates.

Res. No. 867

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.7910/S.7298 to prohibit insurance discrimination because of the affordability of residential buildings and residential construction projects.

Council Members Velázquez and Bottcher.

Whereas, On November 22, 2022, the New York State Department of Financial Services (“DFS”) and the New York State Homes and Community Renewal (“HCR”) conducted a comprehensive study (“the study”) to examine the rising costs of insurance premiums and the decreasing availability of insurance coverage for affordable housing developments; and

Whereas, The study collected stakeholder feedback and examined factors that contribute to underwriting, rating, and pricing, analyzed insurance costs and coverage of affordable housing projects within HCRs portfolio; and

Whereas, Under the New York State Insurance Law, insurers may consider underwriting and rating factors that could cause potential losses, in order to adequately set rates; and

Whereas, The study revealed that insurance companies often asked housing developers if their buildings had affordable, subsidized or section 8 units, when making underwriting or rating determinations; and

Whereas, The New York State Insurance Law explicitly prohibits the use of certain factors in underwriting and rating, such as race, color, creed, national origin, disability, and marital status but it does not explicitly prohibit insurance companies from asking if a property has affordable housing; and

Whereas, These insurer inquiries about affordable housing, during the determination period, raise concerns from stakeholders about potential discriminatory results due to such actions; and

Whereas, A.7910, introduced by Assembly Member Liz Krueger and pending in the New York State Assembly, and companion bill S.7298, introduced by State Senator Brian Kavanagh and pending in the New York State Senate would ensure that affordable housing is not subject to discrimination in purchasing and retaining insurance; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.7910/S.7298 to prohibit insurance discrimination because of the affordability of residential buildings and residential construction projects.

Referred to the Committee on Housing and Buildings.

Res. No. 868

Resolution calling on the State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign legislation to increase criminal penalties for individuals who threaten, harass, or assault elected officials and their staff members.

By Council Members Velázquez and Brannan.

Whereas, Elected officials and their staff members play a crucial role in the functioning of government and are essential to the democratic process; and

Whereas, These dedicated government workers should be able to carry out their responsibilities without fear of threats, harassment, or assault that goes beyond the risks faced by the general public, as they are targeted specifically due to the nature of their work; and

Whereas, Threats, harassment, and assaults against elected officials and their staffers poses a serious threat to the functioning of democratic institutions and undermines the ability of elected officials to serve their communities effectively; and

Whereas, It is the responsibility of the State Legislature to enact legislation that ensures a safe and secure working environment for elected officials and their employees; and

Whereas, While the First Amendment's to the United States Constitution safeguards free speech, it does not allow citizens to threaten, harass or assault anyone; and

Whereas, The existing criminal penalties for threats, harassment, and assaults against elected officials and their staffers don't provide sufficient deterrence to potential offenders, and

Whereas, stronger penalties for those who engage in threatening, harassing, or assaulting elected officials' and their staffers can serve as a greater deterrent and reinforce the importance of respecting and protecting those who work for us while preserving citizens' rights to disagree with their views; and

Whereas, The New York City Council is committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of elected officials and their employees; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign legislation to increase criminal penalties for individuals who threaten, harass, or assault elected officials and their staff members.

Referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

The following comments were among the remarks made by the Speaker (Council Member Adams) during the Communication from the Speaker segment of this meeting:

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged the recent death of a child from a migrant family in an Upper West Side shelter. On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Adams) offered her thoughts and prayers to the child's grieving family and loved ones. She noted how this tragedy underscored the need for more culturally competent care and mental health resources in facilities and schools which serve asylum seekers.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that a recent partial building collapse that took place in the Bronx in Council Member Sanchez's district led to the displacement of dozens of residents. While expressing gratitude that no one was injured, the Speaker (Council Member Adams) emphasized that it was critical that proactive measures be taken by the city to keep New Yorkers safe in their buildings.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) took a moment to remember the lives of three New Yorkers who died in November 2023 during the course of their employment: Ommatt Cruz, Frederick D. Whiteside, and Hilarion Warren Eusta Joseph. On behalf of the Council, the Speaker (Council Member Adams) offered her thoughts and prayers to their families, their friends, and their communities as they grieve the loss of their loved ones.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that December 12th marked the twelfth anniversary of the Sandy Hook Elementary School mass shooting tragedy in Newtown, Connecticut when 26 individuals, including 20 children, lost their lives. In memory of these victims and of all victims of such tragedies, she reiterated that we needed to find ways to work together to end the gun violence that is devastating our communities.

The Speaker (Council Member Adams) acknowledged that these proceedings marked the last Stated Meeting of 2023 and of the entire legislative session as well -- she thanked everyone for their hard work, dedication, and service on behalf of all New Yorkers.
