Res. No. 1538-A

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S5252/A6012, which would remove the New York City Police Commissioner's exclusive authority over police discipline.

By Council Members Cumbo, Levin, Rosenthal, Van Bramer, Kallos, Miller, Koslowitz, Constantinides, Louis, Chin, Rivera, Ampry-Samuel and Barron

Whereas, The Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB) is a police oversight body made up of appointees from the Mayor, the Police Commissioner, the City Council, and the Public Advocate; and

File #: Res 1538-2021, Version: A

Whereas, The CCRB is responsible for receiving, investigating, hearing, making findings, and recommending actions regarding complaints against members of the New York City Police Department (NYPD) alleging excessive use of force, abuse of authority, discourtesy, or use of offensive language; and

Whereas, While the CCRB can recommend discipline against officers, the Police Commissioner has final authority over discipline and can choose to disregard these recommendations and may impose lesser or greater discipline, or no discipline at all; and

Whereas, The CCRB tracks the rate at which the Police Commissioner follows the CCRB's recommendations, which is known as the "concurrence rate"; and

Whereas, According to the CCRB's most recent annual report, the concurrence rate was only 51 percent in 2019, and for the most serious cases-those where "charges and specifications" are recommended by the CCRB for prosecution at an administrative trial-the concurrence rate was only 32 percent; and

Whereas, An analysis published by The New York Times in November 2020 found that the NYPD "regularly ignored the [CCRB's] recommendations, overruled them or downgraded the punishments, even when police officials confirmed that the officers had violated regulations," and found this "pattern of lenient punishment holds true for about 71 percent of the 6,900 misconduct charges over the last two decades in which the [CCRB] recommended the highest level of discipline and a final outcome was recorded"; and

Whereas, That same analysis "shows that since [Mayor] de Blasio took office in 2014, the [NYPD] has overruled the [CCRB's] recommendations in more than half of the cases in which the [CCRB] sought the most severe discipline"; and

Whereas, S5252/A6012, sponsored by Senator Jamaal T. Bailey and Assembly Member Catalina Cruz, would remove the Police Commissioner's discretion to modify or reject a determination or recommendation made by the CCRB; and

Whereas, In addition, S5252/A6012 would provide due process and a fair and impartial determination of civilian complaints by a hearing officer who is independent of the Police Department; and

Whereas, Removing the Police Commissioner's exclusive authority over police discipline and allowing the CCRB to impose discipline in certain cases would increase accountability and public trust in the NYPD; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, S5252/A6012, which would remove the New York City Police Commissioner's exclusive authority over police discipline.
