Item 1: Putnam Gardens Portfolio

The Putnam Gardens project is a single-building portfolio comprised of 90 residential units located at 3815 Putnam Avenue West in the Bronx, consisting of 13 one-bedroom apartments, 76 two-bedroom apartments, and one superintendent unit.

Under the proposed project, 3815 Putnam Housing Development Fund Corporation (HDFC) will acquire the referenced property and Putnam-Deegan, L.P. will be the beneficial owner and will operate the property. The HDFC and the L.P. will finance the rehabilitation of the property with a loan from the New York City Housing Development Corporation (HDC).

The Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) is requesting that the Council approve a 30-year, partial Article XI property tax exemption for the portfolio. HPD, HDC, and the HDFC will enter into a regulatory agreement that will require that the units be leased only to households within income tiers between 80% and 95% of Area Median Income (AMI). Additionally, the project will include a homeless set aside requirement in which 10% of the units (or nine units), upon turnover, will be required to be filled with referrals of eligible homeless tenants.

The building currently receives a 421-a tax exemption that will expire in 2027. In order to facilitate the project, HPD will authorize the termination of the 421-a tax exemption so that it may be replaced with the Article XI exemption, if approved. Upon being approved by the Council, the Article XI exemption will become effective on the fifth-anniversary of the date that HPD, HDC, and the HDFC enter into the regulatory agreement.

WHEREAS, the Council has considered the financial implications relating to the Tax Exemption;

RESOLVED:

The Council hereby grants an exemption from real property taxes as follows:

Report of the Committee on Fire and Emergency Management

Report for Int. No. 562-A

Report of the Committee on Fire and Emergency Management in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city fire code, in relation to the posting of hurricane evacuation zone and evacuation center information in multiple dwellings.

The Committee on Fire and Emergency Management, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on February 14, 2018 (Minutes, page 792), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On May 8, 2018, the Committee on Fire and Emergency Management, chaired by Joseph C. Borelli, voted on Prop. Int. No. 562-A. The Committee voted in favor of the bill by a vote of three affirmatives, none opposed, and no abstentions. The Committee previously held a hearing on this bill on October 15, 2018, and received testimony from the New York City Office of Emergency Management (“OEM”), and other interested parties.

II. Analysis of Prop. Int. No. 562-A

This legislation requires that all multiple dwelling residential buildings, located within a hurricane evacuation zone as determined by the City’s Office of Emergency Management, post written information in a common area within the building that lists the relevant hurricane evacuation zone, information related to the presence of evacuation centers and directions on how to determine the location of the nearest evacuation center.

The bill would take effect 120 days after it became law.

III. Amendments to Prop. Int. No. 562-A

As introduced, the legislation required the posted notices to include reference to the three closest evacuation centers to the residence. The legislation has since been amended to remove reference to the above mentioned specific locations, as those facilities can change at any time, and instead informs residents of the presence of such evacuation centers and provides information on how an individual can confirm the location of the nearest active evacuation center.

SPONSORS: Council Members Cornegy, Lancman, Kallos, Rosenthal and Perkins.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 59-A would expand the existing written disclosure requirement for building owners contacting rent-regulated tenant to offer a buy-out by requiring them to also provide information about median asking rents in the same community district and further apprising the tenant of the risks that the tenant may not be able to rent a similar unit in the same community district. The bill would also require the Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) to submit to the Mayor and the Council and make publically available online, an annual report that details the median asking rents for dwelling units, disaggregated by Community District and, if available, by the number of bedrooms. This bill would also require persons making buyout offers to make certain disclosures.

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to filing information regarding buyout agreements

SPONSORS: Council Members Levine, Lancman, Kallos and Rosenthal.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 551-A would require that building owners that enter into “buyout agreements” with their tenants, submit information about the terms of the agreement to the Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) within 90 days of execution. A buyout agreement would be defined as offering money or other valuable consideration to induce a tenant to vacate his or her apartment or to surrender or waive any rights in relation to such occupancy. The bill would also make a building owner’s failure to file the terms of a buyout agreement within 90 days of execution liable for a non-hazardous violation. The bill would also require HPD to submit an annual report to the Mayor and Council that details the number of buyout agreements executed during the prior calendar year, the amount of money agreed upon, the date of execution, and the number of months remaining in the lease for the covered dwelling unit, no later than January 31 of each year..

EFFECTIVE DATE: This legislation would take effect July 1, 2020, except that HPD may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation. While the administering agency is authorized to impose civil penalties to building owners that fail to provide information with respect to a buyout agreement, this estimate assumes owners would fully comply with the provisions of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because existing resources would be used by HPD to implement its provisions.

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to denying building permits where a residential building has an excessive number of violations.

SPONSORS: Council Members Brannan, Holden, Koslowitz, Yeger, Lancman, Kallos, Vallone and Rosenthal.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 975-A would require the Department of Buildings (DOB) to compile a list every six months of multiple dwellings with 35 units or less that have a ratio of three or more open hazardous or immediately hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations per unit, and of multiple dwellings with 35 units or more that have a ratio of two or more open hazardous or immediately hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations per unit. The bill would require DOB to deny building permits for multiple dwellings on these lists.

The bill would provide certain exceptions to this prohibition, such as for condominiums or cooperatives, and would exempt permits sought to correct outstanding DOB or Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) violations, permits necessary to protect public health and safety, properties that are the subject of certain court proceedings, and permits required for certain DOB or HPD programs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 210 days after it becomes law, except that the DOB Commissioner may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2021

	Effective FY20	FY Succeeding Effective FY21	Full Fiscal Impact FY21
Revenues	De minimis	De minimis	De minimis
Expenditures	$0	$0	$0
Net	De minimis	De minimis	De minimis

IMPACT ON REVENUES: DOB collects revenue from the issuance of building permits, including new buildings and major and minor alterations to existing buildings. According to information available on NYC Open Data, from January 2018 to December 2018, DOB issued approximately 97,824 building permits for major and minor alterations of existing buildings. Of these, 89,320 permits were issued to residential buildings. In 2018, on average, each permit issued by DOB generated about $1,704 in revenue for the City. However, due to data limitations, it is not known how many multiple dwellings would be captured under the violation criteria outlined under the bill. In addition, it is not known how many building owners might be denied a building permit in accordance with the legislation. To the extent that this legislation would cause an entity to be denied a permit it would have received in the absence of this legislation, this would result in a loss of revenue to the City. Assuming the number of permits issued and the collection rate remains relatively constant, it is estimated that foregone revenue from qualifying owners under this legislation would result in minimal to no impact on revenues following the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because existing resources would be used by DOB to implement the provisions of this local law.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to denying building permits where a residential building has an excessive number of violations

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Article 105 of chapter 1 of title 28 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 28-105.1.3 to read as follows:

§ 28-105.1.3 Denial of permits for excessive violations. The commissioner shall, no less than once every six months, compile a list of multiple dwellings that includes: (i) all multiple dwellings containing fewer than 35 units that have a ratio of open hazardous or immediately hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations that equal in the aggregate three or more such violations for every dwelling unit in such multiple dwelling; and (ii) all multiple dwellings containing 35 units or more that have a ratio of open hazardous or immediately hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations that equal in the aggregate two or more such violations for every dwelling unit in such multiple dwelling. The commissioner shall not issue permits for multiple dwellings on such list. If the owner of a multiple dwelling on such list corrects open hazardous or immediately hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations in such multiple dwelling so that the ratio of such violations to the number of dwelling units in such multiple dwelling falls below those outlined in this section, the commissioner shall remove such multiple dwelling from such list. Such denial shall not apply where a dwelling unit within such multiple dwelling is owned as a condominium or held by a shareholder of a cooperative corporation under a proprietary lease.

Exceptions:

1. Where the issuance of such permit is necessary to correct an outstanding violation of this code, the housing maintenance code or any other applicable provisions of law or rule.
2. Where the issuance of such permit is necessary to perform work to protect public health and safety.
3. For a portion of a property occupied by a tenant who is not an owner of such property or responsible for any existing violations in such property.

4. Where a property was the subject of an in rem foreclosure judgment in favor of the city and was transferred by the city to a third party pursuant to section 11-412.1 of the code.
5. Where a property is the subject of a court order appointing an administrator pursuant to article 7-a of the real property actions and proceedings law in a case brought by the department of housing preservation and development.
6. Where a property is the subject of a loan provided by or through the department of housing preservation and development or the New York city housing development corporation for the purpose of rehabilitation that has closed within the five years preceding the application for such permit.
7. For a property where the department of housing preservation and development or the New York city housing development corporation notifies the commissioner that the permit is required in connection with the implementation of a program of such department or corporation.

[Construction documents] A tenant protection plan shall be prepared and submitted for the alteration[s], construction, or partial demolition of buildings in which any dwelling unit will be occupied during construction [shall include a tenant protection plan], including newly constructed buildings that are partially occupied where work is ongoing. The tenant protection plan shall be prepared by a registered design professional and filed with the department. The registered design professional preparing the tenant protection plan shall be retained by the general contractor performing the alteration, construction, or partial demolition work. Such plan shall contain a statement that the building contains dwelling units that will be occupied during construction and shall indicate in sufficient detail the specific units that are or may be occupied during construction, the means and methods to be employed to safeguard the safety and health of the occupants throughout the construction, including, where applicable, details such as temporary fire-rated assemblies, opening protectives, or dust containment procedures. Such means and methods shall be described with particularity and in no case shall terms such as “code compliant,” “approved,” “legal,” “protected in accordance with law” or similar terms be used as a substitute for such description. The elements of the tenant protection plan may vary depending on the nature and scope of the work but at a minimum shall make detailed and specific provisions for:

1. Egress. At all times in the course of construction provision shall be made for adequate egress as required by this code and the tenant protection plan shall identify the egress that will be provided. Required egress shall not be obstructed at any time except where approved by the commissioner.

3.1. There shall be included a statement of compliance with applicable provisions of law relating to lead and asbestos, and such statement shall describe with particularity what means and methods are being undertaken to meet such compliance.

4. Compliance with housing standards. The requirements of the New York city housing maintenance code, and, where applicable, the New York state multiple dwelling law shall be strictly observed.

5. Structural safety. No structural work shall be done that may endanger the occupants.

6. Noise restrictions. Specification of means and methods to be used for the limitation of noise to acceptable levels in accordance with the New York city noise control code shall be included. Where hours of the day or the days of the week in which construction work may be undertaken are limited pursuant to the New York city noise control code, such limitations shall be stated.

7. Maintaining essential services. Where heat, hot water, cold water, gas, electricity, or other utility services are provided in such building or in any dwelling unit located therein, the tenant protection plan shall specify the means and methods to be used for maintaining such services during such work in accordance with the requirements of the New York city housing maintenance code. If a disruption of any such service is anticipated during the work, then such plan shall specify the anticipated duration of such disruption and the means and methods to be employed to minimize such disruption, including the provision of sufficient alternatives for such service during such disruption. Notification of the disruption must be given to all affected occupants of occupied dwelling units.

Exception: In the following instances, the tenant protection plan may be prepared and filed by the registered design professional of record for the alteration, construction, or partial demolition work as part of the underlying application:

1. Work in occupied one- and two-family homes.
2. *Work limited to the interior of a single dwelling unit of an occupied multiple dwelling with no disruption to the essential services of other units, where such dwelling is owner-occupied. Upon issuance of a permit for work containing a tenant protection plan, the owner shall (i) distribute a notice regarding such plan to each occupied dwelling unit [or] and (ii) post a notice regarding such plan in a conspicuous manner in the building lobby, as well as on each floor within ten feet of the elevator, or in a building where there is no elevator, within ten feet of or in the main stairwell on such floor. The notice shall be in a form created or approved by the department and shall include:

1. A statement that occupants of the building may obtain a paper copy of such plan from the owner and may access such plan on the department website;
2. The name and contact information for the site safety manager, site safety coordinator or superintendent of construction required by section 3301.3 of the New York city building code, as applicable, or, if there is no site safety manager, site safety coordinator or superintendent of construction, the name and contact information of the owner of the building or such owner's designee; and

3. A statement that occupants of the building may call 311 to make complaints about the work.

§ 28-120.2 Phased tenant protection plans. *Multiple layouts of the tenant protection features enumerated in section 28-120.1 may be submitted at any time during construction operations to show phased tenant protection plan designs consistent with the phase of anticipated work. Layouts submitted subsequent to a previously approved tenant protection plan shall constitute an amendment to such plan. TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to identifying unlawful statements in submissions to the Department of Buildings

SPONSORS: Council Members Torres, The Public Advocate (Mr. Williams), Powers, Rivera, Kallos, Chin, Lancman and Rosenthal

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 1171-A would require the Department of Buildings (DOB) and the Department of Finance (DOF) to share certain information in order to identify cases of false statements regarding occupied and rent-regulated housing. It would also require DOB to request information from the Division of Housing & Community Renewal to identify false statements regarding occupied and rent-regulated housing. The legislation would require DOB to conduct an audit of an owner’s whole portfolio of properties using information obtained from DOB if the owner has been caught either failing to obtain a building permit or submitting false statements regarding occupied and rent-regulated housing on an application for a building permit. Lastly, when DOB has made a finding that an owner made a false statement, the legislation would require DOB to: (a) send written notice to the NYC Council, the Department of Investigations, the Division of Housing and Community Renewal, and the Tenant Protection Unit; (b) refer the matter to the relevant District Attorney and the Attorney General for potential criminal prosecution; and (c) report on the punitive actions it took in every case in which it found evidence of a falsified application for a building permit.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This legislation would take effect 180 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of the Department of Buildings may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

§ 28-211.1.3 Notification to other government agencies. Where the department makes a determination that a person has violated section 28-211.1, the department shall send written notice to the council, the department of investigation, New York state division of housing and community renewal and the state tenant protection unit, and shall refer such finding to the district attorney of the county in which the property is located and the state attorney general.

§ 28-211.1.4. Reporting. By no later than January 30 of each year, the department shall submit a report to the mayor and to the speaker of the council that indicates the actions it took in every instance in which it made a determination that a person had violated section 28-211.1.

At least once per year, the department shall audit no less than 25 percent of buildings placed on the watch list established by article 3 of subchapter 4 of chapter 2 of title 27 for compliance with building permit requirements, including whether section 28-211.1 has been violated.*

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to mandating audits of the records of process servers and creating a notification system regarding licensed process servers who have had their licenses suspended, revoked or who have had renewal denied.

SPONSORS: Council Members Cornegy, Lancman, Kallos and Perkins.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 1258-A would require the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) to annually audit the records of at least 20 percent of licensed process servers who have served at least one summons, subpoena, notice, citation or other process for a housing court proceeding. The bill would also require that process servers certify with DCA every six months if they have served process for a housing court proceeding. This bill would further require that the DCA post on its website, and notify process serving agencies, when a process server has been disciplined, or where the process server's license has been suspended, revoked, or license renewal is denied.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the DCA Commissioner may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be minimal to no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation. According to information available on NYC Open Data, from January 2018 to December 2018, DCA issued approximately 688 process server licenses to individuals and 102 licenses to process serving agencies, and 479 of these applications were renewals. During the same timeframe, about 269 applications for process server licenses were denied by DCA. According to information provided by DCA, currently process server license applications are audited and there are dedicated staff positions assigned to conduct these audits. It is estimated that an additional three administrative staff analysts would be needed to perform the additional audits pursuant to the legislation. The total annual cost of the additional staff members is estimated to be $344,663 including fringe benefits and OTPS costs. For Fiscal 2020, the prorated cost of this legislation would be approximately $172,331.

Lastly, it is anticipated that DCA would use existing resources to comply with the reporting and notification requirements of this legislation.

SPONSORS: Council Members Levine, Lander, Ampry-Samuel, Lancman, Ayala, Kallos and Rosenthal.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 1274-A would require owners of multiple dwellings to obtain for each dwelling unit the previous four years rent amounts from the New York State Department of Housing and Community Renewal, and provide this information to current tenants of such dwelling units.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This legislation would take effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Housing Preservation and Development may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2021

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY20	FY Succeeding Effective FY21	Full Fiscal Impact FY21

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because existing resources would be used by HPD to implement the provisions of this local law. In addition, any cost associated with obtaining rent history from the State Department of Housing and Community Renewal would be expended by non-City entities.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 1275-A

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to denying permits for occupied buildings.

SPONSORS: Council Members Powers, Brannan, Lancman, Ayala and Kallos.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 1275-A would prohibit the Department of Buildings (DOB) from issuing permits for one year for a building following a determination that a false statement about the occupancy status was made on a construction application for that building. The bill would also deny permits for one year for a building following a determination that work was conducted without a permit while such building was occupied. The bill would provide certain exceptions to this prohibition, such as condominiums or cooperatives, and would exempt permits sought to correct outstanding violations with the DOB or the Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD), permits necessary to protect public health and safety, properties that are the subject of certain court proceedings, and permits required for certain DOB or HPD programs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 180 days after it becomes law, except that the DOB Commissioner may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2021

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY20	FY Succeeding Effective FY21	Full Fiscal Impact FY21
Revenues	De minimis	De minimis	De minimis
Expenditures	$0	$0	$0
Net	De minimis	De minimis	De minimis

IMPACT ON REVENUES: DOB collects revenue from the issuance of building permits, including new buildings and major and minor alterations to existing buildings. According to information available on NYC Open Data, from January 2018 to December 2018, DOB issued approximately 97,824 building permits for major and minor alterations of existing buildings. Of these, 89,320 permits were issued in residential buildings. In 2018, on average, each permit issued by DOB generated about $1,704 in revenue for the City. However, due to data limitations, it is not known how many incidences of false statements on construction permit applications are submitted to DOB or how many incidences of construction work were conducted without a permit within the covered subset of buildings under this bill. In addition, it is not known how many building owners might be denied a building permit in accordance with the legislation. To the extent that this legislation would cause an entity to be denied a permit it would have received in the absence of this legislation, this would result in a loss of revenue to the City. Assuming the number of permits issued and the collection rate remains relatively constant, it is estimated that foregone revenue from qualifying owners pursuant to a one-year suspension after the passage of this legislation would result in minimal to no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because DOB would use existing resources to implement its provisions.

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to preliminary inspections.

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 1277-A

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to preliminary inspections SPONSORS: Council Members Ampry-Samuel, Lancman, Ayala, Kallos, Rosenthal and Perkins.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 1277-A would require the Department of Buildings (DOB) to perform preliminary inspections of no less than 20 percent of buildings with six or more units to verify the occupancy status of purportedly unoccupied buildings undergoing construction. The bill would also require DOB to submit an annual report to the Mayor and the Council that details the total number of applications found to have falsely indicated that a building was unoccupied, and under such circumstances, the location of the associated building and date of filing for such application.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect on January 1, 2020, except that the DOB may take such actions as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2021

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY20	FY Succeeding Effective FY21	Full Fiscal Impact FY21
Expenditures	$1,188,480	$2,376,961	$2,376,961
Net	$1,188,480	$2,376,961	$2,376,961

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: Under the proposed legislation, DOB estimates that it would need to complete approximately 10,368 inspections annually for buildings undergoing construction and deemed unoccupied.

Although the legislation does not mandate that DOB hire new staff to meet the provisions of this bill, the agency has informed the Council that it would need additional construction inspectors to perform the increased number of inspections required under the bill. Using staffing assumptions provided by DOB, it is estimated that an additional eight field inspectors and five administrative staff members would be needed to support the work of the inspectors. The total annual cost of the additional inspectors and administrative staff members is estimated to be $2,376,961, including fringe benefits and OTPS costs. For Fiscal 2020, the prorated cost would be $1,188,480.

Lastly, it is anticipated that the reporting requirements outlined in this legislation would be implemented using existing resources.

SPONSORS: Council Members Rivera, Levine, Ampry-Samuel, Gibson, Lancman, Powers, Kallos, Rosenthal and Perkins.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect on the same date as a local law amending the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to submittal of construction documents, applicant and owner statements, and tenant protection plans, as proposed in introduction number 1107-A for the year 2018, takes effect, except that the DOB Commissioner may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such effective date.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York and the New York city building code, in relation to requiring heightened review of tenant protection plans and increased enforcement of building code standards

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 28-120.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by a local law amending the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to submittal of construction documents, applicant and owner statements, and tenant protection plans, as proposed in introduction number 1107-A, is amended to read as follows:

§ 28-120.1 Tenant protection plan. A tenant protection plan shall be prepared and submitted for the alteration, construction, or partial demolition of buildings in which any dwelling unit will be occupied during construction, including newly constructed buildings that are partially occupied where work is ongoing. The tenant protection plan shall be prepared by a registered design professional and filed with the department. The registered design professional preparing the tenant protection plan shall be retained by the general contractor performing the alteration, construction, or partial demolition work. No permit shall be issued for work that requires a tenant protection plan unless such plan is approved by the department. Such plan shall contain a statement that the building contains dwelling units that will be occupied during construction and shall indicate in sufficient detail the specific units that are or may be occupied during construction, the means and methods to be employed to safeguard the safety and health of the occupants throughout the construction, including, where applicable, details such as temporary fire-rated assemblies, opening protectives, or dust containment procedures. Such means and methods shall be described with particularity and in no case shall terms such as "code compliant," "approved," "legal," "protected in accordance with law" or similar terms be used as a substitute for such description. The tenant protection plan must be site specific. The elements of the tenant protection plan may vary depending on the nature and scope of the work but at a minimum, must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, including the New York city construction codes, the New York city housing maintenance code, the New York city noise control code and the New York city health code, and shall make detailed and specific provisions for:

1. Egress. At all times in the course of construction provision shall be made for adequate egress as required by this code and the tenant protection plan shall identify the egress that will be provided. Required egress shall not be obstructed at any time except where approved by the commissioner.

2. Fire safety. All necessary laws and controls, including those with respect to occupied dwellings, as well as additional safety measures necessitated by the construction shall be strictly observed.

3. Health requirements. Specification of means and methods to be used for control of dust, disposal of construction debris, pest control and maintenance of sanitary facilities shall be included.

3.1. There shall be included a statement of compliance with applicable provisions of law relating to lead and asbestos, and such statement shall describe with particularity what means and methods are being undertaken to meet such compliance.

4. Compliance with housing standards. The requirements of the New York city housing maintenance code, and, where applicable, the New York state multiple dwelling law shall be strictly observed.

5. Structural safety. No structural work shall be done that may endanger the occupants.

6. Noise restrictions. Specification of means and methods to be used for the limitation of noise to acceptable levels in accordance with the New York city noise control code shall be included. Where hours of the day or the days of the week in which construction work may be undertaken are limited pursuant to the New York city noise control code, such limitations shall be stated.

7. Maintaining essential services. Where heat, hot water, cold water, gas, electricity, or other utility services are provided in such building or in any dwelling unit located therein, the tenant protection plan shall specify the means and methods to be used for maintaining such services during such work in accordance with the requirements of the New York city housing maintenance code. If a disruption of any such service is anticipated during the work, then such plan shall specify the anticipated duration of such disruption and the means and methods to be employed to minimize such disruption, including the provision of sufficient alternatives for such service during such disruption. Notification of the disruption must be given to all affected occupants of occupied dwelling units.

Exception: In the following instances, the tenant protection plan may be prepared and filed by the registered design professional of record for the alteration, construction, or partial demolition work as part of the underlying application:

1. Work in occupied one- and two-family homes.
2. Work limited to the interior of a single dwelling unit of an occupied multiple dwelling with no disruption to the essential services of other units, where such dwelling is owner-occupied. For a dwelling unit within a property that is owned by a condominium or held by a shareholder of a cooperative corporation under a proprietary lease, the unit must be occupied by the owners of record for such unit.

§ 2. Section BC 1704 of the building code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 1704.33 to read as follows:

1704.33 Tenant protection plan. When alteration, partial demolition, or construction operations are performed at occupied multiple dwellings, the department shall periodically verify compliance with a tenant protection plan as provided for in Chapter 1 of Title 28 of the Administrative Code and Section 3303.10.

§ 3. Section 3303.10.2 of the New York city building code, as added by local law number 154 for the year 2017, is amended to read as follows:

3303.10.2 Inspections of tenant protection plan. The owner shall notify the department in writing at least 72 hours prior to the commencement of any work requiring a tenant protection plan. The department shall conduct an inspection of [five] 10 percent of such sites within seven days after the commencement of such work to verify compliance with the tenant protection plan. The department shall conduct follow up inspections of such sites every 180 days until such construction is completed to verify compliance with the building code and tenant protection plan. Thereafter, the department shall conduct an inspection [upon the] within 10 days of receipt of a complaint concerning such work.

§ 4. This local law takes effect on the same date as a local law amending the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to submittal of construction documents, applicant and owner statements, and tenant protection plans, as proposed in introduction number 1107-A for the year 2018, takes effect, except that the commissioner of buildings may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such effective date.

REPORTS:

The following is the text of the Fiscal Impact Statement for Int. No. 1279-A:

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
FINANCE DIVISION
LATONIA MCKINNEY, DIRECTOR
FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 1279-A

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the Department of Buildings and the Department of Housing Preservation and Development to audit a certain percentage of certifications of correction.

SPONSORS: Council Members Rosenthal, Ampry-Samuel, Lancman, Ayala, Kallos, Vallone and Perkins.

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Proposed Intro. No. 1279-A would require the Department of Buildings (DOB) and the Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) to audit at least 15 percent of all certifications of correction filed by property owners or managing agents affirming the correction of one or more immediately hazardous violations. Each audit would include, at minimum, an inspection by DOB and/or HPD to ensure that the violating conditions cited in the notice of violation have been corrected.

Additionally, the bill would require DOB and HPD to submit an annual report to the Council that details the number of audits conducted, the percentage of certifications of correction audited, the percentage of audited certifications of correction found to have been false, the total amount of civil penalties collected for audited certifications of correction found to have been false, and other findings. The report is due to the Council by no later than March 31 of each year.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect 180 days after it becomes law, except that the DOB and HPD Commissioners may promulgate rules as may be necessary for the purpose of implementing and carrying out the provisions of this local law, prior to its effective date.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2021

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY20	FY Succeeding Effective FY21	Full Fiscal Impact FY21
Expenditures	$167,678	$355,357	$355,357
Net	$167,678	$355,357	$355,357

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation because full compliance with the legislation is anticipated.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be minimal to no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation. According to information available on NYC Open Data, from January 2018 to December 2018, HPD conducted approximately 639,387 inspections related to housing maintenance code violations and issued approximately 104,129 Class C immediately hazardous violations. Assuming the rate of certificates of correction for immediately hazardous violations remains relatively constant, it is estimated that HPD would need to conduct 15,600 additional inspections annually in order to comply with the provisions of the legislation. According to testimony provided by DOB, in 2018, the Department received approximately 19,000 certificates of correction for immediately hazardous violations and as a matter of practice, conducts audits on certificates of correction that are submitted by building owners. Assuming the rate of certificates of correction for immediately hazardous violations remains relatively constant, it is estimated that DOB would need to conduct 2,850 additional inspections annually in order to comply with the provisions of the legislation. It is estimated that an additional four inspectors would be needed to perform the additional inspections pursuant to the legislation. The total annual cost of the additional inspectors is estimated to be $355,357, including fringe benefits and OTPS costs. For Fiscal 2020, the prorated cost of this legislation would be approximately $167,678. It is anticipated that DOB and HPD would use existing resources to comply with the reporting and notification requirements of this legislation.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the tenant protection plan and penalties for false statements relating to tenant occupancy on certain construction documents

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 28-120.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by a local law amending the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to submittal of construction documents, applicant and owner statements, and tenant protection plans, as proposed in introduction number 1107-A, and as amended by a local law amending the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to requiring heightened review of tenant protection plans and increased enforcement of building code standards as proposed in introduction number 1278-A, is amended to read as follows:

§ 28-120.1 Tenant protection plan. A tenant protection plan shall be prepared and submitted for the alteration, construction, or partial demolition of buildings in which any dwelling unit will be occupied during construction, including newly constructed buildings that are partially occupied where work is ongoing. The tenant protection plan shall be prepared by a registered design professional and filed with the department. The registered design professional preparing the tenant protection plan shall be retained by the general contractor performing the alteration, construction, or partial demolition work. No permit shall be issued for work that requires a tenant protection plan unless such plan is approved by the department. Such plan shall contain a statement signed by the owner and signed by the applicant affirming that the building contains dwelling units that will be occupied during construction and shall [indicate] identify in sufficient detail the specific units that are or may be occupied during construction, the means and methods to be employed to safeguard the safety and health of the occupants throughout the construction, including, where applicable, details such as temporary fire-rated assemblies, opening protectives, or dust containment procedures. Such means and methods shall be described with particularity and in no case shall terms such as “code compliant,” “approved,” “legal,” “protected in accordance with law” or similar terms be used as a substitute for such description. The tenant protection plan must be site specific. The elements of the tenant protection plan may vary depending on the nature and scope of the work but at a minimum, must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, including the New York city construction codes, the New York city housing maintenance code, the New York city noise control code and the New York city health code, and shall make detailed and specific provisions for:

1. Egress. At all times in the course of construction provision shall be made for adequate egress as required by this code and the tenant protection plan shall identify the egress that will be provided. Required egress shall not be obstructed at any time except where approved by the commissioner.

2. Fire safety. All necessary laws and controls, including those with respect to occupied dwellings, as well as additional safety measures necessitated by the construction shall be strictly observed.

3. Health requirements. Specification of means and methods to be used for control of dust, disposal of construction debris, pest control and maintenance of sanitary facilities shall be included.

3.1. There shall be included a statement of compliance with applicable provisions of law relating to lead and asbestos, and such statement shall describe with particularity what means and methods are being undertaken to meet such compliance..

4. Compliance with housing standards. The requirements of the New York city housing maintenance code, and, where applicable, the New York state multiple dwelling law shall be strictly observed.

5. Structural safety. No structural work shall be done that may endanger the occupants.

6. Noise restrictions. Specification of means and methods to be used for the limitation of noise to acceptable levels in accordance with the New York city noise control code shall be included. Where hours of the day or the days of the week in which construction work may be undertaken are limited pursuant to the New York city noise control code, such limitations shall be stated.

7. Maintaining essential services. Where heat, hot water, cold water, gas, electricity, or other utility services are provided in such building or in any dwelling unit located therein, the tenant protection plan shall specify the means and methods to be used for maintaining such services during such work in accordance with the requirements of the New York city housing maintenance code. If a disruption of any such service is anticipated during the work, then such plan shall specify the anticipated duration of such disruption and the means and methods to be employed to minimize such disruption, including the provision of sufficient alternatives for such service during such disruption. Notification of the disruption must be given to all affected occupants of occupied dwelling units.

Exception: In the following instances, the tenant protection plan may be prepared and filed by the registered design professional of record for the alteration, construction, or partial demolition work as part of the underlying application:

1. Work in occupied one- and two-family homes.
2. Work limited to the interior of a single dwelling unit of an occupied multiple dwelling with no disruption to the essential services of other units, where such dwelling is owner-occupied. For a dwelling unit within a property that is owned by a condominium or held by a shareholder of a cooperative corporation under a proprietary lease, the unit must be occupied by the owners of record for such unit.

§ 2. Section 28-202.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law number 70 for the year 2018, is amended by adding a new exception 11 to read as follows:

11. For (i) a violation of section 28-211.1 or (ii) where a tenant protection plan is required pursuant to section 28-120.1, but has not been submitted to the department, the minimum civil penalty for a first offense shall be no less than $10,000 and, for each subsequent offense, no less than $25,000.

§ 3. Section 28-203.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law number 203 for the year 2017, is amended by adding a new exception 6 to read as follows:

6. For (i) a violation of section 28-211.1 or (ii) where a tenant protection plan is required pursuant to section 28-120.1, but has not been submitted to the department, the minimum fine shall be no less than $10,000 and, for each subsequent offense, no less than $25,000.

§ 4. This local law takes effect on the same date as a local law amending the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to submittal of construction documents, applicant and owner statements, and tenant protection plans, as proposed in introduction number 1107-A for the year 2018, takes effect, except that the commissioner of buildings may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such effective date.

Local Law 196 of 2017

Construction remains one of New York’s most dangerous industries.¹ In 2018, there were 761 construction related injuries.² 2017 saw 650 construction related accidents and injuries and 81 fatalities.³ That same year, the Council enacted Local Law 196 for the year 2017, which requires construction safety training for workers.⁴ This law creates a robust training requirement for workers on construction sites, including requiring that workers on these sites undergo trainings approved by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA).

Related Legislation

Int. No 1533-A

Int. No.1533-A would extend the date by which workers must complete an Occupational Safety and Health Thirty Hour Course (OSHA-30), an Occupational Safety and Health Ten Hour Course (OSHA-10) and an additional 20 hours of safety training, or a 100-hour training program approved by DOB. The current second compliance date pursuant to Local Law 196 of 2017 is June 1, 2019, which will be extended by six months, to December 1, 2019. Additionally, DOB may make a decision by September 1, 2019 to extend the deadline for an additional six months. This bill also establishes the date for full compliance with Local Law 196 as September 1, 2020.

This bill would take effect immediately.

Anti-Tenant Displacement Background

On May 20, 2018, the New York Times ran a three-part series that described the ways that landlords try to entice or compel tenants to leave rent-regulated apartments, so that these landlords can later replace the rent-regulated tenants with tenants who can pay market rents. The series focused on landlords who purchase buildings with rent-regulated units and discussed some of the methods that they used to force these tenants out of those units, thus removing the units from rent-regulation and, in the terms of certain exploitive landlords highlighted by the series, “unlocking” the potential value in their buildings.⁵ These landlords include so-called “predatory equity” investors, who purchase buildings at prices that far exceed their value given the income generated by the rent-regulated tenants in the building at the time of purchase.⁶

One of the ways that landlords attempt to convince tenants of rent-regulated units to vacate these units is by offering them consideration, in the form of buyout offers, in exchange for an agreement that the tenant vacate the unit. Tenants sometimes enter into these buyout agreements without having a clear understanding of a given offer’s value, or the implications of vacating a rent-regulated unit.⁷ Landlords may also harass tenants into vacating their units by performing construction in their building at all hours, without required safety measures, and by failing to temper construction debris and noise.⁸ Under DOB’s Professional Certification Program, registered design professionals can self-certify that the plans they have filed with DOB are in compliance with applicable laws. This reduces delays in building permit issuance because it negates the need for plans to be examined and approved by DOB. Unfortunately, some registered design professionals self-certify plans that contain false statements about occupancy or about the type of work that is being performed. As a result, DOB is not aware that work is being performed in occupied buildings and without the proper safety precautions in place.

Landlords also bring baseless eviction lawsuits against tenants, who are then forced to defend these lawsuits. Some tenants may be evicted without receiving notices of court dates because process servers failed to properly serve them, and as a result they are not aware that their landlord has commenced eviction proceedings against them.⁹

Related Legislation

Int. No 59-A

Int. No.59-A would require that persons making buyout offers to make certain disclosures, including a disclosure that there is no guarantee that the tenant will find a similar apartment in the same community district with the same number of bedrooms for the same rent as such person is paying at that time, and that there are additional factors that may impact a person's ability to obtain housing.

The Department of Housing Preservation and Development (HPD) must also report on median asking rents, disaggregated by community district and number of bedrooms, if a statistically significant and representative sample of data is available. The first report would be due by September 1, 2019 with subsequent reports due every year on by September 1, thereafter. A disclosure of the median asking rent for such community district would also be required if HPD has reported on such within the previous twelve-month period.

The disclosures required by this bill would take effect on October 15, 2019, while the first report would be due by September 1, 2019.

Int. No 551-A

Int. No. 551-A would require that, where owners of apartments enter into buyout agreements with their tenants, the owners must electronically submit certain information about the terms of the agreement, including the name of the unit's owner, the address of the unit that is the subject of the buyout agreement, the amount of money or other consideration paid to the tenant under the buyout agreement, the date the buyout agreement was executed, and the number of months remaining in the lease, to HPD within 90 days of the execution of the agreement. Failure to submit this information would result in the owner being liable for a non-hazardous violation under section 27-2115 of the Administrative Code. This bill would also require that HPD annually report to the Mayor and the Speaker of the City Council information about the buyout agreements submitted during the prior calendar year. The first report would be due no later than January 31, 2021 with each subsequent report due by January 31 of each following year.

This local law would take effect on July 1, 2020, except that the Commissioner of Housing Preservation and Development may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

Int. No. 975-A

Int. No. 975-A would require that DOB compile a list of multiple dwellings containing fewer than 35 units that have an average, in any combination, of at least three open immediately hazardous or hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations per unit, and multiple dwellings of 35 units or more that have an average, in any combination, of at least two open immediately hazardous or hazardous housing maintenance code violations or immediately hazardous or major construction code violations per unit. DOB would be prohibited from issuing a permit to any multiple dwelling on such list.

⁹ See part 2, Kim Barker, et al. The Eviction Machine Churning Through New York City Housing court, a system created to protect tenants, has become a powerful tool for landlords, NEW YORK TIMES (May 20, 2018), available at <https://www.nytimes.com/interactive/2018/05/20/nyregion/nyc-affordable-housing.html>

When, through the correction of such violations, the average number of violations per unit of a multiple dwelling falls below the average provided above, such multiple dwelling would be removed from the list. This prohibition on permit issuance would not apply to dwelling units owned as condominiums or held by shareholders as cooperatives. It would also not apply to properties subject to certain court proceedings, and it exempts applications for permits to correct outstanding DOB or HPD violations, to protect public health and safety, that are required to participate in certain DOB or HPD programs, and that are sought by a tenant occupying a portion of such property who is not responsible for any existing violations in such property.

This local law would take effect 210 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Buildings may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

Int. No. 977-A

Int. No. 977-A would permit DOB to exclude, suspend or otherwise condition the participation of registered design professionals in the Professional Certification Program if such registered design professionals submit two professionally certified applications for construction document approval within any 12-month period that contain errors that result in a stop work order. It would also require that DOB maintain a database in a non-proprietary machine-readable format that permits automated processing, of registered design professionals who have been excluded, suspended or otherwise sanctioned by the DOB.

This local law would take effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Buildings may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

Int. No. 1107-A

Int. No. 1107-A would require registered design professionals to prepare and submit for approval tenant protection plans when seeking a permit to perform construction, alteration or demolition in a building in which any dwelling unit will be occupied during such work. This bill would also require the inclusion of signed statements by building owners and contractors regarding the occupancy of a building and that the tenant protection plan complies with the scope of the work that will be performed. Finally, this bill would create the option to submit phased tenant protection plans to reflect the current stage of work.

This local law would take effect nine months after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Buildings may take such measures as are necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

Int. No. 1171-A

Int. If DOB finds that an owner has made a false statement, this bill would also require DOB to: (a) send a written notice of the falsification to the Council, the Department of Investigations, the DHCR, and the Tenant Protection Unit; (b) refer the matter to the relevant District Attorney and the New York State Attorney General for potential criminal prosecution; and (c) report on the punitive actions it took in every case in which it found evidence of false information in an application for a building permit.

Int. No. 1241-A

Currently, penalties and sanctions for violating the terms of participation in DOB's professional certification program only apply to the registered design professional who submitted the self-certification. Int. No. 1241-A would expand penalties for violating the terms of participation in DOB's professional certification program to apply not just to the registered design professional of record but also to any other registered design professional who knowingly directs the professional to submit documents either containing false statements or that demonstrate a lack of knowledge of applicable laws, or who with knowledge of such conduct and while acting as a supervisor, fails to prevent it. Such activity may also result in permanent revocation of professional certification privileges if it occurs while such registered design professional is already on probation.

The bill would further require an annual notification to registered design professionals informing them of the grounds upon which they may be excluded, suspended or otherwise sanctioned.

Finally, the bill would require that DOB incorporate information on the current firms and affiliations of registered design professionals who have been sanctioned into its existing database of registered design professionals.

This local law would take effect on May 1, 2021, except that the Commissioner of Housing Preservation and Development may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

Int. No. 1247-A

Int. No. 1247-A would require that owners of residential buildings provide copies of any notices of violation issued against that building to the residents of that building. For any violation in a common area or for a condition that affects all residents of that building, the owner would be required to post a copy of the notice of violation conspicuously in the building's lobby. For any violation issued for a condition present in an occupied dwelling unit, the owner would be required to distribute a copy of such notice of violation to the resident of such unit and to the residents of each adjacent occupied unit. This bill also requires DOB to create a pamphlet or flyer explaining the adjudication process for such violations, to be distributed with the copies of notices of violations.

This local law would take effect 180 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Buildings may take such measures as are necessary for the implementation of this local law, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

Int. No. 1257-A

Int. No. 1257-A would establish the right, in accordance with applicable law, of DOB inspectors to enter a construction site to ensure that work is conducted safely and in compliance with the law. If an inspector is unable gain access to a property expeditiously, and has reason to believe that work is being done in violation of the law, the DOB inspector will be required to issue a stop work order.

This local law would take effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Buildings shall take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

Int. No. 1258-A

No. 1258-A would require that the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) annually audit the records of at least 20% of the licensed process servers who have served at least one summons, subpoena, notice, citation or other process for a housing court proceeding within a calendar year. This bill would also require that process servers notify DCA on February 1, 2020, and every six months thereafter, if they have served process for a housing court proceeding in the prior six-month period. For reports due on February 1, such prior six month period would be July to December of the preceding calendar year, and for reports due on August 1, such prior six month period would be January to June of that calendar year. This bill would further require that the DCA post on its website, and notify all process serving agencies, when a process server has been disciplined, or where the process server's license has been suspended or revoked, or license renewal is denied.

This local law would take effect 120 days after it becomes law, except that the Commissioner of Consumer Affairs may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

This bill would also require that DOB not issue any permit to a building for at least one year following a determination that work was conducted without a permit while such building was occupied. This prohibition on permit issuance would not apply to dwelling units owned as condominiums or held by shareholders as cooperatives. It would also not apply to properties subject to certain court proceedings, and exempts permits sought to correct outstanding DOB or HPD violations, permits necessary to protect public health and safety, permits required by certain DOB or HPD programs, and permits sought by tenant occupying a portion of such property who is not responsible for any existing violations in such property.

Int. No. 1277-A

Int. No. 1277-A would require DOB to perform preliminary inspections to verify the occupancy status of buildings where the owner has indicated on an application for a construction document that the building is unoccupied, before the construction begins on the building. This local law would require DOB to perform such inspections for at least 20% of applications submitted for buildings containing six or more dwelling units.

This local law would take effect on January 1, 2020, except that the Commissioner of Buildings may take such actions as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, prior to such effective date.

Int. No. 1278-A would require DOB to approve Tenant Protection Plans (TPPs) prior to construction and to inspect at least 10% of construction sites with TPPs within seven days after commencement of work, to verify compliance with the TPP. The bill would further require that DOB perform follow-up inspections of such sites every 180 days, until such construction is completed, to ensure compliance with approved TPPs.

REPORTS:

(The following is the text of the Briefing Paper for Preconsidered items M-162 and M-161:)

Topic: New York City Civilian Complaint Review Board– (Council candidates for designation)

- Nathan N. Joseph [Preconsidered M-162]
- Joseph Puma [Preconsidered M-161]

New York City Charter (“Charter”) § 440 created the New York City Civilian Complaint Review Board (“CCRB” or “the Board”) as an entity independent of the New York City Police Department (“NYPD”). Its purpose is to investigate complaints concerning misconduct by officers of NYPD towards members of the public. The Board’s membership must reflect the City’s diverse population, and all members must be residents of the City.

The CCRB consists of a board of thirteen members of the public as well as a civilian staff to assist the CCRB exercising its powers and fulfilling its duties. The members are appointed by the Mayor as follows: five members, one from each borough are designated by the City Council; five members, including the chair, are selected by the Mayor; and three members having law enforcement experience are designated by the Police Commissioner. Only those appointees to CCRB designated by the Police Commissioner may have law enforcement experience. Experience as an attorney in a prosecutorial agency is not deemed law enforcement experience for purposes of this definition. The CCRB hires the Executive Director, who in turn hires and supervises the agency's all-civilian staff. There are two Deputy Executive Directors: one is responsible for administration and the other for investigations.

All appointees to CCRB serve three-year terms. Vacancies on the CCRB resulting from removal, death, resignation, or otherwise, are filled in the same manner as the original appointment; the successor completes the former member's un-expired term. Board members are prohibited from holding any other public office or public employment. All CCRB members are eligible for compensation for their work on a per-diem basis. The current per-diem rate is $315.00.

The CCRB is authorized to "receive, investigate, hear, make findings and recommend action" upon civilian complaints of misconduct by members of the NYPD towards the public. Complaints within the CCRB's jurisdiction are those that allege excessive force, abuse of authority, discourtesy, or use of offensive language, including but not limited to slurs relating to race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation or disability.

The CCRB has promulgated procedural rules pursuant to the City's Administrative Procedural Act ("CAPA"). These rules regulate the way in which investigations are conducted¹, recommendations are made, and members of the public are informed of the status of their complaints. The rules also outline the establishment of panels consisting of at least three Board members (no panel may consist exclusively of Mayoral appointees, Council appointees or Police Commissioner appointees); these panels may supervise the investigation of complaints and hear, make findings and recommend action with respect to such complaints. The CCRB, by majority vote of all its members, may compel the attendance of witnesses and require the production of such records and other materials as are necessary for the investigation of complaints.

The CCRB's findings and recommendations with respect to a complaint, and the basis therefore, must be submitted to the Police Commissioner. In all such cases where a finding or recommendation has been submitted, the Police Commissioner is required to report to the CCRB on any action taken with respect to that complaint. The law prohibits the CCRB from making any finding or recommendation solely on the basis of an unsworn complaint or statement. In addition, the law prohibits the CCRB from using prior complaints against a member of the NYPD that have been unsubstantiated, unfounded or withdrawn as the basis for any finding or recommendation regarding a current complaint.

It should also be noted that the CCRB has established a voluntary mediation program in which a complainant may choose to resolve his or her complaint through informal conciliation. Both the alleged victim and the subject officer must voluntarily agree to mediation. Mediation is offered as an alternative to investigation to resolve certain types of complaints, none of which can involve physical injury or damage to property. If the mediation is not successful, the alleged victim has the right to request that the case be fully investigated.

Also, the CCRB is required to issue to the Mayor and to the City Council a semi-annual report describing its activities and summarizing its actions, and is also mandated to develop and administer an on-going program to educate the public about CCRB.

If re-designated by the Council and subsequently appointed by the Mayor, Mr. Joseph, a resident of Staten Island, will serve for a three year term that will begin on July 5, 2019 and expires on July 4, 2022.

If re-designated by the Council and subsequently appointed by the Mayor, Mr. Puma, a resident of Manhattan, will serve for a three year term that expires on July 4, 2021.

Copies of the candidate's resumes are annexed to this Briefing Paper.

SPECIAL PURPOSE DISTRICTS

Chapter 1
Special Midtown District

81-681
Mandatory requirements for qualifying sites

(b) Mandatory publicly accessible space requirements for qualifying sites

(1) Type and minimum size

(iii) A #qualifying site# with a #lot area# of 65,000 square feet or greater shall provide an open publicly accessible space with an area of not less than 10,000 square feet. Where such #qualifying site# has a #through lot# portion, such #qualifying site# shall provide an open publicly accessible space across the #through lot# portion.

However, for a #qualifying site# with a #lot area# of 80,000 square feet or greater that includes an existing entrance to a rail mass-transit facility located outside the #through lot# portion of the #zoning lot# existing on (date of adoption), such open publicly accessible space may be located so as to include the entrance to a rail mass-transit facility, provided that such open publicly accessible space adjoins a #street# or a required sidewalk widening, as applicable.

(2) Design requirements for publicly accessible spaces

(i) Open publicly accessible space

For open publicly accessible space, the provisions of Section 37-70, inclusive, shall apply, except that the provisions of Section 37-713 (Locational restrictions) shall not apply. In addition, the following modifications or waivers may be applied under certain circumstances:

(a) For #qualifying sites# where an open publicly accessible space is permitted to adjoin a #street# or a required sidewalk widening to accommodate an entrance to a rail mass-transit facility in accordance with paragraph (b)(1)(iii) of this Section, and the majority of the subsurface area of such #qualifying site# is occupied by a railroad right-of-way, thus imposing practical difficulty in configuring the #building# or required publicly accessible space:

(1) the provisions of Sections 81-42 (Retail Continuity Along Designated Streets), 81-43 (Street Wall Continuity Along Designated Streets), and 81-671 (Special street wall requirements), paragraph (d) of Section 37-715 (Requirements for major portions of public plazas) need not apply;

(2) where #street wall# requirements are not applied, the provisions of paragraph (a) and (b) of Section 37-726 (Permitted obstructions) may be modified to allow a portion of an open publicly accessible space to be covered by a #building or other structure#, provided that there is an average separation of at least 50 feet between the level of such open publicly accessible space and any portion of #building# above, and further provided that any such portion shall be located no lower than 40 feet above the level of such open publicly accessible space. In addition, such #building or other structure# shall not obstruct more than 60 percent of the area of such open publicly accessible space;

(3) the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (c) of Section 37-76 (Mandatory Allocation of Frontages for Permitted Uses) need not apply, where at least one food service kiosk shall abut or be included within such open publicly accessible space. The size limitations of paragraph (a), and the certification requirements of paragraph (c) of Section 37-73 shall not apply to such kiosk.

(4) where the provisions of paragraph (d) of Section 37-715 are not applied, the provisions of paragraph (a) of Section 37-721 (Sidewalk frontage) may be modified to require no more than 40 percent of the area within 15 feet of any such #street line# to be free of obstructions and the provisions of Section 37-741 (Seating), may be modified to exclude the length of any such #street line# from the calculation of the amount of seating required within 15 feet of such #street line#.

- (b) For #qualifying sites# where an open publicly accessible space is permitted to adjoin a #street# or a required sidewalk widening to accommodate an entrance to a rail mass-transit facility in accordance with paragraph (b)(1)(iii) of this Section, the Chairperson of the City Planning Commission shall permit modifications to the remaining design provisions of Section 37-70, inclusive, upon certification to the Department of Buildings that such modifications are limited to those that directly address practical difficulties resulting from the presence of the entrance to a rail mass-transit facility within the open publicly accessible space. Any application shall include materials demonstrating the extent of modifications necessary. The Chairperson, in consultation with the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, shall determine the appropriate amount of above-grade pedestrian circulation space into and around the entrance to such rail mass-transit facility.

Report for voice-vote item Res No 828-A Report of the Committee on Immigration in favor of approving, as amended, a Resolution commending the New York State Office of Court Administration for promulgating rules that require a judicial warrant for any civil arrest in a New York State court and calling on the State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, the “Protect Our Courts Act” (A.2176 / S.425), in order to further protect certain interested parties or people from civil arrest while going to, remaining at, or returning from the place of such court proceeding.

The Committee on Immigration, to which the annexed resolution was referred on April 9, 2019 (Minutes, page 1370), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On May 7, 2019, the Committee on Immigration, chaired by Council Member Carlos Menchaca, held a second hearing and vote on Proposed Res. 828-A-2019, sponsored by Council Members Menchaca and Lancman, in relation to the New York State Protect Our Courts Act. The Committee approved the Resolution.

II. BACKGROUND

ICE’s Increased Enforcement in Courts

Immediately after the presidential inauguration on January 20, 2017, the Trump administration laid out its mass deportation agenda in an Executive Order, “Enhancing Public Safety in the Interior of the United States.”¹ This agenda included targeting sanctuary cities, increasing community arrests and raids, and following immigrants at their state-level court appearances in criminal court and civil courts, such as family court, and specialized courts, such as Human Trafficking Court.²

Whereas under the Obama Administration, reports of state-level courthouse arrests were infrequent,³ U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement’s (‘ICE’) use of this tactic under the Trump Administration escalated quickly. The Immigrant Defense Project (‘IDP’), which has been monitoring ICE courthouse raids since 2013, first reported a sharp increase in courthouse raids in 2017.⁴ Between 2017 and 2018, IDP documented reports of arrests that came in from New York, Massachusetts, Washington, Oregon, New Jersey, Colorado, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Illinois, Texas, and Ohio from public defenders, legal services providers, anti-violence advocates, immigration lawyers, and family and community members. IDP reported that ICE operations in and around New York courts continued to increase, reaching an unprecedented level.⁵ Since 2016, ICE operations in and around New York courthouses have increased by 1736%,⁶ with a comparative marginal increase between 2017 and 2018 by 17%.⁷ Between 2016 and 2018, New York City continued to account for about 75% of arrests statewide, with Queens and Brooklyn reporting the largest numbers.⁸ IDP reported that in 2018 there were 178 courthouse arrests in New York State, with 24 additional ICE sightings.⁹ IDP also reported an expansion of ICE tactics using courthouses to surveil potentially removable immigrants, and increased interactions with their families and loved ones who have come to court in support.¹⁰

³ In New York, for example, the Immigrant Defense Project (IDP) received 11 reports total in all of 2016, but received 146 reports in 2017.

Impact of ICE Presence in Courthouses

ICE targeting state courthouses for immigration enforcement has tangible impact on local communities and interferes with the City's ability to seek justice for its criminal defendant residents in their ongoing, non-immigration related cases. In the recent report "Safeguarding the Integrity of Our Courts: The Impact of ICE Courthouse Operations in New York State" released by the New York ICE Out of Courts Coalition, stakeholders describe the broad impacts of ICE presence in state courthouses:

- ICE operations impede the prosecution of cases, as victims or witnesses to crime are either apprehended by ICE before the termination of a case, or fear engaging with the court system and retract their statements regarding open cases;¹¹
- ICE operations have led victims of crime to report crimes to local law enforcement officers using fake names and addresses, which are impossible to follow-up on, when a case moves forward;¹²
- ICE operations have led to a significant decline in community participation in Criminal Justice programming: such as Immigrant Affairs Unit Hotline at District Attorney offices,¹³ District Attorney Clean Slate program participation,¹⁴ visits to New York City's Family Justice Centers;¹⁵
- ICE operations at problem-solving and civil courts throughout New York City has led to decreased willingness to participate all aspects of our state and local justice system;¹⁶
- ICE operations have led to rising fear of attending court and increasing issuance of bench warrants, often contrary to the legal interests of clients: "clients are more likely to take unfavorable pleas to avoid returning to court;"¹⁷
- ICE operations have led to a rise in "disappearing litigants" whether because litigants are apprehended by ICE as they are appearing for court dates or because ICE fails to produce individuals in their custody for ongoing court cases as ICE considers itself "no bound by state court orders;"¹⁸

As ICE presence has increased nationally, interactions with local law enforcement has decreased or become strained. A coalition of advocates and legal service providers documented a high concern about contacting law enforcement among immigrant survivors of intimate partner violence in 2017.¹⁹ Simultaneously, advocates report that orders of protection issued against intimate partners or family members have decreased from 235,282 in 2016 and 232,803 in 2017 while abusers are increasingly threatening to call ICE on their partners and family members.²⁰ The same survey found that 43% of providers had clients who had dropped a civil or criminal case due to fear of ICE arrests in courts.²¹ In Los Angeles, the city police chief indicates that sexual assault reports from the Latino community have dropped by a quarter in 2017, compared to the same period in 2016, and reports of domestic violence have decreased by almost 10%.²² In 2017, IDP released results from a survey of immigrant New Yorkers, expressing distinct fears of going to court because of ICE, including: “I have a disabled child and I fear going to court for custody,” “I won’t be safe if I need to go to court for any reason. I will not feel safe reaching out to any agencies in case I need help,” “They could send me to immigration even if my case is pending,” and “I should be able to go to court without having to be scared of getting arrested or deported.”²³

ICE Policies and Implementation

On ICE’s Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) page on Sensitive Locations and Courthouse Arrests,²⁴ ICE states that it has implemented a policy whereby enforcement actions are not to occur at or be focused on sensitive locations such as schools and places of worship.²⁵ This policy is intended, according to ICE, “to enhance public understanding and trust, and to ensure that people seeking to participate in activities or utilize services provided at any sensitive location are free to do so, without fear or hesitation.”²⁶ ICE further states on its FAQ page that it does not view courthouses as a sensitive location.²⁷ The rationale given for pursuing enforcement actions inside courthouses is that “the increasing unwillingness of some jurisdictions to cooperate with ICE in the safe and orderly transfer of targeted aliens inside their prisons and jails has necessitated additional at-large arrests.”²⁸ In response to why courthouse arrests seem to be occurring more frequently, ICE repeats that it is because “some law enforcement agencies no longer honor ICE detainers or limit ICE’s access to their detention facilities.”²⁹ ICE has clearly ramped up enforcement actions in state courthouses as a direct response to local law enforcement agencies limiting their cooperation with ICE’s enforcement of federal immigration law, targeting sanctuary cities for intrusion in courthouse proceedings.

In January 2018, ICE issued a memo stating that it would limit its civil immigration enforcement actions inside courthouses to only certain people, such as gang members, those with criminal convictions, or people who pose national security threats.³⁰ The memo stated that ICE officers would not go after family members or friends of arrest targets unless they pose a threat to public safety or intervene in the ICE arrest.³¹ Additionally, the memo stated that officers “should exercise sound judgment when enforcing federal law and make substantial efforts to avoid unnecessarily alarming the public.”³² However, reports of courthouse arrests and the resulting chilling effect of ICE’s presence in the courts show that this is not the case.

For example, crime victims and witnesses, while not named in the directive, have been arrested in ICE operations.³³ In February 2017, ICE arrested a transgender woman inside an El Paso courthouse while she was awaiting a hearing about her request for a protective order against an abusive ex-boyfriend.³⁴ In June 2017, three plainclothes ICE officers, identified by legal service providers at the Queens Human Trafficking Court, targeted defendants who were attending adjournment hearings. Thankfully, the Trafficking Court Judge, Toko Serita, communicated to one of the defense attorneys and they were able to defer releasing the defendant while ICE was present.³⁵ ICE did not detain any defendants from the Queens Human Trafficking Court in that instance, but they did detain three seemingly unrelated individuals outside the Queens criminal courthouse that same day.³⁶ These are just a few instances, exemplifying a problematic interference of federal law enforcement in state courthouses.

Public Outcry

Beginning in early 2017 and continuing to this day, court officials, elected officials, and advocates across the country have been criticizing courthouse arrests for deterring victims and witnesses from coming forward. For example, in March 2017, Justice Cantil-Sakauye of the Supreme Court of California wrote a letter to then-Attorney General Jeff Sessions and DHS Secretary John F. Kelly requesting that ICE agents stop arresting immigrants at courthouses, explaining that courthouses are a vital forum for ensuring access to justice and protecting public safety, and that they should not be used as bait in the enforcement of immigration laws.³⁷ In April 2017, the Mayor of Denver, Presiding Judge of the Denver County Court, City Attorney, District Attorney, and various Denver City Council members wrote a letter to ICE, urging ICE to make courthouses a “sensitive location.” Chief Justices of the Oregon Supreme Court, New Jersey Supreme Court, Connecticut Supreme Court, and Rhode Island Supreme Court, and many others also followed with letters and public statements about how ICE’s presence in courthouses creates heightened fear in immigrant communities, and negatively impacts the justice system by discouraging victims from reporting crimes, witnesses from coming forward, and individuals from appearing in court.³⁸ The letters make clear that by effectively denying immigrants access to justice, judges, attorneys, and officials fear that ICE’s presence in courthouses is eroding the public’s confidence in the justice system, and impeding due process for these individuals and communities.

In June 2017, the New York City Council’s Committee on Immigration and the former Courts and Legal Services Committee held a joint hearing on the increased ICE enforcement at New York City Courthouses. The committees received testimony from New York City-based legal and social service providers who first noticed the rise in ICE activity in and around City courthouses.³⁹

In December 2018, a group of dozens of former state and federal judges asked ICE to add courthouses to the list of “sensitive locations” where ICE officers generally do not go.⁴⁰ The judges cited reports of a marked increase in ICE activity in courts over the past two years, stating, “Judges simply cannot do their jobs—and our justice system cannot function effectively—if victims, defendants, witnesses, and family members do not feel secure in accessing the courthouse.”⁴¹ ICE arrests had been documented in dozens of states, the judges wrote, affecting survivors of domestic violence, victims of human trafficking, and parents seeking to protect their children from unsafe living conditions.⁴²

This issue of federal immigration officials arresting individuals in or around criminal courts has also united both sides of the criminal legal system, with both prosecutors and public defenders criticizing what they perceive as damaging interference with the system’s functioning.⁴³ In February 2019, the New York City district attorneys from Brooklyn, Manhattan, and the Bronx protested the practice of ICE officers making arrests inside New York City courthouses.⁴⁴

The New York State Office of Court Administration

The New York State Office of Court Administration (“OCA”) is the administrative arm of the New York State Unified Court System (“UCS”), and falls under the direction of the Chief Judge of the State of New York, the Hon. Janet DiFiore.⁴⁵ The Chief Judge serves as both Chief Judicial Officer of the State, and the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals.⁴⁶ The Chief Judge establishes statewide standards and administrative policies, after consulting with the Administrative Board of the Courts and receiving approval by the Court of Appeals.⁴⁷ Executive officers of the OCA are responsible for the day-to-day operations of courts, including trial-level and specialty courts, and work with Administrative Judges in New York’s courts to allocate resources and meet their needs and goals.⁴⁸

Before April 17, 2019, OCA’s policy was “to permit law enforcement agencies to act in the pursuit of their official legal duties in New York State courthouses, provided that the conduct in no way disrupts or delays court operations, or compromises public safety or court decorum.”⁴⁹ In furtherance of this policy, OCA protocols required representatives of law enforcement agencies who enter a New York State Courthouse to take a person into custody, without a warrant,⁵⁰ to identify themselves to court personnel and disclose any enforcement actions they may take inside the courthouse.⁵¹ Court personnel were required to immediately pass this information to their supervisor, who informed the judge that such representatives were in the courthouse and intended to arrest a participant in a case before the judge.⁵² Every arrest made in the courthouse under these circumstances was to be documented and reported by court personnel.⁵³

While the OCA stated that it does not help facilitate ICE arrests at courthouses, uniformed court officers have participated in several ICE operations by assisting in arrests, providing information to ICE agents about individuals, and allowing ICE to make arrests in private areas of the courthouse.⁵⁴ For example, a bystander outside of the Queen Criminal Court captured on camera several plainclothes ICE agents working with at least three uniformed court officers to arrest a father who was on his way into the courthouse.⁵⁵ In another account, ICE agents were spotted arresting a man as he left Manhattan Criminal Court after uniformed court officer notified them of his court appearance date.⁵⁶ OCA had also produced documents filed by court officers after arrests by ICE agents, in response to a Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) request, cataloguing 66 arrests by ICE agents in New York State courthouses between February 2017 and August 2018, with uniformed court officers or clerks assisting ICE agents in making six of those arrests.⁵⁷

On April 17, 2019, OCA issued new court rule requiring judicial warrants for ICE arrests in courthouses⁵⁸ after the release of an 80-page report by more than 100 organizations documenting how ICE courthouse arrests impact the criminal justice system.⁵⁹ OCA stated that the agency felt it “would be an appropriate change in policy” as their “goal has been, is and continues to be the safe and efficient operation of the State’s court system.”⁶⁰ As such, New York became the first state to bar ICE from making arrests in courts without a judicial warrant.⁶¹ The new rule states that “absent leave of the court under extraordinary circumstances (e.g., extradition orders), no law enforcement action may be taken by a law enforcement agency in a courtroom,” and “arrests by agents of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement may be executed inside a New York State courthouse only pursuant to a judicial warrant or judicial order authorizing the arrest.”⁶² Though the new rule restricts arrests inside courthouses, the Protect Our Courts Act (A.2176 / S.425), discussed below, would further restrict arrests of individuals entering and exiting State courthouses, bar courthouse entry to ICE without a judicial warrant, and grant a civil right of action to sue civil law enforcement for a courthouse arrest without a judicial warrant.

Protect Our Courts Act

In January 2019, New York State Senator Hoylman and New York State Assembly Member Solages introduced the “Protect our Courts Act” (A.2176/S.425), which would exempt individuals from civil arrest while “going to, remaining at, or returning from the place of such court proceeding.”⁶³ Absent a signed judicial warrant or judicial order authorizing a civil arrest, A.2176/S.425 would prohibit the civil arrest of any person attending a court proceeding “duly and in good faith.” The legislation would designate the willful violation of the exemption as contempt of the court and false imprisonment, and would grant individuals the ability to bring a civil action for appropriate equitable and declaratory relief in instances of violation of the exemption. The bill further amends New York State Judiciary Law to allow courts to issue orders to protect the prohibition of civil arrests of any person in a court proceeding. It would further require that non-local law enforcement officials identify themselves and their purpose when entering a courthouse.

III. Legislative Analysis

Proposed Res. No. 828-A-2019 (Menchaca, Lancman), in relation to the New York State Protect our Courts Act, commends the New York State Office of Court Administration for promulgating rules that require a judicial warrant for any civil arrest in a New York State court, and calls on the New York State legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.2176/S.425 which would exempt individuals from civil arrest while in New York Court houses.⁶⁴ Without this legislation, non-local law enforcement agents will continue to interfere with New York Courts, impinging on New Yorkers access to due process and public safety, making witnesses to crime and victims of crime less likely to engage in the court system.

IV. Conclusion

On April 10, 2019, the Committee on Immigration heard testimony from the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs and advocates on the issue of increased ICE enforcement in New York City courts. The hearing explored how the escalation of ICE enforcement at courthouses nationally breaks the hard earned-trust between immigrant communities and local law enforcement and courts. Without this trust, immigrant defendants may forego their right to a fair and impartial hearing, crime victims may chose not to report crimes or withdraw complaints, and witnesses may decline to assist in the investigation or prosecution of a crime—all out of fear that their mere presence in the courthouse puts them at increased risk of being arrested by ICE and deported. The significant increase in ICE's disruptive enforcement in New York City courts since 2017 highlights the need for New York State legislation to minimize ICE presence in courts, to protect the sanctity of our justice system, and maintain the immigrant community's trust in the judiciary.

Revised 04/17/2019

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption, as amended.

(The following is the text of Res. No. 828-A:)

Res. No. 828-A

Resolution commending the New York State Office of Court Administration for promulgating rules that require a judicial warrant for any civil arrest in a New York State court and calling on the State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, the “Protect Our Courts Act” (A.2176 / S.425), in order to further protect certain interested parties or people from civil arrest while going to, remaining at, or returning from the place of such court proceeding.

By Council Members Menchaca, Lancman, Kallos and Rosenthal.

Whereas, Under the Trump administration, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) arrests of immigrants have increased overall, and targeting tactics that were rare under the Obama administration have become commonplace; and

Whereas, The Immigrant Defense Project (IDP) reports that since 2016, ICE operations in and around New York courthouses rose 1700%; and

Whereas, IDP reports that New York City accounts for 75% of ICE courthouse interactions between 2016 and 2018, with Queens and Brooklyn reporting the largest numbers of courthouse arrests and sightings; and

Whereas, In April 2017, the New York State Office of Court Administration (OCA) issued an updated protocol related to law enforcement agency activities in courthouses; and

Whereas, OCA’s policy requires law enforcement officials to: identify themselves, inform the judge if a participant in a case before them is a target, and clarifies that OCA personnel remain responsible for “ensuring public safety and decorum in the courthouse at all times;” and

Whereas, In January 2018, ICE released its first policy on enforcement actions in courthouses; and

Whereas, After this release, IDP reports that ICE agents expanded the reach of courthouse arrests, continuing to target friends and family members accompanying individuals to court; and

Whereas, In 2019, the media publication ‘Documented’ obtained documents through Freedom of Information Law request detailing six instances between February 2017 and August 2018 in which OCA officers or clerks assisted ICE agents in making arrests; and

Whereas, When ICE arrests a defendant during an unrelated court proceeding, ICE is under no obligation to produce them for such court appearance; and

Whereas, The fear of deportation acts as a deterrent for victims of crime, witnesses to crime, and defendants, to engage in the criminal court system; and

Whereas, In January 2019, New York State Senator Hoylman and New York State Assembly Member Solages introduced the “Protect our Courts Act” (A.2176/S.425), which would exempt individuals from civil arrest while “going to, remaining at, or returning from the place of such court proceeding;” and

Whereas, Absent a signed judicial warrant or judicial order authorizing a civil arrest, A.2176/S.425 would prohibit the civil arrest of any person attending a court proceeding “duly and in good faith;” and

Whereas, The legislation would designate the willful violation of the exemption as contempt of the court and false imprisonment, and would grant individuals the ability to bring a civil action for appropriate equitable and declaratory relief in instances of violation of the exemption; and

Whereas, On April 17, 2019, OCA issued a new rule for all uniformed personnel that requires a judicial warrant for any civil arrest to occur in a New York State court; and

Whereas, The new rule is unprecedented in the nation and a positive step forward in the fight to protect the sanctity of non-federal courts from immigration enforcement; and

Whereas, Though the new rule restricts arrests inside courthouses, the Protect Our Courts Act (A.2176 / S.425) would extend even further by restricting arrests of individuals entering and exiting State courthouses, bar courthouse entry to ICE without a judicial warrant, and grant a civil right of action to sue civil law enforcement for a courthouse arrest without a judicial warrant; and

Whereas, The unchecked interference of federal law enforcement, specifically ICE, in the state court system endangers New Yorkers' access to due process and public safety, generally, by making witnesses to crime and victims of crime less likely to engage in the court system; and

Whereas, Federal interference additionally removes criminal defendants from our jurisdiction, making it impossible to seek justice in their ongoing, non-immigration related cases; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York commends the New York State Office of Court Administration for promulgating rules that require a judicial warrant for any civil arrest in a New York State court and calls on the State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, the "Protect Our Courts Act" (A.2176 / S.425), in order to further protect certain interested parties or people from civil arrest while going to, remaining at, or returning from the place of such court proceeding.

Res. No. 861

Resolution calling on the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services to update its mandatory training curriculum to include specific training for security guards when interacting with people suffering from mental illness or substance abuse.

By Council Members Cabrera and Eugene.

Whereas, In order to obtain a license in New York, security guards must undertake mandatory training that is administered by the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services, Office of Public Safety; and

Whereas, The minimum standards for the training curriculum includes topics such as legal powers, ethics and conduct, and public relations; and

Whereas, However, there are currently no training requirements to guide appropriate interactions with people suffering from mental illness or substance abuse; and

Whereas, People with mental health or substance abuse issues are particularly vulnerable to personal crises that can lead to frequent and dangerous interactions with law enforcement, including security guards; and

Whereas, Such interactions can quickly become violent and even deadly if security or law enforcement officers are not properly trained in how to deal with people suffering from a substance problem or mental health condition; and

Whereas, For example, according to a report by the Treatment Advocacy Center, “the risk of being killed during a police incident is 16 times greater for individuals with untreated mental illness than for other civilians approached or stopped by officers”; and

Whereas, Similarly, the Washington Post’s data tracking of police involved shootings since 2017 shows that mental illness played a role in 25% of these incidents; and

Whereas, In response to public outcry over fatal police encounters, de-escalation training is slowly becoming common practice for police officers; and

Whereas, This training, which is mandated in nearly half the states in the Country, includes techniques on safe ways of interacting with people in crises; and

Whereas, The training also seeks to educate officers on the nuances of mental health and substance abuse illnesses, which helps them identify a person in crisis and respond safely; and,

Whereas, While much attention has been given to fatal police encounters, little tracking exists for similar cases involving armed security guards; and,

Whereas, For example, in an investigative report the Chicago Tribune found that, despite more than 40 recorded shootings, the journalists “could not find a single case where the state disciplined a guard for his or her role in a shooting”; and

Whereas, In Chicago, as in New York, training for security guards is limited and does not focus on nonviolent crisis intervention or de-escalation techniques; and

Whereas, Meanwhile, in Washington, D.C, after the deaths of two men in separate incidents who were in the custody of security guards, the Mayor proposed updating the mandatory training for security guards; and

Whereas, The proposal included doubling the number of pre-assignment training hours and expanding the training to include de-escalation practices and safely interacting with people with mental health or substance abuse illness; and,

Whereas, According to ThriveNYC, there are expected to be one in five adult New York City residents who will experience a mental health disorder during any given year; and

Whereas, At the State level, there are estimated to be 12% of residents over the age of 12 who experience a substance abuse disorder each year, according to the Department of Health; and,

Whereas, Meanwhile, according to CityLimits, there are twice as many security guards than there are police officers, and approximately ten times as many security guards as firefighters in New York State; and,

Whereas, According to Law Enforcement Today, “[t]here re over one million contract security guards working in the country and they often work at government facilities such as courthouses, large government buildings and Social Security Administration offices. Often the agencies housed in these facilities provide services that result in frequent contact with the mentally ill”; and

Whereas, This creates an environment where interactions between those with a mental health or substance abuse issue are likely to come into contact with security personnel; and

Whereas, Therefore, it is extremely important for those officers to be trained on how to safely diffuse situations and mediate the situations that are at risk of escalating due to a person’s underlying illness; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services update its mandatory training curriculum to include specific training for security guards when interacting with people suffering from mental illness or substance abuse.

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section BC 3301 of the New York city building code is amended by adding a new section 3301.14 to read as follows:

3301.14 Notification requirements to the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and the New York City Department of Transportation. Whenever a construction or demolition project requiring a work permit classified in section 28-105.2 as either a new building permit or an alteration permit required to meet new building requirements, as set forth in section 28-101.4.5, is proposed within 100 feet (30 480 mm) of any bridge or tunnel under the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey or the New York City Department of Transportation, the contractor or applicant for construction shall notify such authority having jurisdiction. Such contractor or applicant shall notify the department that such notice has been made to the authority having jurisdiction prior to commencement of any such permitted activity. The issuance of any permit or approval by the department shall not relieve the applicant of the obligation to comply with any approval or permitting requirements of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority, the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey or the New York City Department of Transportation.

§ 2. This local law takes effect 90 days after it becomes law, except that the commissioner of buildings may take such measures as are necessary for its implementation, including the promulgation of rules, before such date.

Res. No. 862

Resolution calling on the State of New York to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.04372, to direct the consumer protection division to conduct a study on limited service pregnancy center entities.

By Council Members Gibson and Chin.

Whereas, Limited service pregnancy centers, otherwise known as crisis pregnancy centers or pregnancy service centers, are facilities that are not licensed to provide medical services despite their efforts to appear as a proper sexual health clinic; and

Whereas, Pregnancy service centers are further defined in New York City's Administrative Code as "...a facility, including a mobile facility, the primary purpose of which is to provide services to women who are or may be pregnant, that either: (1) offers obstetric ultrasounds, obstetric sonograms or prenatal care; or (2) has the appearance of a licensed medical facility"; and

Whereas, According to Planned Parenthood, pregnancy service centers lead individuals to believe they provide abortion services, comprehensive contraception, and referrals for care, meanwhile they are anti-abortion and anti-birth control; and

Whereas, Pregnancy service centers generally do not formally disclose to their clients whether they do or do not provide abortion or referrals for abortion, provide FDA-approved emergency contraception or referrals to organizations or individuals who provide emergency contraception, or provide prenatal care or referrals for prenatal care; and

Whereas, Pregnancy service centers have been known to perform deceptive practices, such as branding or marketing themselves as similar to Planned Parenthood and other licensed health centers; and

Whereas, Pregnancy service centers have provided false and misleading information to those who seek care; and

Whereas, Pregnancy service centers often request clients' personal information, and there have been instances when the center has breached confidentiality by showing up at a person's place of work; and

Whereas, A.04372, sponsored by Assembly Member Deborah Glick, would direct the consumer protection division to conduct a study on these centers; and

Whereas, The study would include examining the funding sources of centers, the number of people who visit such centers, the services they provide, the personal information they obtain, and their practices of disclosing or not disclosing information about their facilities and motives; and

Whereas, Since pregnancy service centers are unlicensed and therefore unregulated by the Health Department, such a study would be of much help to policymakers and the public, and could help direct future actions to protect the public and ensure access to quality care; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the State of New York to pass, and the Governor to sign, A.04372, to direct the consumer protection division to conduct a study on limited service pregnancy center entities.

Referred to the Committee on Health.

Res. No. 863

Resolution recognizing May 10, 2019 as the 150th Anniversary of the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad.

By Council Member Holden.

Whereas, Transcontinental Railroad was completed on May 10, 1869 when the Central Pacific Railroad Company and the Union Pacific Railroad Company linked railroad tracks at Promontory Summit, Utah; and

Whereas, One of the earliest proponents for the construction of a transcontinental railroad was New York City businessman Asa Whitney, a native of North Groton, Connecticut, who in 1845 presented a proposal to the United States Congress for a railroad spanning from Lake Michigan to the Pacific; and

Whereas, While Mr. Whitney's initial proposal failed, it set in motion the idea of a transcontinental railroad that would be championed in the 1860's by engineer Theodore Judah who lobbied to secure the passage of the Pacific Railroad Act in the United States House of Representatives on May 6, 1862 and in the United States Senate on June 6, 1862; and

Whereas, On July 1, 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed into law the Pacific Railroad Act of 1862 which authorized the Central Pacific Railroad Company, co-founded by Charles Crocker born in Troy, New York and the Union Pacific Railroad Company, controlled by Wall Street investor Dr. Thomas Durant, with building a transcontinental railroad that would link the United States from east to west; and

Whereas, To encourage the rapid completion of the railroad link, the Pacific Railroad Act of 1862 approved generous financial subsidies and land grants to the owners of both railroad companies; and

Whereas, Work on the railroad link began in 1863, with the Central Pacific Railroad Company starting to build their tracks in Sacramento moving east, while the Union Pacific Railroad Company started building westward at Council Bluffs, Iowa near the Missouri River where railroad lines were already operating in the eastern part of the country; and

Whereas, For six years the workers of both companies toiled to lay down the rail beds, tracks and other necessary infrastructure as they raced towards meeting somewhere near Salt Lake City, Utah; and

Whereas, The workers of Central Pacific Railroad Company were initially comprised of Irish immigrants from New York City and Boston, but due to recruiting difficulties, eventually evolved into an integrated workforce that included more than 12,000 Chinese laborers who worked under brutal working conditions and were ultimately viewed by the company as conscientious, sober and hard workers; and

Whereas, On May 10, 1869 the two companies linked their rail lines with a final "Golden Spike" at a rail bed in Promontory Summit, Utah marking the completion of the nation's first transcontinental railroad; and

Whereas, The completion of the nearly 2,000 mile Transcontinental Railroad marked a pivotal milestone in the transportation history of the United States as it connected the Eastern and Western regions of our country and helped spur the further economic expansion of the west; and

Whereas, According to Congressional records, the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad reduced travel time across the nation from several months to one week; and

Whereas, On June 4, 1876, seven years after the completion of the transcontinental railroad a train known as the Transcontinental Express arrived in San Francisco, California, approximately eighty-three hours after leaving New York City; and

Whereas, The Transcontinental Railroad is considered as one of the most important engineering and technological achievements of the 19th century; and

Whereas, In 1965, the United States Congress passed legislation to create the Golden Spike National Historic Site to commemorate the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad link in Promontory, Utah; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York recognizes May 10, 2019 as the 150th Anniversary of the Completion of the Transcontinental Railroad.

Res. No. 864

Resolution declaring a climate emergency and calling for an immediate emergency mobilization to restore a safe climate.

By Council Members Kallos, Constantinides, Lander, Reynoso, Levin, Espinal, Koslowitz, Powers, Chin, Rosenthal, Barron and Rivera.

Whereas, On April 22, 2016, world leaders from 174 countries and the European Union recognized the threat of climate change and the urgent need to combat it by signing the Paris Agreement, agreeing to keep warming well below 2°C above pre-industrial levels and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase to 1.5°C; and

Whereas, On October 8, 2018, the United Nations International Panel on Climate Change (“IPCC”) released a special report, which projected that limiting warming to the 1.5°C target this century will require an unprecedented transformation of every sector of the global economy over the next 12 years; and

Whereas, On November 23, 2018, the United States Fourth National Climate Assessment (“NCA4”) was released and details the massive threat that climate change poses to the American economy, our environment and climate stability, and underscores the need for immediate climate emergency action at all levels of government; and

Whereas, According to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA)’s Goddard Institute for Space Studies (GISS), global temperatures in 2018 were .83°C (1.5°F) warmer than the 1951 to 1980 mean, and the past five years are collectively the warmest in modern history; and

The death and destruction already wrought by climate change demonstrates that the Earth is already too hot for safety, as attested by increased and intensifying wildfires, floods, rising seas, diseases, droughts and extreme weather; and

Whereas, World Wildlife Fund’s 2018 Living Planet report finds that there has been 60% decline in global wildlife populations between 1970 and 2014, with causes including overfishing, pollution and climate change;

Whereas, According to the Intergovernmental Science-Policy Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services, human activity has already severely altered 40% of the marine environment, 50% of inland waterways, and 75% of the planet’s land, and it is projected that half-to-one million species are threatened with extinction, many within the next few decades; and

Whereas, The United States of America has disproportionately contributed to the climate and extinction emergencies and has repeatedly obstructed global efforts to transition toward a green economy, and thus bears an extraordinary responsibility to rapidly address these existential threats; and

Whereas, Restoring a safe and stable climate requires transformative societal and economic change on a scale not seen since World War II to reach net zero greenhouse gas emissions across all sectors, to rapidly and safely drawdown or remove all the excess carbon from the atmosphere, to end the 6th mass extinction of species, and to implement measures to protect all people and species from the increasingly severe consequences of climate change; and

Whereas, A sweeping overhaul of the economy that centers on equity and justice in its solutions is vital to our future and must include the following goals: dramatically expand existing renewable power sources and deploy new production capacity with the goal of meeting 100% of national power demand through renewable sources; build a national, energy-efficient, “smart” grid; upgrade every residential and industrial building for state-of-the-art energy efficiency, comfort and safety; eliminate greenhouse gas emissions from manufacturing, agricultural and other industries, including by investing in local-scale agriculture in communities across the country; repair and improve transportation and other infrastructure, and upgrade water infrastructure to ensure universal access to clean water; fund massive investment in the drawdown of greenhouse gases; make “green” technology, industry, expertise, products and services a major export of the United States, with the aim of becoming the international leader in helping other countries become greenhouse gas neutral economies and bringing about a global transition; and

Whereas, Marginalized populations in New York City and worldwide, including people of color, immigrants, indigenous communities, low-income individuals, people with disabilities, and the unhoused are already disproportionately affected by climate change, and will continue to bear an excess burden as temperatures increase, oceans rise, and disasters worsen; and

Whereas, Addressing climate change fairly requires a “Just Transition” from fossil fuels to clean, renewable energy that is ecologically sustainable and equitable for all people, especially those most impacted by climate change already and those who will be most impacted in the future; and

Whereas, Core to a Just Transition is equity, self-determination, culture, tradition, deep democracy, and the belief that people around the world have a fundamental human right to clean, healthy and adequate air, water, land, food, education, healthcare, and shelter; and

Whereas, Just Transition strategies were first forged by a “blue-green” alliance of labor unions and environmental justice groups who saw the need to phase out the industries that were harming workers, community health, and the planet, while also providing just pathways for workers into new livelihoods; and

Whereas, Just Transition initiatives shift the economy from dirty energy that benefits fossil fuel companies to energy democracy that benefits our people, environment and a clean, renewable energy economy, from funding new highways to expanding public transit, from incinerators and landfills to zero waste products, from industrial food systems to food sovereignty, from car-dependent sprawl and destructive unbridled growth to smart urban development without displacement, and from destructive over-development to habitat and ecosystem restoration; and

Whereas, Building a society that is resilient to the current, expected, and potential effects of climate change will protect health, lives, ecosystems, and economies, and such resilience efforts will have the greatest positive impact if the most dramatic potential consequences of climate change are taken into account; and

Whereas, Climate justice calls for climate resilience planning that addresses the specific experiences, vulnerabilities, and needs of marginalized communities within our jurisdiction, who must be included and supported in actively engaging in climate resilience planning, policy, and actions; and

Whereas, Actions to eliminate greenhouse gas emissions and/or drawdown greenhouse gases may be taken in ways that also improve resilience to the effects of climate change, and vice versa; and

Whereas, Climate justice requires that frontline communities, which have historically borne the brunt of the extractive fossil-fuel economy, participate actively in the planning and implementation of this mobilization effort at all levels of government and that they benefit first from the transition to a renewable energy economy; and

Whereas, Fairness demands the protection and expansion of workers’ right to organize as well as a guarantee of high-paying, high-quality jobs with comprehensive benefits for all as the mobilization to restore a safe climate is launched; and

Whereas, Common sense demands that this unprecedented mobilization effort address the full suite of existential ecological threats facing humanity in a comprehensive, integrated and timely fashion; and

Whereas, Nearly 400 cities, districts and counties across the world representing over 34 million people collectively have recently declared or officially acknowledged the existence of a global climate emergency, including Hoboken, Berkeley, Los Angeles, Montgomery County, Oakland, Richmond, and Santa Cruz in the United States, Bristol and London in the United Kingdom and many cities in Australia, Canada, and Switzerland; and

Whereas, New York City, as the largest city in the United States, can act as a global leader by both converting to an ecologically, socially, and economically regenerative economy at emergency speed, and by rapidly organizing a regional just transition and climate emergency mobilization effort; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, The City Council declares a climate emergency and calls for an immediate emergency mobilization to restore a safe climate.

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A6564/S4244, which would permit any child who is at least fourteen years old to have administered certain immunizations required or recommended by law, regardless of parental consent.

By Council Member Levine.

Whereas, There has been a rising occurrence in the outbreak of diseases such as measles across the United States with approximately 465 cases in 19 states from January 1 through April 4, 2019, according the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, totaling the second-highest number of cases reported in the United States since the declared elimination of the disease in 2000; and

Whereas, Measles is a highly contagious and easily transmitted viral disease which can live for up to two hours in air or on surfaces where an infected person coughed or sneezed and people who lack immunity to the disease are much more likely to contract the virus if they come into in contact with an infectious person or near where an infected person recently has been; and

Whereas, Measles can result in very serious complications like brain swelling and pneumonia especially in those with weakened or compromised immune systems such as infants, young children, pregnant persons, and older adults; and

Whereas, Ohio teenager, Ethan Lindenberger testified to Congress in March about the dangerous of misinformation and the prevalence of anti-vaccination sentiment in the United States and that he defied his family's beliefs and got himself a series of immunizations after his realization that he was a health risk to his school and community without them; and

Whereas, In December of 2018, New York City's Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) issued exclusion orders which banned unvaccinated children from attending yeshivas until they were vaccinated or the outbreak had concluded for specific zip codes in Brooklyn and Queens where the outbreaks were most severe totaling 423 confirmed cases, including 61 and 348 confirmed cases in Borough Park and Williamsburg respectively as of April 29, 2019; and

Whereas, On April 9, 2019, Mayor Bill de Blasio declared the spread of measles a public health emergency and DOHMH announced that they would require unvaccinated individuals living in select ZIP codes to receive the Measles, Mumps, Rubella (MMR) vaccine in order to deal with the rising numbers of infected people in this part of the city and those who don't comply will be subject to potential fines; and

Whereas, The bill proposed in the New York State legislature would permit any child aged 14 years or older to be vaccinated and given booster shots without parental consent for a range of diseases including mumps, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, influenza, hepatitis B and measles, which would help to ensure the necessary herd immunity that keeps communities safe and protects the most vulnerable members of the population, like infants, the elderly and those with compromised immune systems from exposure and contraction; and; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, The New York City Council calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A6564/S4244, which would permit any child who is at least fourteen years old to have administered certain immunizations required or recommended by law, regardless of parental consent.

Res. No. 866

Resolution calling on the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, H.R. 7115 also referred to as the 3-D Firearms Prohibition Act.

By Council Members Miller, Rosenthal, Richards and the Public Advocate (Mr. Williams).

Whereas, 3-D printed firearms are unlicensed, untraceable, and can be undetectable as they are typically made of plastic; and

Whereas, While the United States Undetectable Firearms Act of 1988 requires guns to be detectable by metal screening machines, it does not require firearms to have a major component made of metal; and

Whereas, Several 3-D firearms bypass metal detection as they are designed to only include a removable metal block that is not necessary for its functionality; and

Whereas, According to experts, 3-D printed guns tend to fail, jam, and explode at higher rates than regular firearms, presenting a significantly higher danger to users and bystanders than a firearm made through regular production means; and

Whereas, As 3-D printers have become more accessible and widespread, the dangers posed by 3-D firearms is growing rapidly; and

Whereas, In August 2018, Judge Robert S. Lasnik of the United States District Court issued a temporary nationwide injunction barring the online publication of a 3-D gun blueprint and design; and

Whereas, Law enforcement and gun control activists have raised concerns about 3-D printed firearms, as they allow criminals to bypass background checks and ignore gun licensing laws that require unique serial numbers; and

Whereas, New York City has already seen the problems posed by these guns; and

Whereas, In September 2018, a puppet specialist for a Broadway musical was arrested and charged with manufacturing a 3-D printed gun in the play's prop room using designs he found online; and

Whereas, "Ghost Guns" are firearms made from incomplete gun frames or lower receivers that can be legally purchased without a license and transformed into an operable firearm using tools available in most hardware stores; and

Whereas, Under federal law, completed lower receivers are considered firearms, however incomplete lower receivers are unregulated; and

Whereas, Ghost guns present similar dangers as 3-D guns as they too can go undetected; and

Whereas, The 3-D Firearms Prohibition Act, sponsored by United States Representative Frank Joseph Pallone Jr., would prohibit the sale, acquisition, distribution in commerce, or import of "do-it yourself" firearm parts and kits, the marketing of such kits, and would require homemade firearms to have serial numbers; and

Whereas, Pursuant to the 3-D Firearms Prohibition Act, firearm receiver casting, blanks, and unfinished handgun frames would be considered banned hazardous products under the Consumer Product Safety Act; and

Whereas, Pursuant to the 3-D Firearms Prohibition Act, the advertising of marketing of on any medium, including the Internet, for the sale of do-it yourself assault weapons parts or kits would be unlawful; and

Whereas, Further, the 3-D Firearms Prohibition Act would require the attainment of a serial number and identifying mark for a firearm prior to making it; and

Whereas, The manufacturing and possession of 3-D printed firearms and Ghost Guns should be banned as they present serious safety hazardous to New Yorkers and the rest of the nation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass, and the President to sign, H.R. 7115 also referred to as the 3-D Firearms Prohibition Act.

Res. No. 867

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the New York State Governor to sign, S.1947/A.1261, in relation to hours, wages and supplements in contracts for public work.

By Council Members Moya, Koslowitz, Ampry-Samuel, Salamanca, King, Rivera, Ayala, Cabrera, Constantinides, Kallos, Espinal, Gibson and Grodenchik.

Whereas, New York State (NYS) Labor Law and the NYS Constitution mandate that contractors and subcontractors pay the prevailing rate of hours, wages and supplements (fringe benefits), known as the prevailing wage, to all workers under a public work contract, mainly regarding public work projects for construction and reconstruction (Article 8 of the NYS Labor Law), and building services contracts (Article 9 of the NYS Labor Law); and

Whereas, In New York City (NYC), the prevailing wage is set annually by the NYC Comptroller, however, in addition to public work projects that are included under NYS Labor Law, the NYC Administrative Code requires additional public work projects to be covered under the prevailing wage, including certain buildings receiving financial assistance from, or leasing space to, the NYC government, and food services or temporary office services for contracts with NYC government agencies; and

Whereas, Although NYS Labor Law and the NYC Administrative Code specify what types of trades are bound by the prevailing wage requirement, there is a persistent problem in the lack of a clear definition of “public work;” and

Whereas, This lack of a clear definition causes problems in the way in which certain projects are classified or not classified as a public work project, ultimately determining whether workers are required to receive the prevailing wage or not; and

Whereas, The New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University (ILR School of Cornell University) exemplifies this problem by reporting that public work projects were typically defined in the past as construction projects of public facilities funded by public money and for public use, however, more recently, the definition of “public work” has been blurred, due to the comingling of various forms of public and private funding, which has caused uncertainty among many contractors and subcontractors regarding their obligation to provide the prevailing wage to their workers; and

Whereas, Further, neither NYS Labor Law nor the NYS Constitution defines “public work,” which has led to a number of court cases challenging certain projects’ status as public work projects, resulting in fewer projects and workers subject to the prevailing wage requirement, according to the NYS Building and Construction Trades Council; and

Whereas, Legislation has been introduced at the state level to ensure that workers on public work projects receive the prevailing wage and its' associated benefits, which, according to the ILR School of Cornell University, include: increased consumer demand that supports local business-with every dollar spent on the prevailing wage generating $1.50 for local economics; protection of communities, workers, and contractors from lower-paying, out-of-state competition; and increased incomes and tax revenues, among other things; and

Whereas, S.1947, introduced by Senator Jessica Ramos, and A.1261, introduced by Assemblymember Harry B. Bronson, provide: a clear definition of "public work" to include all projects paid for in whole or in part with public funds, certain construction work performed under private contract, and certain construction work performed as a condition of regulatory approval; exemptions to providing the prevailing wage for homeowners, certain non-profits, certain affordable housing projects, and projects eligible for benefits provided under section 421-a of the real property taxation law; and the NYS Labor Commissioner with the ability to issue a stop-work order if any person involved with public work projects fails to comply with or intentionally evades work requirements; and

Whereas, This legislation will remedy the present situation of uncertainty that exists in NYS regarding which projects fit the definition of "public work" and are subject to the prevailing wage; and

Whereas, S.1947/A.1261 are specifically important to NYC because, according to a report by the New York Building Congress, government spending on public work projects in NYC is expected to increase to $23 billion in 2019 and $24 billion in 2020, meaning that there will be a large increase in public work projects and workers that are subject to the prevailing wage; and

Whereas, This legislation would effectively ensure that those workers on a public work project in NYS receive the wages, hours and supplements that they deserve, while also encouraging economic development and poverty reduction throughout NYS; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the New York State Governor to sign, S.1947/A.1261, in relation to hours, wages and supplements in contracts for public work.

Preconsidered Res. No. 868

Resolution calling on the New York City Department of Education to ensure the methodology for developing and scoring the Specialized High School Admissions Test, and the methodology for any future process implemented for Specialized High School admissions, be transparent and accessible to the general public.

By Council Member Powers.

Whereas, The New York City (NYC) Department of Education (DOE) manages NYC's public school system, which includes more than 1,800 schools, with over 400 high schools; and

Whereas, Included within the DOE's 400 high schools, are nine Specialized High Schools (SHS), which serve students who excel academically and/or artistically; and

Whereas, In NYC, SHS are regarded as the most prestigious public schools, with students scoring at the 99th percentile of the state SAT distribution and accounting for the majority of NYC students who attend Harvard, Princeton, and Yale, according to a 2018 Brookings' report; and

Whereas, For eight of the nine SHS, admission is based solely on the score attained on a single test, the Specialized High School Admissions Test (SHSAT), while for one of these schools, Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts (LaGuardia), acceptance is based on an audition and a review of a student's academic records; and

Whereas, Notably, the enactment of a State law in 1971, known as the Hecht-Calandra Act, codified into law the SHS' use of a single test for admission, with the exception of LaGuardia, requiring that admission into a SHS "be solely and exclusively" gained by taking a specialized, voluntary admissions test, the SHSAT; and

Whereas, Due to the high educational standards of these schools, they are highly sought after and competitive; and

Whereas, For example, the DOE reports that approximately 27,500 NYC 8th graders took the SHSAT for admittance into one of the eight test-based SHS for the 2019-20 school year; however, only 4,798 of these students received an offer to one of the SHS as a result of their SHSAT score; and

Whereas, Despite the high demand for students to be admitted into SHS, there has been widespread discussion of the eight test-based SHS' use of a single test for admission, as many contend that considering other factors, such as student grades, will help create a fairer admissions system; and

Whereas, To support this assertion, a 2008 Arizona State University and University at Colorado at Boulder study by Dr. Joshua Feinman revealed striking flaws in the SHSAT's methodology, finding that: the SHSAT has an unusual, not widely known scoring feature that can favor those who have access to extensive test-prep tutors; thousands of students who are not accepted have scores that are statistically indistinguishable from thousands who are granted admission due to the use of less precise methods; certain versions of the SHSAT may increase the chances students have to gain admission; and no studies have ever been done to see if the SHSAT is subject to prediction bias across gender and ethnic groups; and

Whereas, Notably, the student population at these test-based SHS does not adequately represent the broader NYC high school population, which is apparent in these SHS' lack of black or Latino students (less than 10% in 2018) despite the DOE system being approximately two-thirds black or Latino over all, according to The New Yorker; and

Whereas, Thus, it is vital to ensure that the methods behind developing and scoring the SHSAT, or any future SHS admissions' methodology, be transparent and accessible, and subject to critical analysis and improvement, to help ensure that NYC's SHS are diverse and representative of the whole City; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York City Department of Education to ensure the methodology for developing and scoring the Specialized High School Admissions Test, and the methodology for any future process implemented for Specialized High School admissions, be transparent and accessible to the general public.

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, a law establishing a property tax credit for Class 2 cooperative and condominium buildings that pass parking garage condition assessments pursuant to parts 1202 to 1204 of title 19 of the New York Codes, Rules and Regulations.

By Council Member Vallone.

Whereas, A parking garage condition assessment is an on-site inspection and evaluation of a parking garage for evidence of deterioration of any structural element, evidence of the existence of any unsafe condition and evidence indicating that the parking garage is an unsafe structure; and

Whereas, For purposes of the condition assessment requirement, a parking garage includes any building in which any structural level is used, in whole or in part, for parking or storage of motor vehicles; and

Whereas, Parts 1202 to 1204 of title 19 of the New York Codes, Rules and Regulations require owners of parking garages to have periodic condition assessments of those parking garages performed by qualified professional engineers or under the supervision of a professional engineer; and

Whereas, A professional engineer who has concluded a parking garage condition assessment must file a written report detailing the results of the assessment; and

Whereas, Following a regulation change by the New York Department of State in 2018, buildings now must undertake parking garage condition assessments every three years even if they diligently maintain their parking garage, thereby increasing the likelihood that the condition assessment will result in a report showing no unsafe conditions; and

Whereas, Class 2 condominium and cooperative buildings, which are residential properties with more than three units, generally pass parking garage condition assessment costs on to the homeowners through increased maintenance fees or special assessments; and

Whereas, It is the sense of the Council that homeowners in Class 2 condominiums and cooperatives whose parking garages are deemed safe after a professional engineer's condition assessment should not have to bear the burden of the costly condition assessment process every three years; and

Whereas, a tax credit would reduce the burden on homeowners in Class 2 condominiums and cooperatives caused by the condition assessment requirement; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, a law establishing a property tax credit for Class 2 cooperative and condominium buildings that pass parking garage condition assessments pursuant to parts 1202 to 1204 of title 19 of the New York Codes, Rules and Regulations.

Res. No. 870

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign the TRACED Act, legislation to deter criminal robocall violations and improve enforcement of section 227(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, and the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign S.3297A/A.675, legislation to limit robocalls to state residents and require telephone service providers to offer free call mitigation technology to telephone customers.

By Council Member Vallone.

Whereas, Over 5.2 billion robocalls were placed throughout the United States in March 2019—nearly half of which were scams—including 318.3 million and 175.9 million in New York State and city, respectively, according to YouMail's Robocall Index; and

Whereas, As of May 2018, 21 Chinese immigrants had lost a total of $2.5 million to a robocall scheme that targeted people with Chinese last names, as the caller impersonated the Chinese Consulate and demanded money in exchange for a package or to prevent punishment from the consulate office, according to the New York Police Department and former Attorney General Schneiderman's office; and

Whereas, Robocalls have become increasingly more deceptive in recent years, with callers using local numbers in hopes that it will heighten the chances of a recipient answering, in a scheme known as “neighborhood spoofing”; and

Whereas, A potentially deadly risk can be posed by robocalls, with one New Jersey hand surgeon, Dr. Gary Pess, recalling that he received so many robocalls, which mimicked his area code, that he accidentally ignored an emergency room doctor calling about a person with a severed thumb, costing him precious minutes and stating that “it delayed the treatment of a patient”; and

Whereas, Other jurisdictions have begun taking action to curb robocalls, including Florida, which passed the Florida Call-Blocking Act of 2018 that authorized telecommunication providers to block certain calls; and

Whereas, New York State previously took steps to curb unsolicited telemarketing calls with the New York State Do Not Call Law of 2001, which allowed consumers to place their phone numbers on a central Do Not Call Registry and prohibited non-exempt telemarketers from making calls to anyone on the registry; and

Whereas, The Federal Trade Commission and the Federal Communications Commission collaborated in 2003 to create a National Do Not Call Registry, but further action is now required by the Federal government and by the state government to protect consumers from robocalls; and

Whereas, The TRACED Act would deter robocalls by imposing forfeiture penalties on parties that commit criminal robocall violations and require voice service providers to implement a call authentication framework; and

Whereas, S.3297A/A.675 would protect consumers by (1) banning unsolicited robocalls, (2) empowering the state attorney general to enforce robocall violations, while also allowing for civil penalties, (3) authorizing New Yorkers to sue robocallers, and (4) requiring telephone providers to offer consumers free technology to block robocalls; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign the TRACED Act, legislation to deter criminal robocall violations and improve enforcement of section 227(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, and the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign S.3297A/A.675, legislation to limit robocalls to state residents and require telephone service providers to offer free call mitigation technology to telephone customers.

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to providing security for houses of religious worship

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Chapter 1 of title 10 of the administrative code of the city of New York is amended by adding a new section 10-181 to read as follows:

§ 10-181 Security for houses of religious worship.

a. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

Administering agency. The term “administering agency” means the Department of Citywide Administrative Services.

Allowable costs. The term “allowable costs” means: (i) security guard wages equal to the prevailing wage and supplements, subject to provisions of this section governing the reimbursement of such costs, and (ii) reasonable costs, as established by rules promulgated by the administering agency, paid by qualifying houses of religious worship to security guard companies. “Allowable costs” includes the cost of training that may be required pursuant to this section, but only to the extent that such training is not otherwise required by article 7-A of the general business law or any other federal, state, or local law or regulation, and shall not include any costs for overtime that are greater than fifteen percent of the non-overtime security wages reimbursed to a qualifying house of religious worship.

House of religious worship. The term “house of religious worship” means a church, temple, synagogue, mosque, or other building primarily used for religious services. The term “house of religious worship” also means a convent, monastery, rectory, parsonage, or any other building used as the permanent dwelling of a group of people devoted to religious life.

Prevailing wage and supplements. The term “prevailing wage and supplements” has the same meaning as in section 10-172.

Qualified provider list. The term “qualified provider list” means a list of security guard companies that meet standards established by the administering agency to provide security services to house of religious worships, which may include, but shall not be limited to, performance, training and other qualification standards.

Security assessment. The term “security assessment” means an on-site examination to determine existing security conditions and deficiencies, in addition to recommendations for improvements and corrective actions.

Security guard. The term “security guard” means an armed or unarmed individual with a current and valid registration card issued in accordance with article 7-A of the general business law, authorizing such individual to perform security services in New York.

Security guard company. The term “security guard company” has the same meaning as in section 10-172.

Security services. The term “security services” means the protection of individuals and/or property from harm or other unlawful activity, as well as, prevention, deterrence, observation, detection and/or reporting to government agencies of unlawful activity or conditions that present a risk to the safety of those in houses of religious worship, staff therein or the public.

b. House of religious worship security guard reimbursement program. The mayor shall authorize a program to reimburse qualifying houses of religious worship for the cost of security services as set forth in this section

d. Upon request of a house of religious worship, the administering agency shall coordinate with the New York city police department and provide a security assessment within 14 days of the request. The security assessment shall be provided to such house of religious worship in writing.

e. The administering agency shall establish a qualified provider list. Such list may be developed based upon standards to be promulgated by rule, or may be developed through a procurement to be conducted by such agency.

f. Upon request of a qualifying house of religious worship, the administering agency shall reimburse such qualifying house of religious worship for the allowable costs of a security guard to provide security services at all times that the institution is in operation.

g. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision f, a house of religious worship shall not be eligible to receive reimbursement from the administering agency unless:

1. such request is made in a form and manner prescribed by the administering agency;
2. each such security guard is employed by a security guard company on the qualified provider list, provided that if such list has not been established by the administering agency or the list contains fewer than three security guard companies, then each such security guard must be employed by a security guard company;
3. each such security guard is paid no less than the prevailing wage and supplements;
4. each such security guard provides security services and no other services;
5. each such security guard and security guard company has been employed or retained in compliance with applicable labor and employment laws;

6. the house of religious worship, acting in coordination with the security guard or security guard company, reports criminal and other significant public safety-related incidents to the police department or other appropriate government agency promptly after such incidents occur and in annual summary reports, in accordance with rules promulgated by the administering agency; and

7. the house of religious worship complies with rules promulgated by the administering agency.

h. The administering agency shall provide reimbursement of allowable costs on a quarterly basis after receiving satisfactory proof from the house of religious worship of compliance with the requirements for reimbursement set forth in this section.

i. The reimbursement authorized by this section shall not interfere with any rights a security guard has pursuant to any collective bargaining agreement.

j. Nothing in this section shall prohibit a qualifying house of religious worship from paying a wage to a security guard greater than that for which it receives reimbursement pursuant to this section.

k. The provision of reimbursement to a house of religious worship for allowable costs of a security guard pursuant to this section shall not make the city of New York or any administering agency the employer of such security guard, and such house of religious worship shall be solely responsible for withholding and payment of any taxes and other government required payments. Further, nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve any qualifying house of religious worship of responsibility for all other elements of security that may be required or appropriate and are not funded pursuant to this section.

l. The administering agency may promulgate any rules as may be necessary for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this section, including, but not limited to, rules (i) relating to the training of security guards, (ii) ensuring that security guards and security guard companies are appropriately qualified to provide security services to qualifying houses of religious worship, and (iii) providing for prompt reporting of criminal and other significant public safety-related incidents to the police department or other appropriate government agency as well as annual summary reports of such incidents.

§2. This local law takes effect 30 days after it becomes law.
