Whereas, According to parents of gifted children, the Department of Education is rumored to be considering paring down, eliminating, or substantially altering programs for gifted children who attend public school in the City of New York; and

Whereas, As is true of children with special needs, gifted students are entitled to an appropriate education and to curricula and programs suited to their educational needs; and

Whereas, Parents who wish to plan a future residing within the City of New York have a need and right to know that the educational options for their Gifted Children will be in place for the foreseeable future; and

Whereas, Additionally, such elimination, reduction or alteration would lower the standards of our City's public school system as a whole and stands contrary to the virtues of achievement and dedication that the school system should be striving to instill in our City's schoolchildren; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the Department of Education to refrain from eliminating, reducing or substantially altering programs for gifted students who attend classes in public schools within the City of New York and to publicly assure parents that these programs will be substantially maintained in their current form for at least five (5) years.
