Res. No. 971

Resolution calling upon the Council of the City of New York to honor the life and achievements of the late human rights activist Malcolm X on what would have been his 80th Birthday.

By Council Members Clarke, James, Liu, Monserrate, Foster, Barron, Comrie, Jackson, Palma, Perkins, Sanders Jr., Seabrook and Stewart

Whereas, Malcolm X stands as one of New York's greatest heroes and is a symbol of racial pride and moral principle for people of all races, religion and ethnic backgrounds; and

Whereas, Born Malcolm Little in Omaha, Nebraska, son of Baptist preacher Earl Little and his wife Louise, Malcolm X faced and overcame much adversity throughout his life; and

Whereas, Malcolm X's father was murdered for his political and social activism, resulting in his mother's nervous breakdown; his ensuing placement in foster homes and reform schools and his eventual involvement in crime and arrest at the age of 20 for burglary; and

Whereas, The rebirth of Malcolm X began when he used this time in prison to reflect upon his life and study the teachings of the Islamic faith; and

Whereas, Upon his release from prison, Malcolm became active in the Nation of Islam and rapidly became one of the country's foremost leaders in the quest for equality and justice for African Americans; and

Whereas, Malcolm X's views and understanding of the Islamic faith evolved over time, reaching its pinnacle during his 1964 trip to Mecca in Saudi Arabia when he became an orthodox Sunni Muslim, realizing that peoples of all colors are children of God; and

Whereas, Malcolm X took this new understanding back with him to the United States, where he became a champion for human rights, organizing and encouraging blacks to vote, promoting participation in the political system and calling for people of all colors and creeds to work together to end racial discrimination; and

Whereas, The story of Malcolm X's life has left its mark on New York City and America, inspiring all people to work together and continue the struggle for justice and equality throughout the world; and

Whereas, Malcolm X proved to be a true fighter for the self determination of the oppressed, inspiring people of all creeds and colors to work towards a vision of a better world; and

Whereas, Based on his contributions to our country, it is important that New Yorkers reflect on his life and legacy; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York honors the life and achievements of the late human rights activist Malcolm X on what would have been his 80th Birthday.
